Adjectives

HSK 5

Adjectives that say how much and how. 得不得了 and 得很 come after an adjective and make it strong; adjective + 了 + (一) 点儿 says something is a bit too much (大了一点儿, too big); 有的是 + noun says there is plenty of something. 具体 asks for specific details (具体来说), 个别 sets a few cases apart, and 迅速 describes rapid action in writing.

At a glance

- 1. Adj + 得不得了 – extremely: 队员们激动得不得了。
- 2. Adj + 得很 – very: 这里的空气新鲜得很。
- 3. Adj + 了 + (一) 点儿 – a bit too: 这汤咸了点儿。
- 4. 有的是 + Noun – have plenty of: 书架上有的是小说，你随便借。
- 5. 具体 vs 详细 – specific, in detail: 请你具体说说你的计划。
- 6. 个别 vs 少数 and 一些 – a few individual: 除了个别同学，大家都按时到了。
- 7. 迅速 vs 快速 and 立刻 – rapidly: 消防员迅速赶到了现场。

1. Adj + 得不得了 (extremely)

Form: adjective / feeling verb + 得不得了

- 队员们激动得不得了。 Duìyuánmen jīdòng de bùdéliǎo. – The players were beside themselves with excitement.

- 听说你要来，孩子们高兴得不得了。 – When they heard you were coming, the children were overjoyed.

How it works. 得 links the adjective to 不得了 bùdéliǎo ("beyond what can be borne"), which ends the clause and pushes the feeling to an extreme, good or bad.

Expression	Meaning
累得不得了	exhausted
不得了了!	Oh no, this is serious!
了不得	remarkable: 他真了不得

Watch out

- One degree word only: wrong: 很忙得不得了 → 忙得不得了.
- Keep 得: wrong: 累不得了 → 累得不得了.

Adjective + 得不得了: extremely

2. Adj + 得很 (very)

Form: adjective / feeling verb + 得很

- 这里的空气新鲜得很。 Zhèlǐ de kōngqì xīnxiān de hěn. – The air here is really fresh.
- 他的中文好得很，你不用担心。 – His Chinese is really good; don't worry.
- 这家酒店便宜得很。 – This hotel is really cheap.
- 好得很，又迟到了！ – Great, late again! (ironic)

How it works. 得很 after an adjective means "very, really", livelier and more emphatic than 很 in front. It ends the clause and also follows feeling verbs: 他喜欢得很. Said flatly, it can be ironic.

很新鲜	新鲜得很	新鲜得不得了
neutral	emphatic	strongest

Watch out

- wrong: 很新鲜得很 → 新鲜得很; wrong: 好很 → 好得很.

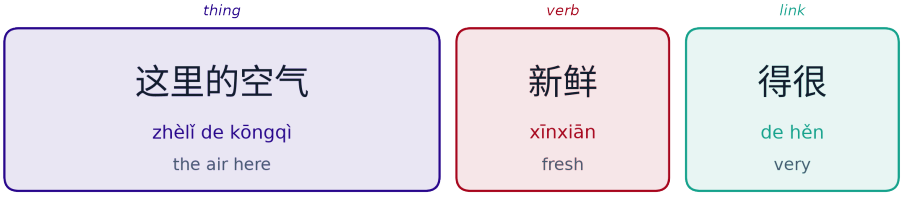
Adjective + 得很: very (spoken)



3. Adj + 了 + (一) 点儿 (a bit too)

How it works. Adjective + 了 + 点儿 measures against the right amount: slightly past it. It is a mild, polite complaint.

大了点儿	大一点儿	有点儿大	太大了!
a bit too big	a bit bigger (request)	a bit big (the feeling)	far too big

Watch out

- To ask for a bigger size, say 大一点儿的; 大了点儿 says this one is too big.

4. 有的是 + Noun (have plenty of)

Form: (topic,) subject + 有的是 + noun

有的是 + noun	有的 + noun
plenty of	some
有的是时间	有的人不喜欢吃辣

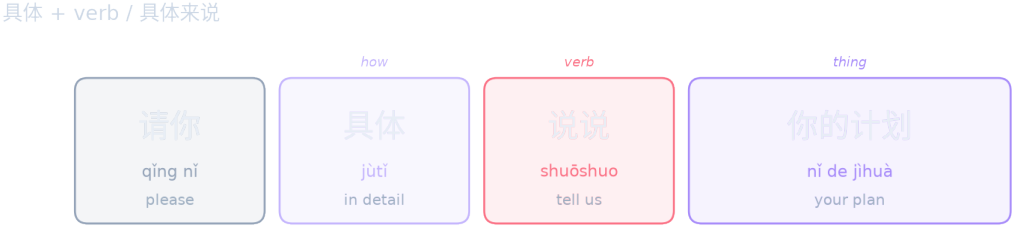
具体时间	详细说明	具体来说
exact time	full instructions	to be specific

Watch out

- 具体 = exact, not vague; 详细 = with many details.



6. 个别 vs 少数 and 一些 (a few individual)

- 除了个别同学，大家都按时到了。 Chúle gèbié tóngxué, dàjiā dōu ànshí dào le. – Apart from a few students, everyone arrived on time.
- 这只是个别现象。 – This is just an isolated case.
- 老师会个别辅导成绩不好的学生。 – The teacher will give individual help to students with low marks.

How it works. 个别 = a very few individual, isolated cases, set apart from the rest; before a verb, individually. 少数 = a minority; 一些 = some. Opposite: 普遍.

个别同学	少数人	普遍
a few students	a minority	widespread

Watch out

- 个别 stresses isolated cases; 少数 a minority.

7. 迅速 vs 快速 and 立刻 (rapidly)

- 这座城市发展得非常迅速。 – This city has developed very rapidly.
- 请立刻停车！ – Stop the car immediately!

How it works. 迅速 = rapidly, a written word for fast action or change. 快速 is close (often before nouns). 立刻 / 马上 = immediately. In speech: 很快.

1. 毕竟 (after all)

Form: subject + 毕竟 + predicate · 毕竟 + clause

- 他毕竟是新手，给他一点时间。 Tā bìjìng shì xīnshǒu, gěi tā yìdiǎn shíjiān. – He's a beginner, after all; give him some time.
- 别太严格，他毕竟还是个孩子。 – Don't be too strict; he's still a child, after all.

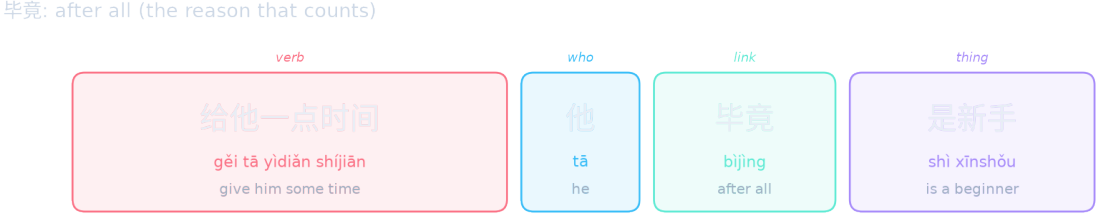
- 这毕竟是他的决定，我们应该尊重。 – It's his decision, after all; we should respect it.

How it works. 毕竟 bìjìng "after all" reminds the listener of a reason that supports the speaker's judgement or advice. It goes before the predicate, or at the start of the clause: 他毕竟是新手 / 毕竟他是新手. The reason need not excuse a mistake; it can support respect, patience or caution.

毕竟	反正
highlights why a judgement is reasonable	holds a point regardless of other options
他毕竟是新手，给他一点时间	反正今天不交，明天再检查

Watch out

- 毕竟 presents a reason as relevant; it does not prove it true. 他毕竟有经验 still needs evidence.
- Some contexts allow both 毕竟 and 反正, with different emphasis; don't translate every English "anyway" as 毕竟.



2. 反正 (anyway / in any case)

Form: 反正 + clause · subject + 反正 + predicate · 不管 …，反正 …

- 坐什么车你决定吧，反正我八点到。 Zuò shénme chē nǐ juédìng ba, fǎnzhèng wǒ bā diǎn dào. – You decide how to travel; either way, I'll arrive at eight.
- 不管你信不信，反正我信。 – Whether you believe it or not, I do.
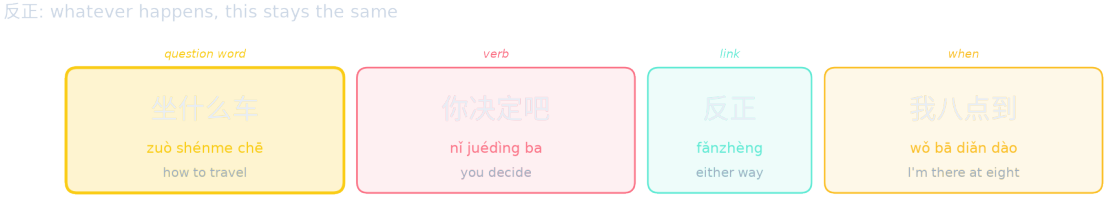
- 反正时间还早，我们慢慢走。 – There's still time anyway; let's walk slowly.
- 反正现在还不知道，等通知吧。 – We don't know yet anyway; let's wait for the notice.

How it works. 反正 fǎnzhèng holds one point fixed regardless of the alternatives being discussed. First find what stays open (how to travel) and what stays fixed (arriving at eight). The point can be a decision, a practical circumstance, or even admitted uncertainty. The tone can be practical, reassuring or dismissive.

In neutral writing, it comes before the clause or the predicate: 反正我不去 / 我反正不去.

Watch out

- 反正 does not always mean a firm personal decision.
- 反正我不去 can sound dismissive in an argument; when your decision affects someone, explain it.



3. 干脆 (just / simply / might as well)

Form: subject + 干脆 + verb phrase · 干脆 + suggestion + 吧 · verb + 得 + 很干脆 (decisive)

- 修了三次还坏，干脆换一个吧。 Xiūle sān cì hái huài, gāncuì huàn yí ge ba. – It's broken after three repairs; let's just replace it.
- 干脆自己做吧。 – Let's just do it ourselves, then.
- 她干脆不回答了。 – She simply stopped answering.
- 她回答得很干脆。 – She answered decisively.

How it works. Before an action, 干脆 gāncuì proposes a direct way out, often after other attempts have failed: "just, simply, might as well". After 得, it describes a clear, decisive manner.

Keep three questions apart: is it a direct choice (干脆 says yes); is it a good choice; does the person change it later? 干脆 answers only the first. 他干脆关了手机，后来又打开了 is a normal sentence.

Watch out

- 干脆换一个吧 does not prove replacing is cheapest or best; a reader can understand it and still disagree.

4. 简直: strong evaluation and comparison

Form: 简直 + strong description · 简直 + 像 … 一样

- 这里的风景简直像画一样。 Zhèlǐ de fēngjǐng jiǎnzhí xiàng huà yíyàng. – The scenery looks just like a painting.
- 这简直太棒了！ – This is simply amazing!
- 我简直不敢相信自己的眼睛。 – I simply can't believe my eyes.
- 这间屋子简直像冰箱一样。 – This room is like a fridge.

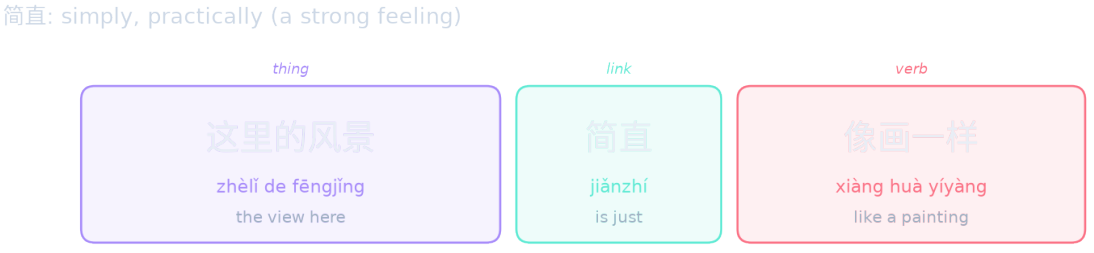
How it works. 简直 jiǎnzhí strengthens the speaker's evaluation: "simply, just". The description after it gives the direction: 简直太好了 (approval), 简直太糟了 (disapproval). With 像 …… 一样 it is a figurative comparison, not a literal claim.

简直像一幅画	这是一幅画	室温是十摄氏度
a strong comparison	identifies a painting	a measured fact

Watch out

- Don't translate 简直 as "literally": the view is not made of paint, and "like a fridge" gives no temperature.



5. Advanced 都 (already / even)

Form: 都 + time / reached state + 了 · … + 都 + 不 / 没 (even) · group + 都 (all)

- 都十二点了，明天再做吧！ Dōu shí'èr diǎn le, míngtiān zài zuò ba! – It's already twelve; let's continue tomorrow!
- 饭都凉了。 Fàn dōu liáng le. – The food has gone cold already.
- 他急得饭都吃不下。 – He's so anxious he can't even eat.
- 这么简单的题都不会做。 – Can't even do such an easy question.

How it works. One character, three readings. Read what 都 applies to.

Example	Reading
我们都来了。	all of the group
都十二点了！	a point already reached, often with surprise or impatience
连小李都来了。/ 这么简单的题都不会做。	“even”: an unexpected item in focus

已经十二点了 also says it is already twelve; 都 adds emphasis, but the exact attitude depends on context and voice. 都 often follows the topic or subject; it is not always first.

都十二点了，他还在工作呢 combines a reached point (都) with a continuing state (还 …… 呢).

Watch out

- Don’t translate every 都 as “all”: 连小李都来了 singles out Xiao Li; it doesn’t say everyone came.

6. Advanced 还 … 呢

Form: subject + 还 + predicate + 呢 (still) · 还 + role + 呢 (ironic)

- 小声点，他还在睡觉呢。 Xiǎo shēng diǎn, tā hái zài shuìjiào ne. – Keep your voice down; he’s still asleep.
- 时间还早呢，别着急。 – It’s still early; don’t rush.

- 还专家呢，连这个都不懂。 – An expert, supposedly, and you don't even understand this.

How it works. Two patterns look alike.

还 + predicate + 呢	还 + role + 呢
a state still continues; 呢 draws attention to it	challenges a claimed role, ironically often a reason for a reminder or reassurance	can be sharp criticism, not friendly teasing 呢 is not a past-tense marker. Changing the ending changes the sentence: 他还在睡觉吗? asks whether he is still asleep. 还说呢 is a context-dependent spoken reply, often "don't even mention it".

Watch out

- To explain why someone should be quiet, state the situation (他还在睡觉呢), not an ironic role comment.

7. 未必 / 不见得 (not necessarily)

Form: subject + 未必 / 不见得 + verb / adjective · 未必。/ 不见得。as a reply

- 贵的东西未必好。 Guì de dōngxi wèibì hǎo. – Expensive things are not necessarily good.
- 他不见得知道这件事。 – He doesn't necessarily know about this.
- – 这家饭店一定很好吃。– 不见得。 – "This restaurant must be great." "Not necessarily."

How it works. 未必 and 不见得 answer an idea someone takes for granted. They leave the question open: maybe yes, maybe no. 不见得 sounds more spoken. Both can stand alone as a reply.

他不来	他一定不来	他未必来	他未必不来
he isn't coming	he definitely won't come	he may not come	he may come after all

Watch out

- 未必 is not the same as 不: 未必好 = not necessarily good; 不好 = not good.
- 未必不 + verb means "may … after all": 他未必不知道 = he may know after all.

8. 恨不得 (wish one could / itching to)

Form: subject + 恨不得 + (马上 / 立刻) + verb phrase

- 我恨不得马上飞回家。 Wǒ hènbude mǎshàng fēi huí jiā. – I wish I could fly home right now.
- 他恨不得立刻告诉所有人。 – He was itching to tell everyone at once.
- 我恨不得一天有四十八个小时。 – I wish a day had 48 hours.

How it works. 恨不得 shows a very strong wish to do something at once, often something you can't really do. 恨 here does not mean "hate". An action always follows it.

恨不得马上回家	巴不得早点儿放假	舍不得离开
wish I could go home now (strong, often impossible)	can't wait for the holidays (close, more spoken)	can't bear to leave

Watch out

- wrong: 我恨不得一碗面 → 我恨不得马上吃一碗面.
- Don't negate it: wrong: 我不恨不得; use 不想.

9. 仿佛 (as if)

Form: 仿佛 + picture (+ 一样 / 似的)

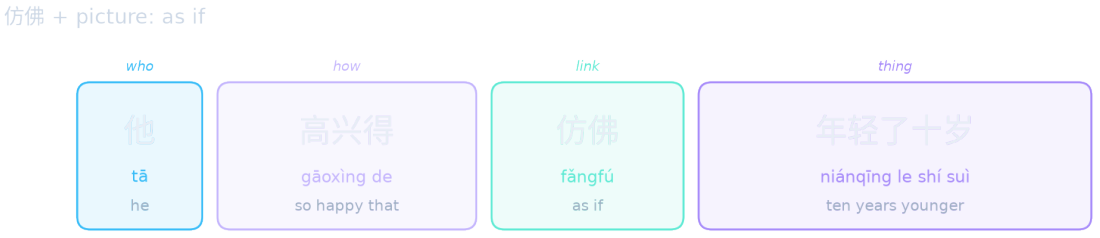
- 爷爷高兴得仿佛年轻了十岁。 Yéye gāoxìng de fǎngfú niánqīng le shí suì. – Grandpa was so happy he looked ten years younger.
- 这里的风景美得仿佛一幅画。 – The scenery here is as beautiful as a painting.
- 他睡得很香，仿佛什么都没发生过一样。 – He slept soundly, as if nothing had happened.

How it works. 仿佛 compares what you see or feel with a picture, often one that isn't really true. 好像 can do this too, in everyday speech. It is mainly written and descriptive. For a plain guess in speech, say 好像; in careful writing, 似乎.

仿佛一幅画	他好像不在家	似乎有点儿问题
as if it were a painting	he doesn't seem to be home	there seems to be a problem

Watch out

- 他仿佛不在家 sounds like a novel; in speech say 他好像不在家.



10. 相当 (quite) and 相当于 (equal to)

Form: 相当 + adjective · A 相当于 B

- 这次考试相当难。 Zhè cì kǎoshì xiāngdāng nán. – This exam was quite hard.
- 他的中文说得相当流利。 – He speaks Chinese quite fluently.
- 一公里相当于两里。 – One kilometre equals two li.

How it works. 相当 means "quite" and sits between 比较 (fairly) and 非常 (very). It is a little formal. 相当于 means "is equal to". Don't add 很 after 相当, and don't put it before the adjective in a 比 sentence.

比较辣	相当辣	非常辣
a bit hot	quite hot	very hot

Watch out

- wrong: 相当很好 → 相当好. wrong: 他比我相当高 → 他比我高得多.

11. 的确 vs 确实 and 真的 (indeed)

Form: 的确 (dí què) + verb / adjective · 的确 ……，但是 ……

- 这家店的确不错。 Zhè jiā diàn díquè búcuò. – This place really is good.
- 你说得对，这个问题的确很难。 – You're right – this question really is hard.

- 这个办法的确好，但是太花时间了。 – This method is indeed good, but it takes too much time.

How it works. 的确 confirms something, often what someone said. It is close to 确实 (which can also be an adjective); 真的 is the everyday word and can ask 真的吗?

的确不错	确实如此	真的吗?
really is good	that's indeed so	really?

Watch out

- Read 的 as dí. wrong: 的确吗? → 真的吗?

12. 更加 vs 更 (even more)

Form: (A 比 B) 更加 + two-character adjective / verb

- 现在电脑比以前更加重要。 Xiànzài diànnǎo bǐ yǐqián gèngjiā zhòngyào. – Computers are even more important now than before.
- 听了老师的话，他学习更加努力了。 – After the teacher's talk, he studied even harder.
- 今天比昨天更冷。 – Today is even colder than yesterday.

How it works. 更加 = even more, like 更 but a little more formal, usually before two-character words. 更 is everyday and fine with one-character words. 越来越 shows change over time.

更加重要	更冷	越来越冷
even more important	even colder	colder and colder

Watch out

- wrong: 比以前很重要 → 比以前更加重要.

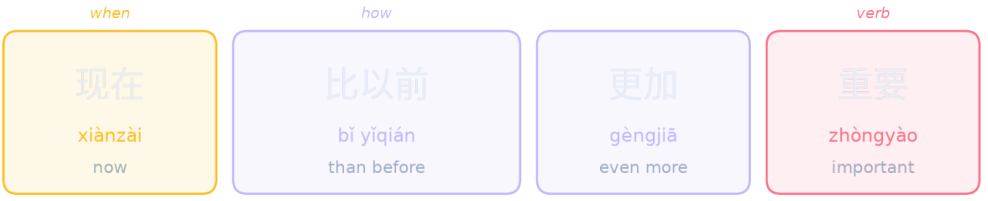
比 … 更加 + adjective



13. 绝对 (absolutely, definitely)

Form: 绝对 (不) + verb / adjective · 绝对的 + noun (absolute)

- 放心，我绝对不会告诉别人。 Fàngxīn, wǒ juéduì bú huì gàosu biérén. – Don't worry, I absolutely won't tell anyone.
- 这家的饺子绝对好吃！ – The dumplings here are absolutely delicious!
- 没有绝对的自由。 – There is no absolute freedom.

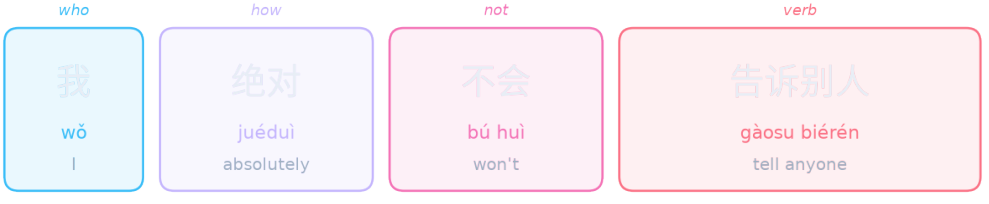
How it works. 绝对 makes a statement 100%: strong promises, opinions and refusals (绝对不行). For a guess, use 可能 / 估计; for strong advice, 一定要.

绝对没问题	一定要来	可能不来
no problem at all	you must come	might not come

Watch out

- Don't use 绝对 for a guess.

绝对 (不) + verb: absolutely



14. 唯一 vs 只有 (the only)

Form: 唯一的 + noun · (subject +) 唯一 + verb + 的是 …

- 这是唯一的办法。 Zhè shì wéiyī de bànfǎ. – This is the only way.
- 我唯一担心的是天气。 – The only thing I'm worried about is the weather.
- 我只有一个哥哥。 – I have only one older brother.

How it works. 唯一 describes a noun (the only …) or starts "the only thing … is". 只有 / 只 limit a number or an action.

唯一的机会	只有一个	唯一担心的是
the only chance	only one	the only worry is

Watch out

- wrong: 我唯一有一个哥哥 → 我只有一个哥哥.

15. 相对 vs 比较 (relatively)

Form: 相对 + adjective · 相对来说，…

- 这里的房子相对便宜。 Zhèlǐ de fángzi xiāngduì piányi. – Houses here are relatively cheap.
- 这个季节游客相对少。 – There are relatively few tourists in this season.
- 相对来说，坐地铁比打车方便。 – Comparatively speaking, the metro is more convenient than a taxi.

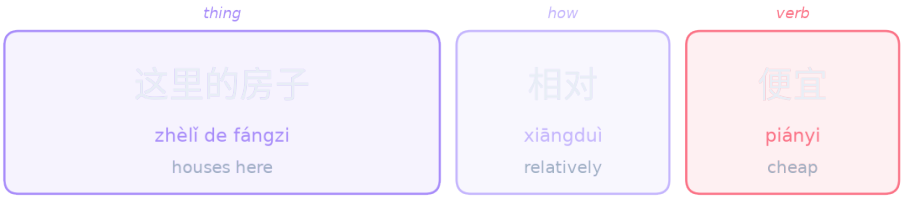
How it works. 相对 compares with other cases and softens the statement (relatively, not "very"). 相对来说 starts a balanced comparison. Everyday: 比较. The opposite is 绝对.

相对便宜	相对来说	比较便宜
relatively cheap	comparatively speaking	fairly cheap

Watch out

- 相对便宜 is not "very cheap".

相对 + adjective: relatively



16. 一致 (unanimously; consistent)

Form: group + 一致 + 认为 / 同意 / 决定 · A 和 B (不) 一致

- 大家一致认为这个办法好。 Dàjiā yízhì rènwéi zhège bànfǎ hǎo. – Everyone agreed this idea was good.
- 经过讨论，我们一致决定周六出发。 – After discussing it, we all decided to leave on Saturday.
- 他说的和做的不一致。 – What he says doesn't match what he does.

How it works. 一致 (yízhì) before a verb of opinion or decision means a group agrees with no different view. As an adjective it means the same, consistent. Everyday: 都; identical things: 相同.

一致同意	看法一致	不一致
all agree	the same views	don't match

Watch out

- wrong: 我一致认为 → 我们一致认为.

大家 + 一致 + verb: all agree

17. 彻底 vs 完全 (thoroughly, completely)

Form: 彻底 + 解决 / 改变 / 忘 / 放弃 · verb + 得 + 彻底

- 对不起，我彻底忘了！ Duìbuqǐ, wǒ chèdǐ wàng le! – Sorry, I completely forgot!
- 这次一定要把问题彻底解决。 – This time we must solve the problem once and for all.
- 我完全同意。 – I completely agree.

How it works. 彻底 = thoroughly, to the very bottom, with actions that change, end or clear something. 完全 = completely, with states (同意, 不知道) and many actions. 全 = all, whole.

彻底解决	完全同意	全班
solve once and for all	completely agree	the whole class

Watch out

- wrong: 我彻底同意 → 我完全同意.

18. 过分 vs 太 and 过于 (going too far)

Form: (太 / 有点儿) 过分 (了) · 过分 + 紧张 / 担心

- 你这样做太过分了！ Nǐ zhèyàng zuò tài guòfèn le! – Doing this is going too far!
- 考试的时候不要过分紧张。 – Don't get too nervous in the exam.
- 今天天气太热了。 – It's too hot today.

How it works. 过分 judges behaviour or feelings that go too far. Before an adjective it means overly. 太 is the neutral "too"; 过于 is the written "overly".

太过分了	过分紧张	太热了
that's going too far	overly nervous	too hot

Watch out

- wrong: 天气过分热 → 天气太热了.

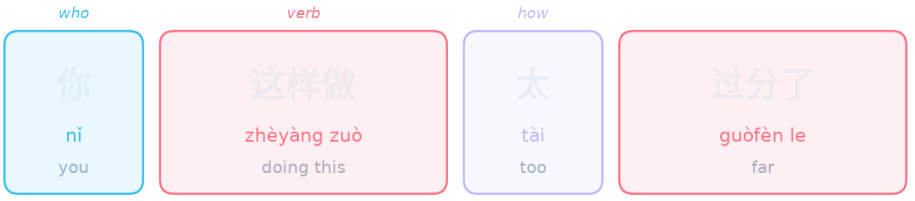
太过分了 / 过分 + adjective



19. 说不定 vs 也许 and 恐怕 (maybe, who knows)

Form: 说不定 + guess · (还) 说不定

- 别等了，他说不定已经进去了。 Bié děng le, tā shuōbudìng yǐjīng jìnqu le. – Stop waiting – maybe he's already gone in.
- 带把伞吧，说不定会下雨。 – Take an umbrella – it might rain.
- 他什么时候回来还说不定。 – It's not certain when he'll be back.

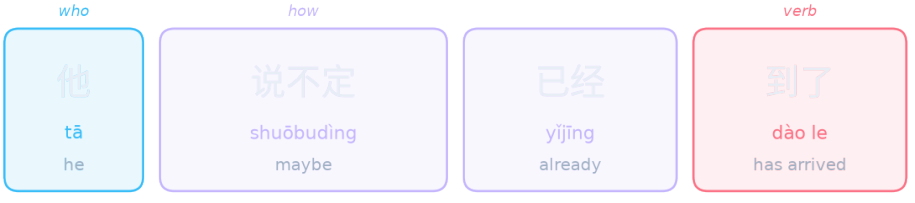
How it works. 说不定 = maybe, who knows (spoken, often a new idea); at the end, "not certain". 也许 / 可能 are neutral. 恐怕 = I'm afraid (a worried guess).

说不定会下雨	还说不定	恐怕来不及
it might rain	not certain	afraid we'll be late

Watch out

- For a worried guess, 恐怕 fits better.

说不定 + guess: maybe, who knows



20. 尽量 + Verb (as much as possible)

Form: subject + (会) + 尽量 + action / 少 + verb / 别 + verb

- 我会尽量早点来。 Wǒ huì jǐnliàng zǎodiǎn lái. – I'll try to come as early as I can.
- 我会尽量帮你。 – I'll do what I can to help you.
- 上课时尽量用汉语交流。 – In class, use Chinese as much as you can.
- 尽量少用手机。/ 尽量别在晚上喝咖啡。 – Use your phone as little as possible. / Try not to drink coffee at night.

How it works. 尽量 jǐnliàng offers or asks for effort within practical limits. Read the whole phrase: it can increase a useful action (多, 早点) or reduce an unwanted one (少, 别).

尽量	一定
an effort; the outcome may still fail	a commitment to the outcome
我会尽量早点来	我一定八点到

If the bus is late, that does not disprove the effort. If an exact time is essential, state it separately.

尽量 jǐnliàng	尽管 jǐnguǎn
as much as feasible	feel free to 尽量早点来	有问题尽管问

21. 尽管 + Verb (feel free to)

Form: 尽管 + verb (feel free to) · 尽管 + fact，(但是) … 还是 … (although)

- 有问题尽管问。 Yǒu wèntí jǐnguǎn wèn. – If you have questions, feel free to ask.
- 想吃什么尽管点。 – Order whatever you like.
- 你尽管放心，这件事交给我。 – Rest assured; leave this to me.
- 尽管下雨，我们还是去了。 – Although it rained, we still went.

How it works. One written word, two uses. The complete clauses show which one is meant.

Before an action	Opening a clause, then 还是 / 但是
“feel free to, go ahead”	“although” (a concession)
有问题尽管问	尽管有问题，我们还是完成了任务

An invitation covers the stated activity in that exchange, not unrelated actions. It also does not promise that no practical problem can occur.

尽管 jǐnguǎn	尽量 jǐnliàng
feel free to / although	as much as feasible

22. 互相 + Verb (each other)

Form: participants + 互相 + verb phrase

- 他们互相帮助。 Tāmen hùxiāng bāngzhù. – They help each other.
- 我们应该互相帮助。 – We should help one another.

- 我跟他互相帮助。 – He and I help each other.
- 他们互相看了一眼。 – They exchanged a glance.

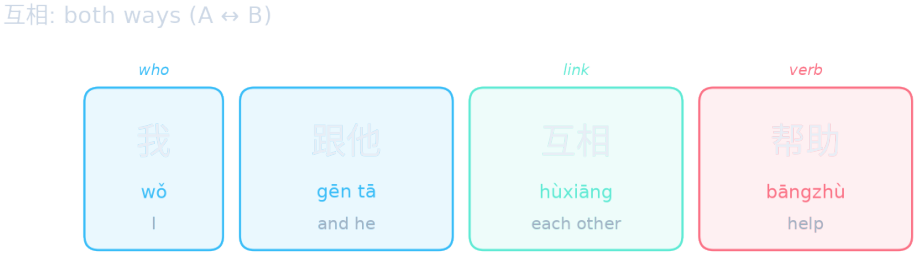
How it works. 互相 hùxiāng "each other" makes the participants both doers and receivers: A → B and B → A. Name the participants before it, or let the context supply them (我跟他 names both). A mutual action can be one completed event (看了一眼); it need not be a habit. In a group, 互相学习 means people learn from one another. The contributions need not be equal: one helps with diagrams, the other with language.

我们互相帮助	我们都帮助老师	梅帮助阿伦
we help one another	each of us helps the teacher	one-way help

Watch out

- 互相 needs a two-way relationship; don't use it as a general word for cooperation.



23. 顺便 (while you're at it / by the way)

Form: main trip / purpose, (subject +) 顺便 + extra action · 顺便问一下, ……

- 我去图书馆，顺便还这本书。 Wǒ qù túshūguǎn, shùnbiàn huán zhè běn shū. – I'm going to the library, so I'll return this book while I'm there.
- 你出去，顺便买点菜。 – Since you're going out, pick up some groceries.
- 我去看朋友，顺便把书还给她。 – I visited my friend and returned her book while I was at it.
- 顺便问一下，你周末有空吗? – By the way, are you free this weekend?

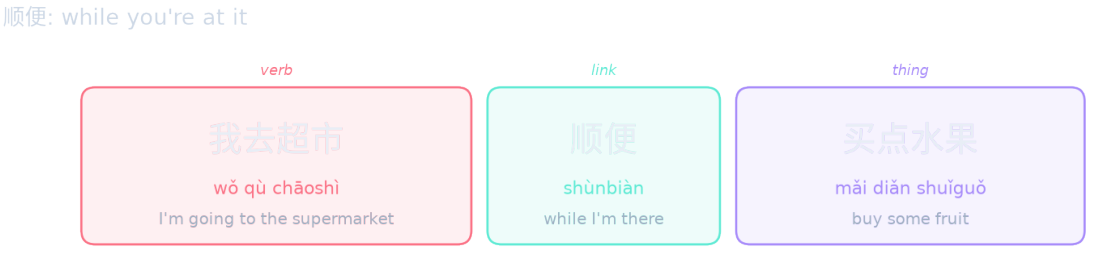
How it works. 顺便 shùnbiàn adds an action to an existing trip, purpose or conversation, so it needs no physical travel (顺便问一下). The main purpose can come from the context.

顺便 + action	专门 + action
an extra on the way	the purpose of a special trip
顺便还书	我专门去还书

They can appear together, for different actions: 我专门去银行办事，顺便买了面包.

Watch out

- 顺便 says nothing about how easy the extra task was: 顺便买了面包 doesn't tell you the shop was next door or the queue short.



24. 好 (不) 容易 (with great difficulty)

Form: subject + 好不容易 / 好容易 + (才) + achieved result

- 我好不容易才买到票。 Wǒ hǎo bù róngyì cái mǎidào piào. – I only managed to get a ticket with great difficulty.
- 我好容易才买到票。 – I finally got a ticket, after a struggle.
- 他好不容易找到了一份工作。 – He finally found a job.
- 我好不容易买到票，后来却把票弄丢了。 – I got the ticket with great difficulty, then lost it.

How it works. Before an achieved result (买到, 找到), 好不容易 and 好容易 both mean "with great difficulty, finally". 才 adds "only then" but is not required. Neither gives an exact count of attempts or hours; 找了几天才找到 would.

A later change doesn't undo the earlier result: the ticket was bought, then lost.

好不容易才买到	这道题很容易
hard-won	easy

Watch out

- 好容易 is not always the same as 好不容易: in 这个题好容易, it means "very easy". To say something is easy, use 很容易.

25. 白 + Verb (in vain / for nothing)

Form: 白 + verb (in vain) · 没白 + verb (worthwhile)

- 办公室关门了，我白跑了一趟。 Bàngōngshì guān mén le, wǒ bái pǎole yí tàng. – The office was closed, so I went there for nothing.
- 他没来，我们白等了一个小时。 – He didn't come, so we waited an hour for nothing.
- 这趟没白来，学到了很多。 – This trip was worth it; I learned a lot.

How it works. 白 bái before an action says it failed in its intended purpose: 白跑, 白等, 白忙. 没白 rejects that: "not in vain". It doesn't mean 没来.

The judgement is about one purpose. 我白跑了一趟邮局，没寄成信，不过在路上见到了朋友 is normal: the mailing failed, the trip had another benefit.

Other 白. 这顿饭是白吃的 in a free-meal context means no payment; 白纸 is white paper. Don't force the "in vain" reading onto every 白.

26. 连忙 vs 赶紧 (hurriedly / hurry up)

Form: event, 连忙 + reaction · 赶紧 / 赶快 + verb

- 他看见老人上车，连忙站起来让座。 Tā kànjiàn lǎorén shàng chē, liánmáng zhàn qǐlai ràng zuò. – Seeing an old man get on, he quickly stood up and offered his seat.
- 快下雨了，赶紧回家吧！ – It's about to rain – hurry home!
- 他赶紧给妈妈打了个电话。 – He quickly called his mum.

How it works. 连忙 tells how someone reacted at once to something that happened. 赶紧 and 赶快 also mean "quickly", but they can give orders and advice too.

连忙站起来	赶紧走吧！	我马上就来
quickly stood up (story)	hurry up and go!	I'll be right there

Watch out

- wrong: 你连忙走吧 → 你赶紧走吧: 连忙 can't give orders.

27. 特意 vs 顺便 and 故意 (specially / while you're at it / on purpose)

Form: 特意 / 特地 + verb

- 我特意为你做了这个菜。 Wǒ tèyì wèi nǐ zuò le zhège cài. – I made this dish specially for you.
- 他特意从上海来看我。 – He came all the way from Shanghai just to see me.
- 他故意不理我。 – He ignored me on purpose.

How it works. 特意 (or 特地) says you did something just for this purpose, usually as a kind effort. 顺便 means "while doing something else". 故意 means "deliberately", often for something unkind.

特意来看我	顺便买了邮票	故意不理我	不是故意的
came just to see me	bought stamps while there	ignored me on purpose	I didn't mean to

Watch out

- To annoy or hurt: wrong: 他特意把杯子打破了 → 他故意把杯子打破了.

28. 分别 (respectively, separately)

Form: A 和 B 分别 + verb + C 和 D · 分别 + verb (separately) · 分别 (to part)

- 我和妹妹分别住在北京和上海。 Wǒ hé mèimei fēnbié zhù zài Běijīng hé Shànghǎi. – My sister and I live in Beijing and Shanghai respectively.
- 老师分别和每个学生谈了话。 – The teacher talked to each student separately.
- 我们分别了十年。 – We were apart for ten years.

How it works. As an adverb, 分别 matches two lists in order (A → C, B → D), or means "separately". As a verb, it means to part. 各自 = each (their own); 区别 = a difference.

分别住在北京和上海	各自回家	有什么区别
live in … respectively	each went home	what's the difference

Watch out

- 分别 needs two or more people, things or places to match: wrong: 我分别住在北京.

29. 悄悄 vs 安静, 偷偷 and 轻轻 (quietly)

Form: 悄悄 (地) + verb

- 他悄悄地走进了教室。 Tā qiāoqiāo de zǒu jìn le jiàoshì. – He quietly walked into the classroom.
- 我们悄悄准备了一个生日晚会。 – We secretly planned a birthday party.
- 春天悄悄地来了。 – Spring has quietly arrived.

How it works. 悄悄 describes an action done quietly or secretly, without others noticing. 安静 is an adjective for a quiet place or person; 偷偷 = sneakily; 轻轻 = gently.

悄悄地走进来	教室里很安静	轻轻地关门
come in quietly	the room is quiet	close the door gently

Watch out

- wrong: 教室里很悄悄 → 教室里很安静.

30. 单独 vs 独自 (alone, separately)

Form: 单独 + verb · 独自 (一个人) + verb

- 老师想单独跟你谈谈。 Lǎoshī xiǎng dāndú gēn nǐ tántan. – The teacher wants to talk with you one-to-one.
- 这个箱子比较重，请单独放。 – This box is quite heavy; please put it separately.
- 他独自一个人去了西藏。 – He went to Tibet all by himself.

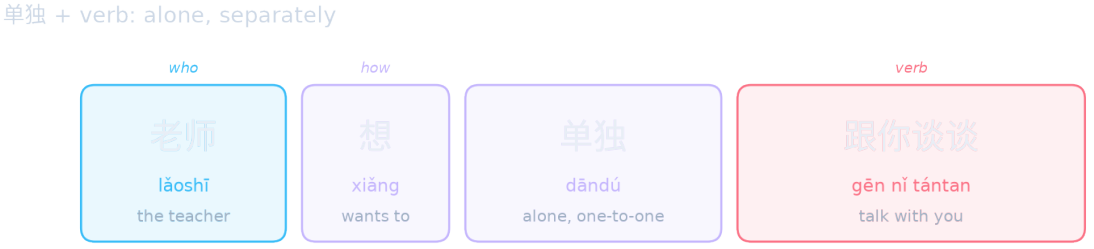
How it works. 单独 separates one person or thing from a group (alone, separately, one-to-one). 独自 is a person doing something by themselves, often with a feeling of being alone. Everyday: 一个人.

单独谈	单独放	独自去
talk one-to-one	put separately	go alone

Watch out

- To treat a thing separately, use 单独.



31. 总 (always / keep on)

Form: subject + (time / situation) + 总 (是) + predicate · 总会 + outcome

- 他总迟到。/ 他总是迟到。 Tā zǒng chídào. – He's always late.
- 周末他总睡到中午。 – At weekends he always sleeps until noon.
- 她总帮助别人。 – She's always helping others.
- 总会好的。 Zǒng huì hǎo de. – It'll get better eventually.

How it works. 总 zǒng describes a recurring pattern, often within a stated boundary (周末). In this habit use it overlaps with 总是. Recurrence can come with complaint (你怎么总玩手机?) or praise; 总 itself is not negative. Everyday "always" can exaggerate; if exact counts matter, give them.

总 + predicate	one event	总会 …… 的
recurring pattern	one stated past event	an eventual outcome (reassurance)
他总迟到	他昨天迟到了一次	总会好的

Watch out

- Not every 总 can become 总是: 总是会好的 sounds like a general pattern, while 总会好的 looks ahead to an outcome.

总: always · 总会: surely, in the end

32. 曾经 + Verb + 过 (once / formerly)

Form: subject + 曾经 + predicate · 曾经 + verb + 过 (+ object)

- 我曾经住在上海。 Wǒ céngjīng zhù zài Shànghǎi. – I once lived in Shanghai.
- 他曾经当过老师。 Tā céngjīng dāngguo lǎoshī. – He used to be a teacher.
- 她曾经很害羞，现在能自信地演讲。 – She used to be shy; now she can give speeches confidently.

How it works. 曾经 céngjīng places a state or experience in the past. 过 after a suitable verb marks experience (当过, 去过), but it is not required: 她曾经很害羞 is complete without it.

"Once" in English doesn't mean one time here. For an exact count, say it: 我去过一次上海.

Read only what is stated. 我曾经住在上海 tells you about an earlier time; it says nothing about where the person lives now, unless a later clause adds it (……, 现在 ……). A past teaching job does not show the current job.

曾经 + past	future plan
我曾经去过上海	我明年会去上海

33. 再三 + Verb (over and over)

Form: subject + 再三 + verb phrase

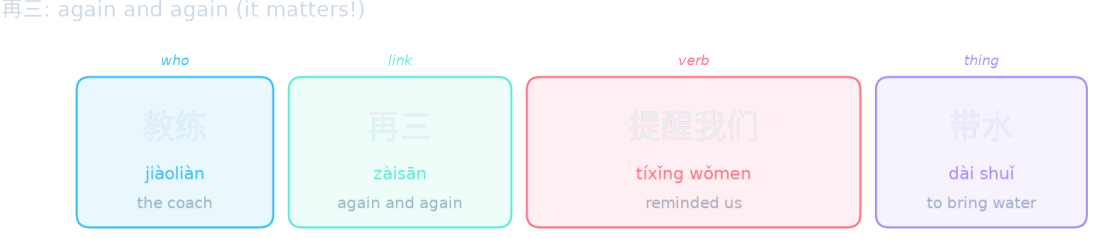
- 教练再三提醒我们带水。 Jiàoliàn zàisān tíxǐng wǒmen dài shuǐ. – The coach reminded us over and over to bring water.
- 他再三强调这一点。 – He stressed this point again and again.
- 我再三考虑，还是决定去。 – I thought it over many times and decided to go.
- 老师再三解释，可是我还是不明白。 – The teacher explained it again and again, but I still didn't understand.

How it works. 再三 zàisān marks an action repeated with earnest attention, before the verb: 再三提醒, 再三强调, 再三考虑, 再三感谢. Despite the 三, it gives no exact count.

再三提醒	提醒了三次	总迟到
repeated emphasis	an exact count	a recurring habit

Watch out

- Repetition doesn't guarantee a result: read the outcome clause. 再三解释，可是还是不明白 reports failure.
- If only one reminder is recorded, say 她提醒了一次.



34. Verb + 了 + 又 + Verb (again and again)

Form: verb + 了 + 又 + same verb

- 这封信我看了又看。 Zhè fēng xìn wǒ kànle yòu kàn. – I read this letter over and over.
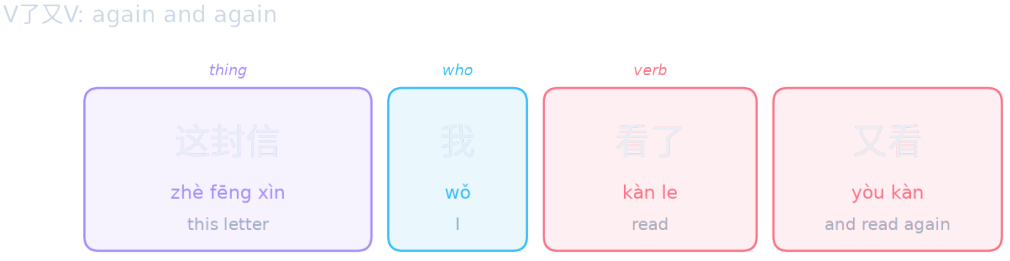
- 他想了又想，还是拒绝了。 – He thought it over again and again, and still said no.
- 昨晚我看了又看，终于发现了错误。 – Last night I checked it again and again and finally found the mistake.

How it works. The same verb repeats around 了又 to stress repeated action: 看了又看, 想了又想, 问了又问. It gives no exact count (他问了三次 would) and no guaranteed result: the next clause tells you what happened. The time comes from the context; 了 here is not a general past-tense ending.

看了又看	看了文字，又听了录音
one action, repeated	two different actions in sequence (also correct)



35. 再也 + 不 / 没 + ... 了 (never again)

Form: 再也不 + verb + 了 (never again) · 再也没 + verb (+ 过) (not again since)

- 我再也不去那家店了。 Wǒ zài yě bú qù nà jiā diàn le. – I'll never go to that shop again.
- 毕业后我们再也没见过面。 Bìyè hòu wǒmen zài yě méi jiànguo miàn. – We haven't met again since graduation.
- 我再也找不到那本书了。 – I can't find that book any more.

How it works. Read the negative after 再也.

Example	Meaning
我再也不去了	a strong intention about the future
毕业后再也没见过	no repeat in a stated period (since graduation)
再也找不到那本书了	inability now

A strong refusal states a present stance; people can still change their minds. A report about the past needs more evidence before it becomes a claim about every future day.

Watch out

- Final 了 is common in the 不 pattern, but not required in every 再也 sentence: 再也没见过面 has 过 and no 了.

36. 始终 (all along / from start to finish)

Form: subject + 始终 + verb / adjective · 始终没 / 始终不 + verb

- 他始终没说话。 Tā shǐzhōng méi shuōhuà. – He didn't say a word from start to finish.
- 她始终相信自己能成功。 – She always believed she could succeed.
- 我始终不明白他为什么走。 – I never understood why he left.

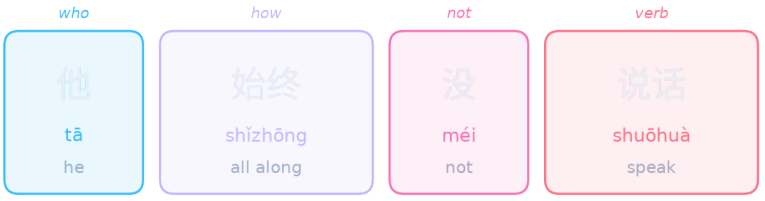
How it works. 始终 covers a whole period, from beginning to end, and says nothing changed. It often describes an attitude or a "never" (始终没, 始终不).

他始终没来	明天我一直在家	一直往前走
he never came (the whole time)	I'll be home all day tomorrow (only 一直)	go straight ahead (only 一直)

Watch out

- With a set future time (明天, 下个月), use 一直, not 始终.
- 始终 goes after the subject, before the verb.

始终: from start to end, without change



37. 仍然 (still)

Form: (time / change), subject + 仍然 + verb · 虽然 …, … 仍然 …

- 十年过去了，他仍然住在这里。 Shí nián guòqu le, tā réngrán zhù zài zhèlǐ. – Ten years have passed, and he still lives here.
- 虽然很累，他仍然坚持跑完了。 – Although he was tired, he still kept going to the finish.
- 问题仍然没有解决。 – The problem has still not been solved.

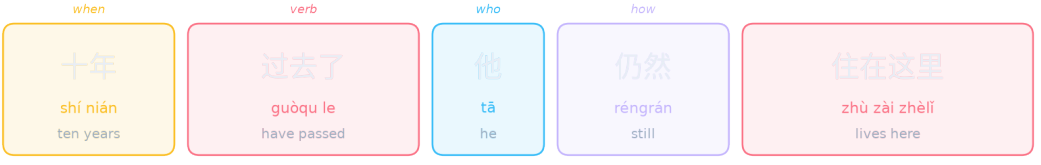
How it works. 仍然 says a situation stayed the same after time passed or something changed. It is the formal, written form of 还 ("still"). 依然 and 仍旧 mean the same.

他仍然住在这里	他还住在这里	我还要一杯
he still lives here (formal)	he still lives here (spoken)	I'd like one more (only 还)

Watch out

- 仍然 only means "still", never "also" or "more".
- 仍然 goes after the subject, before the verb.

仍然: still (after time or a change)



38. 逐渐 vs 逐步 (gradually / step by step)

Form: 逐渐 / 渐渐 + change · 逐步 + verb

- 我逐渐习惯了这里的生活。 Wǒ zhújiàn xíguàn le zhèlǐ de shēnghuó. – I gradually got used to life here.
- 天气逐渐变冷了。 – The weather is gradually getting colder.
- 我们要逐步解决这些问题。 – We need to solve these problems step by step.

How it works. 逐渐 (and the more spoken 渐渐) describes a slow change, above all one that happens by itself. 逐步 describes a change people plan and carry out in stages.

天逐渐黑了	渐渐地，雨停了	逐步提高水平
it slowly got dark	little by little, the rain stopped	raise the level step by step

Watch out

- wrong: 天逐步黑了: nobody plans a natural change.

39. 随时 (at any time)

Form: 随时 + verb · 随时可能 / 会 + verb · 随时随地

- 有问题可以随时问我。 Yǒu wèntí kěyǐ suíshí wèn wǒ. – If you have questions, you can ask me any time.
- 天这么黑，随时可能下雨。 – It's so dark it could rain at any moment.
- 用手机可以随时随地学习。 – With a phone you can study any time, anywhere.

How it works. 随时 means "at any time": whenever someone wants (offers) or any moment something may happen (warnings with 可能 / 会). It goes before the verb.

随时问我	总是迟到	及时提醒
ask me any time	always late	remind in time

Watch out

- wrong: 他随时迟到 → 他总是迟到 (always).

40. 从此 and 至今 (from then on / to this day)

Form: event，从此 + new state ·至今 (还 / 仍然) …

- 他被老师批评了一次，从此再也没迟到过。 Tā bèi lǎoshī pīpíng le yí cì, cóngcǐ zài yě méi chídào guo. – He was told off by the teacher once, and from then on he was never late again.
- 这件事我至今还记得。 – I still remember this to this day.
- 他十年前离开了家乡，至今没有回去过。 – He left his hometown ten years ago and hasn't been back since.

How it works. 从此 follows an event and gives the new situation that started there. 至今 looks back from today: something is still true now. 从来不 / 没 means "never" with no turning point.

从此再也没迟到	至今还记得	从来不喝咖啡
never late again from then on	still remember to this day	never drinks coffee

Watch out

- wrong: 我从此喜欢火锅: 从此 needs an event before it.

41. 立刻 and 立即 vs 马上 (at once / soon)

Form: 立刻 / 立即 + action ·马上 (就要 … 了)

- 一听到消息，他立刻赶到了医院。 Yì tīngdào xiāoxi, tā lìkè gǎndào le yīyuàn. – As soon as he heard the news, he rushed straight to the hospital.

- 请立即离开大楼。 – Please leave the building immediately.
- 马上就要放假了。 – The holidays are coming soon.

How it works. 立刻 and 立即 mean "at once, with no delay"; 立即 is more formal. 马上 means "right away" but also "soon", so only 马上 works for something a few days away.

立刻就去	立即离开	马上就要放假了
go right now	leave immediately	the holidays are coming soon

Watch out

- wrong: 立刻就要考试了 (next week) → 马上就要考试了.

42. 偶然 vs 偶尔 (by chance / now and then)

Form: 偶然 + verb · 偶然的 + noun · 不是偶然的

- 我在书店偶然遇到了一位老同学。 Wǒ zài shūdiàn ǒurán yùdào le yí wèi lǎo tóngxué. – I ran into an old classmate by chance in a bookshop.
- 在一次偶然的机会中，我认识了她。 – I met her by chance.
- 他的成功不是偶然的。 – His success is no accident.

How it works. 偶然 means "by chance, not planned". It goes before the verb or, with 的, before a noun. Don't confuse it with 偶尔 (now and then, how often). The opposite of 偶然 is 必然 (bound to happen).

偶然遇到	偶尔去看电影	必然的结果
meet by chance	go to the cinema now and then	an inevitable result

Watch out

- wrong: 我偶然去看电影 (how often) → 我偶尔去看电影.

偶然 + meeting: by chance

43. 事先 vs 提前 (beforehand / ahead of time)

Form: 事先 + verb · 提前 (+ amount of time) + verb · 提前到 + time

- 去之前最好事先打个电话。 Qù zhīqián zuìhǎo shìxiān dǎ ge diànhuà. – You'd better phone in advance before you go.
- 我们提前十分钟到了。 – We arrived ten minutes early.
- 会议提前到星期三了。 – The meeting has been moved forward to Wednesday.

How it works. 事先 means "beforehand": you prepare, ask or tell before an event. 提前 means "earlier than planned"; it can take an amount of time, and it can be a verb (考试提前了).

事先准备好	提前十分钟到	会议提前了
prepare in advance	arrive ten minutes early	the meeting was moved earlier

Watch out

- wrong: 事先十分钟到 → 提前十分钟到. wrong: 考试事先了 → 考试提前了.

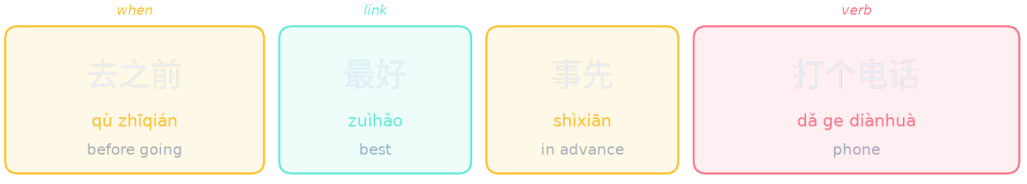
事先 + verb: beforehand



44. 纷纷 (one after another, many)

Form: many people / things + 纷纷 + verb

- 同学们纷纷举手。 Tóngxuémen fēnfēn jǔ shǒu. – The students put up their hands one after another.

- 消息一出，网友们纷纷发表看法。 – As soon as the news came out, people online gave their opinions one after another.
- 秋天到了，树叶纷纷落下。 – Autumn has come, and the leaves are falling one after another.

How it works. 纷纷 describes many people or things doing the same thing one after another, often as a reaction. It needs many doers and can't give an order. 陆续 = one after another over a period of time.

大家纷纷举手	客人陆续到了	一个一个地进来
hands went up one after another	guests arrived over time	come in one by one

Watch out

- wrong: 他纷纷举手 (one person). wrong: 请大家纷纷发言 → 请大家积极发言.

45. 反复 vs 重复 (again and again / to repeat)

Form: 反复 + verb · 重复 (一遍) · 一再 + verb

- 老师反复强调这一点。 Lǎoshī fǎnfù qiángdiào zhè yì diǎn. – The teacher stressed this point again and again.
- 请你再重复一遍。 – Please say it once more.
- 他一再提醒我带护照。 – He kept reminding me to bring my passport.

How it works. 反复 says how you do a verb: again and again, often with care (反复练习, 反复检查). 重复 is the verb "to repeat" (the same words or act), or "duplicated". 一再 = again and again, often requests or warnings.

反复练习	重复一遍	一再提醒
practise again and again	repeat once	keep reminding

Watch out

- wrong: 请反复一遍 → 请重复一遍.

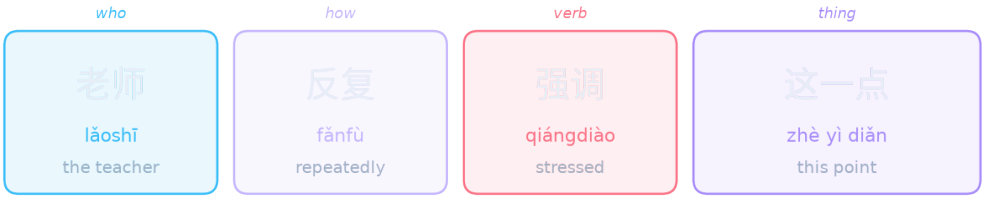
反复 + verb: again and again



46. 从前 vs 以前 and 过去 (long ago)

Form: 从前 … (，现在 …) · event + 以前 · 过去 (the past)

- 从前有一个小村子 …… Cóngqián yǒu yí ge xiǎo cūnzi … – Once upon a time there was a small village …
- 从前这里是一片农田，现在成了大城市。 – Long ago this was farmland; now it's a big city.
- 睡觉以前要刷牙。 – Brush your teeth before going to bed.

How it works. 从前 is a time word for the distant past and opens stories; it sounds a little written. 以前 is everyday and can follow an event (睡觉以前), even in the future. 过去 = the past, also a noun.

从前有一个村子	睡觉以前	过去的事
once upon a time, a village	before bed	things in the past

Watch out

- wrong: 睡觉从前 → 睡觉以前.

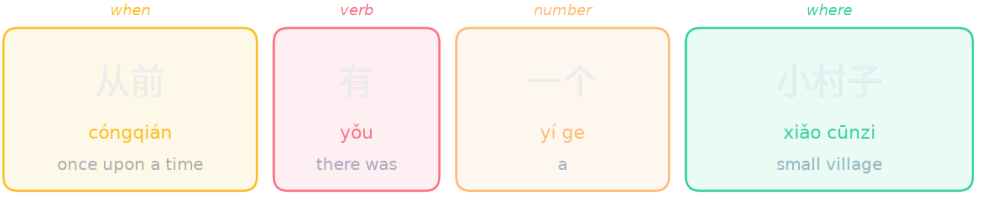
从前 + story opening



47. 最初 vs 当初 (at first / back then)

Form: 最初 …, 后来 / 现在 … · 最初的 + noun · 当初 (back then)

- 最初我不太习惯，后来就好了。 Zuìchū wǒ bú tài xíguàn, hòulái jiù hǎo le. – At first I wasn't really used to it, but later it was fine.
- 我最初的想法是学医。 – My first idea was to study medicine.
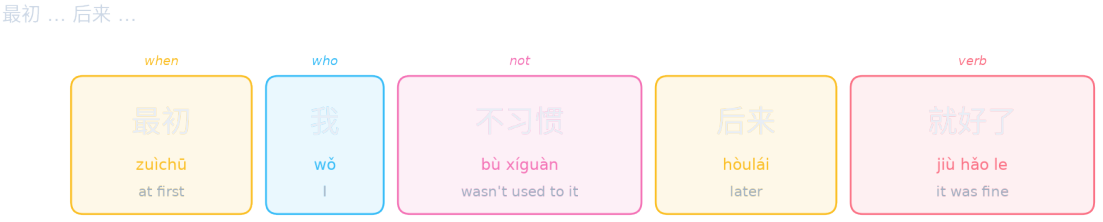
- 早知道这样，当初就不该来。 – If I'd known, I shouldn't have come back then.

How it works. 最初 marks the start of a process and often pairs with 后来 or 现在. 当初 looks back at a past decision, often with regret. Everyday: 一开始; written: 起初.

最初 … 后来 …	当初	一开始
at first … later …	back then	at first (speech)

Watch out

- For regret about a past choice, use 当初, not 最初.



48. 差点没: near misses and context

Form: 差点 (没) + verb, + clause giving the actual outcome

- 我差点没赶上车，幸好司机等了我。 Wǒ chàdiǎn méi gǎnshang chē, xìnghǎo sījī děngle wǒ. – I almost missed the bus; luckily the driver waited for me.
- 我差点赶上车，可是车开走了。 – I almost caught the bus, but it left.
- 我差点摔倒，幸好扶住了栏杆。 – I almost fell; luckily I grabbed the rail.
- 我没赶上车，只好等下一班。 – I missed the bus and had to wait for the next one.

How it works. Separate the close call from what actually happened. The following clause (幸好 ……, 可是 ……, 结果还是 ……) usually settles the outcome.

Account	Actual result
我差点没赶上，幸好最后赶上了。	caught it
我差点赶上车，可是车开走了。	missed it
我差点摔倒，幸好扶住了栏杆。	didn't fall

In near-accidents, speakers also say 我差点没摔倒 with the same meaning: here 没 does not work like an ordinary negative. The "wanted / unwanted result" tendency (HSK 4) helps, but it does not settle every isolated sentence.

Watch out

- Don't decide the outcome by counting negatives. If it matters, state it: 我差点没赶上，幸好最后赶上了. If an account leaves it unclear, ask.

49. 再不 … 就 … 了: a conditional warning

Form: (subject +) 再不 + action，(subject +) 就 + consequence + 了

- 再不走，我们就迟到了。 Zài bù zǒu, wǒmen jiù chídào le. – If we don't leave now, we'll be late.
- 你再不复习，就来不及了。 – If you don't start revising, it'll be too late.

- 火车八点开，再不走就来不及了。 – The train leaves at eight; if we don't go now, we won't make it.

How it works. A warning: if the action still doesn't happen soon (condition), the consequence follows. The consequence is predicted, not yet real. The condition can be a natural situation, not only something the listener chooses. For a warning people can check, state the deadline separately.

再不 + verb，就 ……	再也不 + verb + 了
warns against further delay	a strong "never again"
再不去，就来不及了	我再也不去了

再不 … 就 … 了: a warning

50. 差很多 (differ a lot)

Form: A 和 B 的 + dimension + 差很多 · 差 + exact amount

- 我们俩的想法差很多。 – Our ideas are very different.
- 这两张票分别是二十元和八十元，价格差六十元。 – The two tickets cost 20 and 80 yuan: a difference of 60 yuan.

How it works. 差 chà states a gap between a named pair on one dimension: price, quality, ideas. 差很多 adds the speaker's judgement that the gap is large; whether it is large depends on the scale (2 yuan on 45 is small). Give the values when you have them. To say which side is higher, add it: 第一家便宜六十元.

差很多	差不多	很差	差点
very different	about the same	poor (one thing)	nearly
质量差很多	价格差不多	质量很差	差点迟到

Watch out

- 差很多 doesn't tell you which is cheaper or better, and a price gap doesn't prove a quality gap.

51. 幸亏 (luckily / thanks to)

Form: 幸亏 + lucky fact, 不然 / 要不然 + (就) bad result · 幸亏 …, 才 …

- 幸亏你提醒我带伞，不然我就淋湿了。 Xìngkuī nǐ tíxǐng wǒ dài sǎn, bùrán wǒ jiù línshī le. – Luckily you reminded me to bring an umbrella, or I'd have got soaked.
- 幸亏他开车送我，我才赶上了飞机。 – Luckily he drove me, so I made the plane.
- 我们幸亏早出发了。 – Luckily we set off early.

How it works. 幸亏 points to the fact that saved you from something bad. The next clause says what would have happened without it (不然 … 就 …) or what it made possible (才 …). 幸好 means the same.

幸亏带了伞	好在带了伞	很幸运
luckily (a bad result avoided)	at least (one good point)	lucky (plain good news)

Watch out

- wrong: 幸亏我抽到了一等奖 → 我很幸运, 抽到了一等奖 (no danger was avoided).
- wrong: 我很幸亏: 幸亏 is an adverb.

幸亏 + lucky fact，不然 + what would have happened

52. 难免 (bound to / hard to avoid)

- 新手难免出错。 – Beginners are bound to make mistakes.
- 吵架是难免的。 – Arguments are unavoidable.

How it works. 难免 says that, in this situation, something (usually unwelcome) is hard to avoid. It is often used to comfort ("it's normal") or to warn. 免不了 means the same and is more spoken.

难免出错	避免出错	出错是难免的
bound to make mistakes	avoid making mistakes	mistakes are unavoidable

Watch out

- 避免 is a verb (to avoid); 难免 says it can't be avoided.
- 难免不出错 usually means the same as 难免出错; write the simple form.

How it works. 啊 after each item lists examples in a lively, spoken way, as if you were pointing at them one by one. The items are only examples, not a complete list. The list usually closes with 什么的, with a summary word (这些地方, 样样) or with 都 and a comment about all of them.

The items can be nouns (水果啊, 饮料啊) or verb phrases (买菜啊, 做饭啊). Because the speaker lists things with feeling, the comment often shows an attitude: busy, impressed, annoyed. In fast speech 啊 blends with the sound before it and may be written 呀 or 哇 (水果呀); 啊 is always correct.

Spoken, lively	Plain	Formal
苹果啊，香蕉啊什么的	苹果、香蕉和橙子	苹果、香蕉等水果
chatting with friends	a neutral description	a report or notice

Watch out

- Give at least two items; one item with 啊 is just an exclamation: wrong: 护照啊，他都忘了 → 护照啊，钱包啊，他都忘了.

exercises.lol exercises.com.cn

- Use the same pattern for every item: wrong: 水果啊，饮料，纸杯啊 → 水果啊，饮料啊，纸杯啊.
- Not in essays or reports: write 等 instead (护照、充电器等物品).

Conjunctions

HSK 5

Linking words for longer speech and writing. 要不 …… 吧 suggests another plan, and 否则 / 不然 say what happens if advice is not followed. The essay connectors turn an argument (然而), add a point (此外), state a result (因而, 从而) and draw a conclusion from facts (可见). They usually start the second clause or a new sentence.

At a glance

Suggestions and warnings

- 1. 要不 … 吧 – how about …: 这儿人太多了，要不我们去对面那家吧。
- 2. 否则 / 不然 – otherwise: 快走吧，否则我们会迟到的。

Essay connectors

- 3. 然而 – however – formal: 他学了三年汉语。
- 4. 此外 – in addition: 这家酒店离地铁站很近，房间也很干净。
- 5. 因而 / 从而 – therefore / thereby: 他每天和中国朋友聊天，从而提高了口语水平。
- 6. 可见 – this shows / clearly: 他每天都学到半夜，可见他有多努力。

1. 要不 ... 吧 (how about ...)

Form: (problem，) 要不 + suggestion + 吧

- 这儿人太多了，要不我们去对面那家吧。 Zhèr rén tài duō le, yàobù wǒmen qù duìmiàn nà jiā ba. – It's too crowded here; how about the place across the road?
- 要不我们打车吧。 Yàobù wǒmen dǎchē ba. – How about we take a taxi?
- 可能下雨，要不我们把野餐改到室内吧。 Kěnéng xià yǔ, yàobù wǒmen bǎ yěcān gǎi dào shìnèi ba. – It might rain; how about moving the picnic indoors?
- 你太累了，要不先休息一下吧。 Nǐ tài lèi le, yàobù xiān xiūxi yíxià ba. – You're exhausted; why not rest for a bit first?
- 电话里说不清楚，要不我们见面谈吧。 Diànhuà li shuō bu qīngchu, yàobù wǒmen jiànmiàn tán ba. – It's hard to explain on the phone; how about we talk in person?
- A：周六我有事。B：那要不改到周日吧？ A: Zhōuliù wǒ yǒu shì. B: Nà yàobù gǎi dào zhōurì ba? – A: I'm busy on Saturday. B: Then how about Sunday?

How it works. 要不 yàobù at the start of a clause offers another option, "how about …, why don't we …". It usually comes right after a reason the first plan won't work (人太多了, 可能下雨, 我有事), so the order is: problem, then 要不 + new idea. 吧 at the end keeps it a friendly suggestion rather than an order, and a question mark is fine too.

那 often comes before it in a reply (那要不 …… 吧). The subject can be 我们, 你, or

Expression	Meaning	Example
要不 …… 吧	how about (a new idea)	要不我们坐地铁吧?
还是 …… 吧	had better (after weighing options)	想了想，还是坐地铁吧。
要不然	otherwise	快走，要不然就迟到了。
要不是	if it weren't for	要不是你帮我，我就完了。

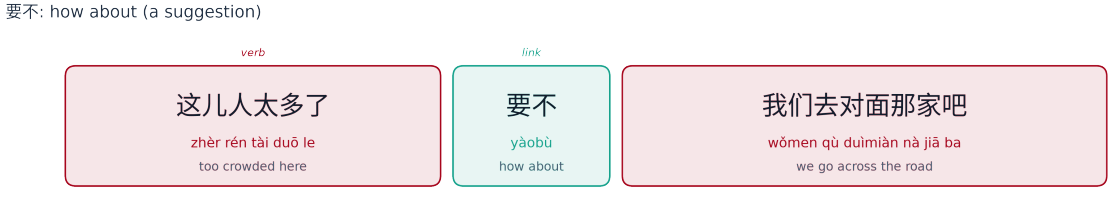
Watch out

- Without 吧 the suggestion can sound abrupt: wrong: 要不我们打车 → 要不我们打车吧.
- In fast speech 要不 can also mean "otherwise" (快走，要不就迟到了). It is a suggestion only when a new plan follows, usually with 吧.
- Do not confuse it with 要不是 ("if it weren't for"), which talks about the past.

In a passage

小王：电影票卖完了，怎么办?
小李：要不我们看晚一点儿的那场吧?
小王：太晚了，我明天还要上班。
小李：那要不我们改天再来吧，今天先去吃饭。
小王：好主意!

Read and notice. What problem comes before each 要不? Which suggestion does 小王 accept?



2. 否则 / 不然 (otherwise)

Form: advice / condition，否则 / 不然 / 要不然 + (会 / 就) result

- 快走吧，否则我们会迟到的。 Kuài zǒu ba, fǒuzé wǒmen huì chídào de. – Let's hurry, otherwise we'll be late.
- 带上伞，不然会淋湿的。 – Take an umbrella, or you'll get wet.
- 幸亏你来了，不然我就走了。 – Luckily you came, otherwise I'd have left.

How it works. The first clause gives advice or something that must happen. 否则 ("otherwise, if not") starts the second clause and says what follows if it doesn't. 否则 is formal; 不然 and 要不然 are spoken.

否则	不然 / 要不然	要不 … 吧
otherwise (formal)	otherwise (spoken)	how about … (a suggestion)

Watch out

- wrong: 如果你早点儿睡，否则 … → 你得早点儿睡，否则 ….
- 否则 comes before the subject of the second clause.

3. 然而 (however – formal)

Form: statement。然而，+ contrasting statement

- 他学了三年汉语。然而，他还是不敢开口说。 Tā xuéle sān nián Hànyǔ. Rán'ér, tā háishi bù gǎn kāikǒu shuō. – He has studied Chinese for three years. However, he still doesn't dare to speak.
- 然而，事情并没有这么简单。 – However, things were not that simple.
- 虽然大家都很努力，然而结果并不理想。 – Although everyone worked hard, the result was not ideal.

How it works. 然而 turns to a contrast in formal writing. It usually starts the second sentence or a new paragraph and is followed by a comma.

然而	但是 / 可是	然后
however (formal writing)	but (speech and writing)	then, next (time order)

Watch out

- wrong: 我先吃饭，然而去学校 → 我先吃饭，然后去学校.
- In conversation, use 但是 / 可是, not 然而.

4. 此外 (in addition)

Form: point(s)。此外，+ one more point · 除此之外，…

- 这家酒店离地铁站很近，房间也很干净。此外，早餐是免费的。 Cǐwài, zǎocān shì miǎnfèi de. – This hotel is close to the metro and the rooms are clean. In addition, breakfast is free.
- 会议九点开始。此外，请大家带上笔记本电脑。 – The meeting starts at nine. Also, please bring your laptops.
- 除此之外，这里的服务也很好。 – Besides this, the service here is good too.

How it works. 此外 starts a new sentence and adds one more point. It is common in formal writing, notices and reports. 除此之外 means the same.

此外，…	另外一个问题	…，而且 …
in addition (new sentence, formal)	another problem (另外 before a noun)	and also (inside one sentence)

Watch out

- wrong: 此外一个问题 → 另外一个问题.
- To join two points inside one sentence, use 而且.

5. 因而 / 从而 (therefore / thereby)

Form: action / method，从而 + verb · cause，因而 + result

- 他每天和中国朋友聊天，从而提高了口语水平。 Tā měi tiān hé Zhōngguó péngyou liáotiān, cóng'ér tígāole kǒuyǔ shuǐpíng. – He chatted with Chinese friends every day, and so improved his speaking.
- 我们改进了方法，从而节约了时间。 – We improved our method, and so saved time.
- 雨下得太大，因而比赛取消了。 – The rain was too heavy, so the match was cancelled.

How it works. Both are formal. 从而 says what an action achieved; the subject stays the same, so 从而 is followed by a verb. 因而 is a formal 所以: a cause, then a result, which may have a new subject.

从而	因而 / 因此	所以
by doing this, achieved …	therefore (formal)	so (pairs with 因为)

Watch out

- wrong: 雨太大，从而比赛取消了 → 雨太大，因而比赛取消了 (rain is not an action someone took).

6. 可见 (this shows / clearly)

Form: evidence，可见 + conclusion · 由此可见，+ conclusion

Nouns

HSK 5

Nouns and frames that place things in a group or in time. 当中 means “among”; 彼此 means “each other”; …… 以来 means “ever since”; 当 …… 的时候 means “when”; Noun + 这个 + category sizes something up (他这个人很热情); 某 means “a certain” (not named); and 其余 means “the rest” of a group.

At a glance

- 1. 当中 – among / in the middle of: 同学当中，他最高。
- 2. 彼此 – each other / one another: 我们彼此信任。
- 3. … 以来 – ever since: 毕业以来，我一直很忙。
- 4. 当 … 的时候 – when …: 当我做饭的时候，电话响了。
- 5. Noun + 这个 + Category – sizing up: 他这个人很热情。
- 6. 某 – a certain …: 他在北京某公司工作。
- 7. 其余 vs 其他 and 别的 – the rest / other: 只来了三个人，其余的都没来。

1. 当中 (among / in the middle of)

Form: (在) + group + 当中，comment · place + 当中 (the middle)

- 同学当中，他最高。 Tóngxué dāngzhōng, tā zuì gāo. – Of all the classmates, he’s the tallest.
- 在这些学生当中，她最有经验。 – Among these students, she has the most experience.
- 这些学生当中，有三个人会游泳。 – Three of these students can swim.
- 桌子放在房间当中。 – The table is in the middle of the room.

How it works. Group + 当中 dāngzhōng sets the frame for the statement: the comment is true within that group. With a place, 当中 means the physical middle.

Keep the scope. 同学当中, 他最高 ranks him among the classmates being discussed; a pupil in another class could be taller. 这四个设计当中，B 最便宜 is about those four designs only; when a new design joins, check again.

The frame doesn’t make the comment true of every member: 有三个人会游泳 is about three of them. 他最高 ranks (最); 他很高 just describes.

2. 彼此 (each other / one another)

Form: participants + 彼此 + verb · verb + 彼此 (object) · 彼此彼此 (same here)

- 我们彼此信任。/ 我们互相信任。 Wǒmen bǐcǐ xìnrèn. – We trust each other.
- 我们了解彼此。 – We understand each other.
- 他们彼此提醒。 – They remind each other.
- A: 我的字写得很乱。 B: 彼此彼此。 – "My handwriting is messy." "Same here."

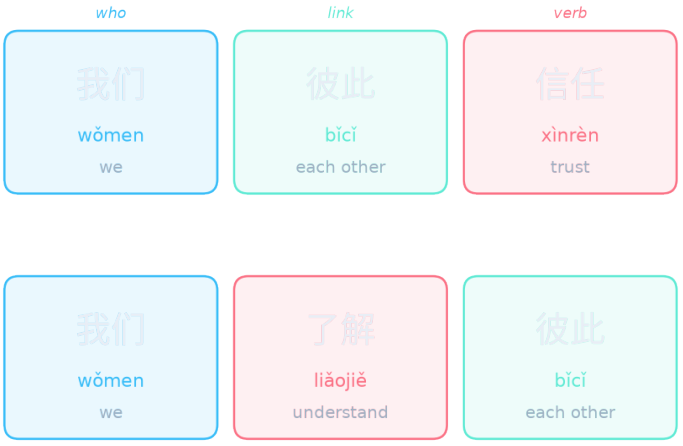
How it works. 彼此 bǐcǐ "each other" describes a relationship in both directions. Before a verb it overlaps with 互相. Unlike 互相, it can also be the object: 了解彼此 (with 互相, say 我们互相了解). As a reply, 彼此彼此 acknowledges a shared situation.

我们彼此了解	我们都了解老师	我信任她，她不信任我
we understand one another	each of us understands the teacher	one-way

Watch out

- Check the participants first: joining the same team doesn't prove mutual trust.
- Mutual is not equal: 他们彼此帮助 doesn't mean each spent the same time.

彼此: each other (before a verb, or as the object)



3. … 以来 (ever since)

Form: event / date / duration + 以来，comment

- 毕业以来，我一直很忙。 Bìyè yǐlái, wǒ yìzhí hěn máng. – I've been busy ever since I graduated.
- 毕业以来，我回学校三次了。 – Since graduating, I've been back to school three times.
- 这个月以来，我读了两本书。 – So far this month, I've read two books.
- 三年以来 – over the past three years

How it works. 以来 yǐlái goes after the starting point and frames a period from then up to the reference point (usually now). The rest of the sentence says what happened in it: a continuing state (一直很忙) or counted events (三次). 以来 itself gives no frequency.

毕业以来	毕业以后	毕业以前
period since graduation, up to now	at some point after	before graduation
回学校三次了	我搬到了上海

Watch out

- A dated text has its own "now": a 2024 report saying 2020 年以来，学校开了三门新课 counts up to 2024. Check later events before repeating the count.

以来: from then until now

4. 当 ... 的时候 (when ...)

Form: 当 + clause + 的时候，main clause

- 当我回家的时候，天黑了。 Dāng wǒ huí jiā de shíhou, tiān hēi le. – When I got home, it was dark.
- 当我做饭的时候，电话响了。 – While I was cooking, the phone rang.
- 当你需要帮助的时候，给我打电话。 – Call me when you need help.

How it works. 当 …… 的时候 frames when the main event happens. The actions decide whether the frame is an interval (做饭: the call came during it) or a moment (到家). It works for the past, the future and recurring situations; it is not a past-tense marker. Shorter forms also exist: 我回家的时候.

当我做饭的时候，电话响了	我做完饭以后，电话响了
during cooking	after cooking

Watch out

- A time frame is not a cause: 当我到家的时候，下雨了 doesn't mean arriving caused the rain, or say who phoned.

当 ... 的时候: when, while

5. Noun + 这个 + Category (sizing up)

Form: person / name + 这个 + category (人, 城市 …) + comment

- 他这个人很热情。 Tā zhège rén hěn rèqíng. – He's a really warm person.
- 他这个人有点儿粗心。 – He's a bit careless, as a person.
- 北京这个城市交通很方便。 – Getting around Beijing is very convenient.

How it works. 这个 + category frames the topic "as a person / as a city" for the comment that follows. The comment decides whether it is praise or criticism; the frame itself doesn't. 他很热情 is also correct; the frame puts the person in focus. Choose a category that fits; don't add 这个 before every noun.

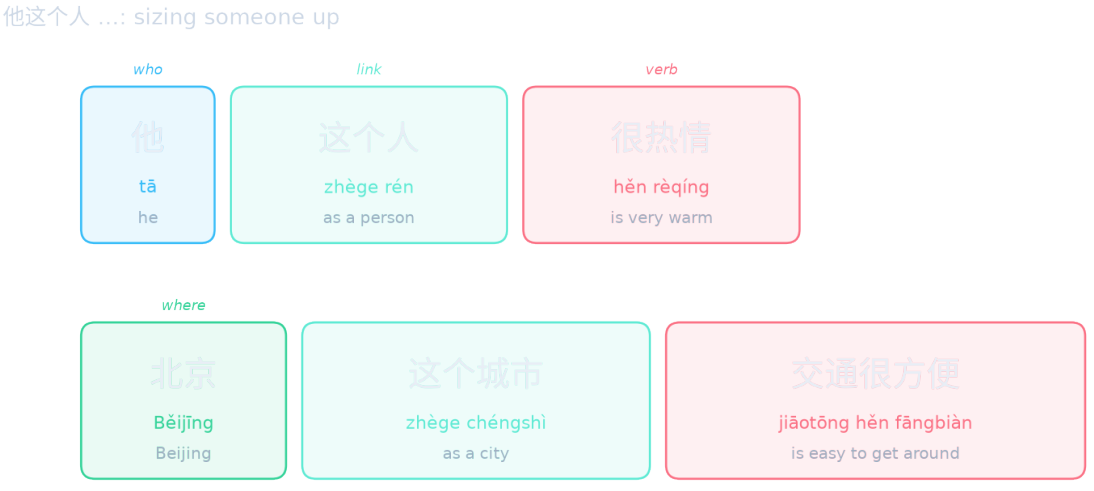
他这个人很热情	这个人是我的老师	这个……我还没决定 frames him for a comment	simply identifies "this person"	spoken hesitation, "um …"

Watch out

- The comment covers only what it says: 交通很方便 is about transport, not every part of life there.



6. 某 (a certain …)

Form: 某 + (measure word) + noun · surname + 某

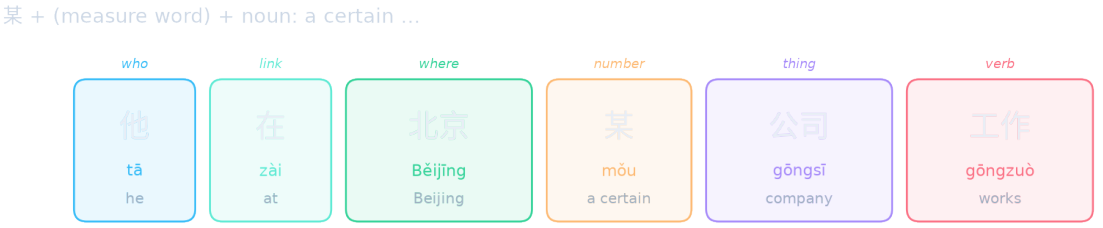
- 他在北京某公司工作。 Tā zài Běijīng mǒu gōngsī gōngzuò. – He works at a certain company in Beijing.
- 由于某种原因，会议推迟了。 – For some reason, the meeting was postponed.
- 有一天我在路上遇到了他。 – One day I ran into him on the street. (spoken)

How it works. 某 refers to a person, place or time without naming it; it is written (news, notices). Surname + 某 hides a full name. In speech, 一个 / 有一天. 有的 = some of a group.

某人	某种原因	王某
someone	some reason	a person surnamed Wang

Watch out

- In speech, 有一天 sounds more natural than 某天.



7. 其余 vs 其他 and 别的 (the rest / other)

Form: part …, 其余 (的) (都) … · 其他 + noun

- 只来了三个人，其余的都没来。 Zhǐ lái le sān ge rén, qíyú de dōu méi lái. – Only three people came; the rest didn't.
- 这些书我看了两本，其余的还没看。 – I've read two of these books; I haven't read the rest yet.
- 还有其他问题吗? – Are there any other questions?

How it works. 其余 = all that's left after a part is named, often with 都. 其他 = other (a bit formal); 别的 = other (everyday).

其余的都没来	其他问题	别的
the rest didn't come	other questions	something else

Watch out

- For "any other …" in a question, use 其他 or 别的.

Part …，其余的 …: the rest

Particles

HSK 5

Four particles at the end of a clause. 了 shows a change or a completed action, and its place in the sentence changes the meaning; 嘛 says something should be obvious; 呢 asks a follow-up question or keeps a situation going.

At a glance

- 1. Final 了 – change and completion in context: 我吃饭了。
- 2. Verb + 了 + Complement – le after the verb: 我看了两个小时书。
- 3. Statement + 嘛 – obviously / you know: 他是新手嘛，慢慢就会了。
- 4. 呢 – follow-up questions and shared context: 我住在上海，你呢?

1. Final 了: change and completion in context

Form: sentence + 了 (a new or now-relevant situation)

- 我吃饭了。 Wǒ chī fàn le. – I've eaten. (in reply to a lunch offer)
- 吃饭了! – Dinner's ready! (calling people to the table)
- 现在不冷了。 – It's not cold any more.
- 要下雨了。 – It's about to rain.

How it works. 了 at the end of a sentence presents a changed or newly relevant situation. It is not a general past tense; the situation decides the meaning.

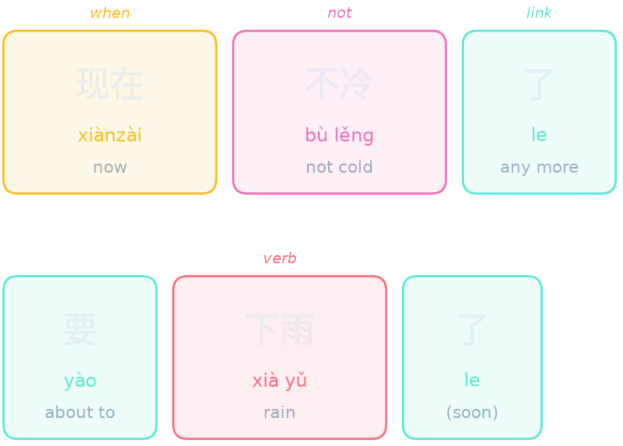
Example	What 了 does
我吃饭了。	eating has happened, so the lunch offer is answered
吃饭了!	announces mealtime: come and eat
现在不冷了。	a changed state
要下雨了。	an approaching event
我不在这里吃饭了。	a changed habit: no longer

Positions. 我吃了三碗饭 puts 了 right after the verb: the eating is carried out. 我吃了三碗饭了 has both: three bowls so far (whether a fourth follows isn't stated).

Watch out

- Denying a completed action uses 没 and drops 了: 我没吃饭.

了 at the end: a new situation



2. Verb + 了 + Complement (le after the verb)

Form: verb + 了 + duration / quantity (+ object)

- 我看了两个小时。 Wǒ kànle liǎng gè xiǎoshí. – I read for two hours.
- 我买了三本书。 – I bought three books.
- 等我看了这本书，再和你讨论。 – Once I've read this book, I'll discuss it with you.
- 我看了两个小时了，现在还在看。 – I've been reading for two hours, and I'm still at it.

How it works. 了 right after the verb presents the action as carried out, and the quantity after it says how long or how many. It is not a past tense: in 等我看了这本书 it marks a step completed before a future one. A second 了 at the end (看了两个小时了) counts up to now; the context says whether the activity continues.

The sentence answers	Example
how long?	看了两个小时
how many?	买了三本书
how long ago?	两个小时前看的

Negatives. 我没买书 denies the action and drops 了. 我没看两个小时，只看了一个小时 denies only the length: some reading happened.

Watch out

- A duration doesn't prove the book was finished; 我看了两个小时 means two hours of reading (120 minutes), not "two hours ago".

3. Statement + 嘛 (obviously / you know)

Form: statement + 嘛

- 这很简单嘛。 Zhè hěn jiǎndān ma. – It's simple, you know.
- 他是新手嘛。 – He's a beginner, after all.
- 别着急嘛。 – Don't rush, come on.

How it works. 嘛 at the end of a statement presents it as obvious or understood in the speaker's view: "you know", "after all". It often gives a reason (他是新手嘛, so help him). The listener can still disagree (对我来说不简单), so 嘛 is a stance, not proof. Tone decides whether it reassures or sounds impatient; the written particle doesn't show that.

这很简单嘛。	这很简单吗?	你觉得呢?
presents it as obviously easy	asks whether it's easy	invites the other view

Watch out

- 嘛 and 吗 are both ma without tone, but different jobs: a statement vs. a yes/no question.
- The reason must fit the facts: if the teammate is experienced, 他是新手嘛 no longer works.

嘛: obviously, you know

4. 呢: follow-up questions and shared context

Form: 你觉得呢? · topic + 呢? (and …? / where is …?)

- 我觉得上午好，你觉得呢? Wǒ juéde shàngwǔ hǎo, nǐ juéde ne? – I think the morning is better. What do you think?
- 我住上海，你呢? – I live in Shanghai. And you?
- 我的手机呢? – Where's my phone?
- 这双多少钱? …… 这个呢? – How much is this pair? … And this one?

How it works. 呢 asks a follow-up, and the earlier talk supplies the missing question. After 我住上海, 你呢? asks where you live; after 我午饭吃米饭, the same words ask about your lunch. With a missing object (我的手机呢?) it asks where it is.

呢 asks	吗 asks
follow-up from shared context, or with a question word (你在看什么呢?)	yes/no: 这很简单吗?

Watch out

- Not every 呢 is a question: 我正在看书呢 is a statement (in progress).
- Don't swap 吗 for 呢 in every yes/no question.
- If the topic isn't clear, name it: 你觉得这个计划怎么样呢?

Practice

Cover the teaching pages before you answer. The answers are at the end.

Prepositional phrases

HSK 5

以上 and 以下 mean "above" and "below" a number or level: 十八岁以上 (eighteen and over), 六十分以下 (below sixty). Notices often use them, so check whether the number itself is included in the context.

以上 / 以下 (and above / and below)

Form: number + unit + 以上 / 以下 · number + unit + 以上 / 以下 + 的 + noun

- 十八岁以上才能看。 Shíbā suì yǐshàng cái néng kàn. – Only those 18 and over may watch.
- 三十人以下，包括三十人。 Sānshí rén yǐxià, bāokuò sānshí rén. – Thirty people or fewer, thirty included.
- 三十元以下的礼物都可以。 Sānshí yuán yǐxià de lǐwù dōu kěyǐ. – Any gift of thirty yuan or less is fine.
- 六岁以下的儿童免费。 Liù suì yǐxià de értóng miǎnfèi. – Children aged six and under go free.
- 今天最高气温在三十五度以上。 Jīntiān zuì gāo qìwēn zài sānshíwǔ dù yǐshàng. – Today's top temperature is above 35 degrees.
- 成绩八十分以上的同学可以参加比赛。 Chéngjì bāshí fēn yǐshàng de tóngxué kěyǐ cānjiā bǐsài. – Students who scored 80 or more can enter the competition.

How it works. 以上 yǐshàng "and above" and 以下 yǐxià "and below" follow the number and its unit; the unit says what is counted (岁, 人, 元, 度, 分). Before a noun, add 的: 六岁以下的儿童. With 在 they describe a range: 在三十五度以上.

In everyday use and on most notices the number itself is included, and careful notices say so with 包括 (包括三十人). 才能 turns the range into a condition: only people in it may do the thing, though other conditions may still apply. When the exact edge matters, Chinese also has words that clearly include or exclude it.

Expression	Thirty included?
三十人以下 (包括三十人)	yes
三十人以内 / 最多三十人	yes
不到三十人	no: at most 29
超过三十人	no: 31 or more

Work it out. Limit 三十人以下，包括三十人, with 29 inside: one more may enter; two more make 31, over the limit.

Watch out

- The unit comes before 以上 / 以下: wrong: 十八以上岁 → 十八岁以上.

- 以上 / 以下 follow the number; they never come first: wrong: 以上十八岁 → 十八岁以上.
- At the end of a speech or text, 以上 also means "the above": 以上是我的看法 (that is my view, as stated above).

In a passage

> 博物馆通知：本馆每天最多接待两千人。六岁以下的儿童和六十五岁以上的老人免费参观。二十人以上的团体请提前一天预约。馆内温度保持在二十度以上，请游客放心参观。

Read and notice. Who gets in free? How many people make a group that must book in advance?

Practice

Cover the teaching pages before you answer. The answers are at the end.

1. Only those 18 and over may watch. 十八岁 …… 才能看。

2. A room says 三十人以下，包括三十人. 29 people are inside. How many more may enter?

- A. 0
- B. 2
- C. 3
- D. 1

3. Which excludes thirty?

- A. 三十人以下，包括三十人
- B. 不到三十人

- C. 三十人以内
- D. 最多三十人

4. True or false? 超过三十人 includes thirty. If false, correct it.

5. Say in Chinese: “Thirty yuan or less.”

6. Children under six get in free.

Put in order: 以下的 / 免费。/ 六岁 / 儿童

Mixed practice

These questions mix the patterns and use new situations.

7. Find and fix the problem. A room notice says 三十人以下, and it is clear that thirty is allowed. Twenty-nine people are inside, and two more come in. Is that allowed?

8. Use it yourself. Write an age notice for eighteen and over, then say whether people aged 17 and 18 may enter.

Answers and explanations

Mark your work, then correct each mistake in your own words.

1. 以上

Number + unit + 以上.

2. D. 1

30 is the limit and it is included.

3. B. 不到三十人

不到 = fewer than.

4. False.

超过 means more than thirty: 31 or more.

5. 三十元以下

Number + unit + 以下.

6. 六岁以下的儿童免费。

Number + unit + 以下 modifies the noun.

■ Mixed practice

7. No. 29 + 2 = 31, which is more than thirty. Only one more person may enter.

8. Model answer. 十八岁以上的人可以参加。十七岁不可以，十八岁可以 (here 以上 includes eighteen).

Review later. Tomorrow, read two notices with 以上 and 以下 and check one number against each.

Prepositions

HSK 5

Prepositions for formal speech and writing. Some set the time (自从, 趁), some name who benefits or what something is based on (为, 凭, 给 as a passive), and some limit the topic (对 …… 而言, 就 …… 来说, 在内, 至于). They come before the verb or at the start of the sentence.

At a glance

Time

- 1. 自从 – ever since: 自从来到这儿，我每天都很开心。
- 2. 趁 – while / taking advantage of: 快趁热吃吧！

For whom, and on what basis

- 3. 为 + Person – for someone's sake: 我们为大家服务。
- 4. 凭 – on the basis of / by: 凭票入场。
- 5. 给 – colloquial passive: 杯子给打破了！
- 6. 作为 – as, in the role of: 作为学生，我们应该努力学习。

Limiting the topic

- 7. 对 … 而言 – as far as … is concerned: 对新手而言，这很难。
- 8. 就 … 来说 – as far as … goes: 就价格来说，这个不贵；就质量来说，还不知道。
- 9. … 在内 – including: 包括我在内，一共五个人。
- 10. 至于 – as for / when it comes to: 质量没问题。

1. 自从 (ever since)

Form: 自从 + earlier event / time，later situation

- 自从来这儿，我很开心。 Zìcóng lái zhèr, wǒ hěn kāixīn. – Ever since I came here, I've been happy.
- 自从三月搬来，我去过图书馆三次。 – Since moving here in March, I've been to the library three times.
- 自从换了座位，我看黑板清楚多了。 – Since I changed seats, I can see the board much more clearly.

How it works. 自从 zìcóng introduces a past starting point; the main clause gives the state or events since then, up to the time of speaking. A count (三次) covers that whole period, not "each day", and an April report stays an April report when read in June.

自从三月搬来	从明天开始	从学校走到车站
since a past event	from a future start	from a place (a route)

exercises.lol exercises.com.cn

Watch out

- 自从 is only for a past start; for future starts and places use 从 (wrong: 自从明天 → 从明天开始).
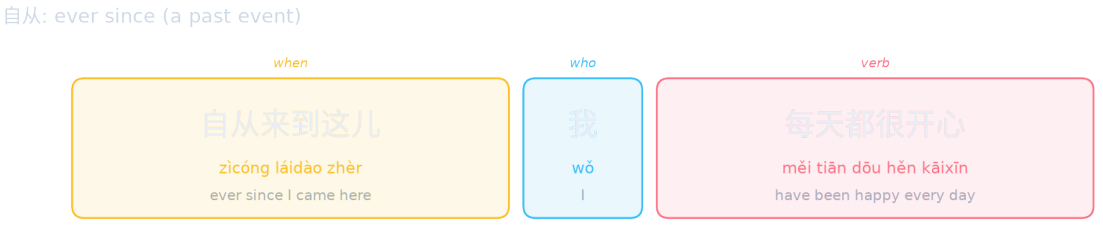
- Time order is not proof of cause: the clearer view might also come from new glasses.



2. 趁 (while / taking advantage of)

Form: 趁 + favourable time / situation + action

- 趁热吃吧。 Chèn rè chī ba. – Eat it while it's hot.
- 趁午休去银行。 – Go to the bank during the lunch break.
- 趁雨停了，赶快回家。 – The rain has stopped; let's hurry home while we can.
- 趁现在还年轻，多去旅行。 – Travel while you're still young.

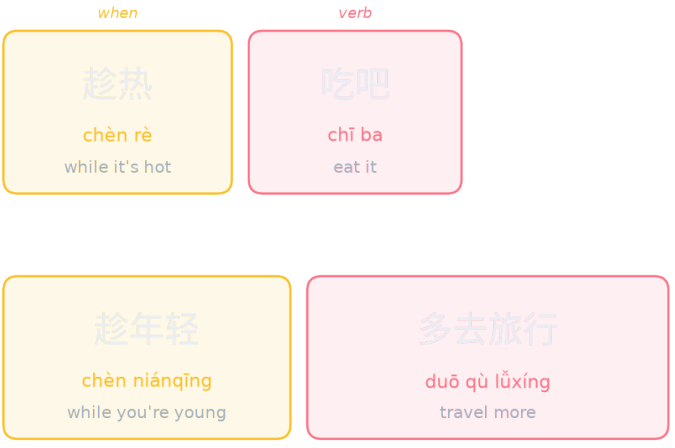
How it works. 趁 chèn names an opportunity that may not last, and the action takes advantage of it. It is more than "at the same time": 雨停的时候，我们在车站 only says where we were.

Check the window. A break ends at 12:30; a 20-minute task started at 12:20 ends at 12:40, ten minutes too late. 趁 doesn't make the task fit.

Watch out

- Once the chance has passed (the food is cold), 趁热吃吧 no longer fits.
- 趁 usually comes before the verb phrase (wrong: 吃趁热).

趁: use the chance before it's gone



3. 为 + Person (for someone's sake)

Form: subject + 为 (wèi) + person + action

- 我们为大家服务。 Wǒmen wèi dàjiā fúwù. – We serve everyone.
- 我为朋友准备了晚饭。 – I made dinner for my friend.
- 我为你高兴。 – I'm happy for you.

How it works. 为 wèi names the person an action is meant to benefit, and it goes before the verb (wrong: 我服务为大家). The doer and the person served are different roles. With feelings, 为 names whose situation causes the feeling: 我为你高兴, 别为我担心.

为 + person	为了 + goal
为朋友准备晚饭	为了早点到，我坐了地铁
for someone's benefit	in order to

The two overlap in some formal uses (为人民服务, 为健康运动), so learn whole phrases.

Watch out

- Purpose isn't success: 我为朋友准备了晚饭，但朋友没来.

4. 凭 (on the basis of / by)

Form: 凭 + ticket / resource / basis + action

- 凭票入场。 Píng piào rùchǎng. – Admission by ticket only.
- 凭努力，他成功了。 – He succeeded through hard work.
- 凭经验，他觉得这台机器没问题。 – Going by experience, he thought the machine was fine.
- 你凭什么决定? – What gives you the right to decide?

How it works. 凭 píng names what an action rests on: a document you show, a resource or ability you rely on, or grounds for a judgement. On notices it is formal and brief (凭票入场, 凭身份证领取). 凭什么 asks for someone's grounds and usually sounds like a challenge.

Read the whole notice. 凭当天有效票入场 needs a ticket valid that day; an old ticket doesn't qualify.

Watch out

- A basis isn't proof: 凭经验 is not a measured safety check.
- One success (凭努力，他成功了) doesn't promise that effort always succeeds.

5. 给 (colloquial passive)

Form: affected thing + 给 + (doer) + verb + result

- 杯子给打破了。 Bēizi gěi dǎpò le. – The cup got broken.
- 杯子给小李打破了。 – The cup got broken by Xiao Li.
- 门给关上了。 – The door got shut.

How it works. In speech, 给 can work like 被: the affected thing comes first, and a doer may follow 给 or be left out. It usually reports something that happened to the thing, often unwelcome. The verb needs a result or 了 (打破了, 关上了).

小李打破了杯子	杯子给小李打破了	杯子给打破了
doer first	cup first, doer named	cup first, no doer

Watch out

- No doer named means unknown, not "the speaker" and not "on purpose".
- 给 has other jobs: 我给他一个杯子 (give), 我给他打电话 (to / for). Decide from the whole sentence.
- In formal writing use 被.

6. 作为 (as, in the role of)

Form: 作为 + role，subject + … · 把 A 作为 B

- 作为学生，我们应该努力学习。 Zuòwéi xuésheng, wǒmen yīnggāi nǔlì xuéxí. – As students, we should study hard.
- 作为你的朋友，我得告诉你实话。 – As your friend, I have to tell you the truth.
- 我们把这本书作为课本。 – We use this book as the textbook.

How it works. 作为 + role names the role the subject speaks or acts in; the role must match the subject after the comma. As a verb, 作为 = serve as. Everyday: 把 A 当作 / 当成 B.

作为老师	作为例子	把我当成朋友
as a teacher	as an example	treat me as a friend

Watch out

- wrong: 作为老师，学生都喜欢他 → 他是老师，学生都喜欢他.

7. 对 … 而言 (as far as … is concerned)

Form: 对 + person / group + 而言，comment

- 对我而言，这很重要。 Duì wǒ ér yán, zhè hěn zhòngyào. – For me, this is important.

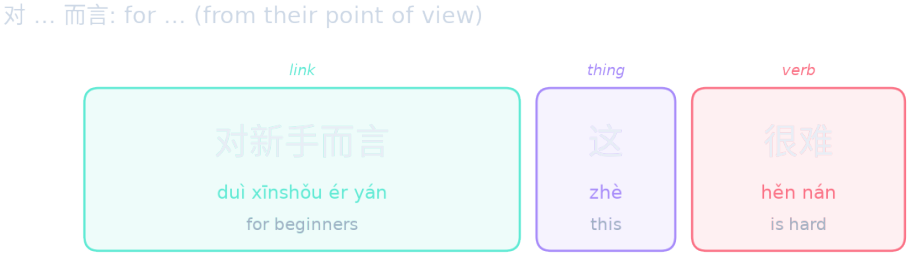
- 对新手而言，这很难；对熟练的人而言，这很容易。 – For beginners it's hard; for experienced people it's easy.
- 对住得远的学生而言，这不方便。 – For students who live far away, this is inconvenient.

How it works. 对 …… 而言 duì … ér yán names whose point of view the comment takes. It is the formal twin of 对 …… 来说. Different groups can judge the same thing differently without contradiction.

对学生而言，这个安排很方便	学生说这个安排很方便
a judgement from students' angle	reports what students said

Watch out

- Keep the group in your paraphrase: "important to me", not "important for everyone".
- A comment on one group says nothing about another: 对住得远的学生而言 is not about students living nearby.



8. 就 … 来说 (as far as … goes)

Form: 就 + aspect + 来说，comment

- 就价格来说，不贵。 Jiù jiàgé lái shuō, bú guì. – Price-wise, it isn't expensive.
- 就质量来说，还需要检查。 – As for quality, it still needs checking.
- 就交通来说，这里很方便。 – In terms of transport, this place is very convenient.

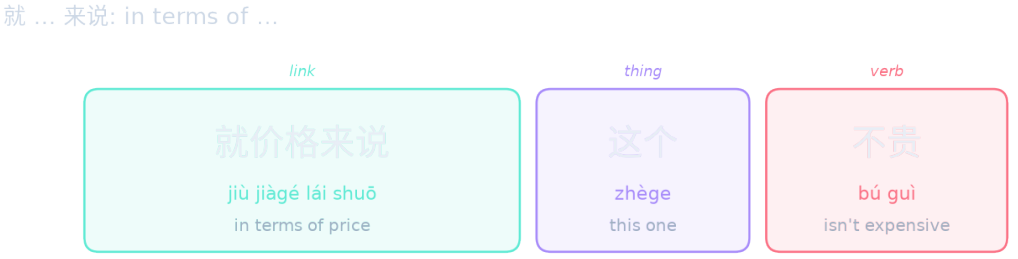
How it works. 就 …… 来说 limits the comment to one aspect of the topic. Other aspects need their own comments. For example, for one item: price, not expensive; quality, not tested; delivery, a week. A decision combines them all.

就价格来说	对我而言 / 对我来说
frames an aspect of the thing	frames a person's viewpoint
不贵 (for this kind of product)	还是太贵 (for my budget)

Both comments can be true together.

Watch out

- This 就 is part of the frame; it is not "then / at once" as in 我吃完饭就走.



9. … 在内 (including)

Form: 包括 + member(s) + 在内, whole / total

- 包括我在内，一共五个人。 Bāokuò wǒ zàinèi, yígòng wǔ gè rén. – Five people in all, including me.
- 包括两位老师在内，一共八个人。 – Eight people in all, including two teachers.
- 包括周末在内，每天都开放。 – It's open every day, weekends included.

How it works. The named member sits between 包括 and 在内, and is already inside the total. Count each person once.

Sentence	Total	Others
包括我在内，一共五个人	5	4
除了我，还有五个人	6	5
包括两位老师在内，一共八个人	8	6

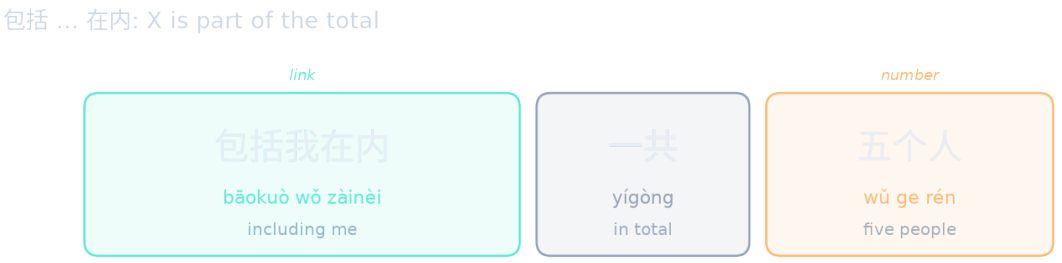
- 在内 means included (wrong: left out); for leaving out, use 除了 … 以外.
- Inclusion tells you what belongs to the set, not other facts: 每天都开放 gives no opening hours.



10. 至于 (as for / when it comes to)

Form: (earlier topic …)，至于 + new topic，comment

- 质量没问题。至于价格，以后再说。 Zhìyú jiàgé, yǐhòu zài shuō. – The quality is fine. As for the price, we'll talk about it later.
- 至于送货时间，明天确认。 – As for delivery, we'll confirm the time tomorrow.
- 至于谁来负责，我们还没决定。 – As for who will be in charge, we haven't decided.

How it works. 至于 zhìyú turns to a related, separate topic, often after one point is settled. The comment then says what state that topic is in: postponed, undecided or settled. Raising a topic doesn't settle it, and no price or person is decided above.

至于价格，……	不至于这么贵吧
as for the price …	it surely isn't that expensive

Watch out

- 不至于 "not so bad as to" is a separate expression; don't translate it "as for".
- 明天确认送货时间 confirms the time tomorrow; delivery itself may be later.

至于: as for (the next topic)

Sentence patterns – focus & existence

HSK 5

Four patterns that focus on one point. 要不是 imagines the opposite of what happened ("if it weren't for"); 多亏 thanks someone for a good result; …… 而已 makes something small ("that's all"); and 将 is a formal 把 used in writing.

At a glance

- 1. 要不是 – if it weren't for: 要不是你，我就迷路了。
- 2. 多亏 – thanks to / luckily: 多亏了你，我才找到。
- 3. … 而已 – that's all / nothing more: 我只是开玩笑而已。
- 4. 将 – a formal 把: 请将手机调成静音。

1. 要不是 (if it weren't for)

Form: 要不是 + person / event (的话)，(subject) + 就 + imagined result + 了

- 要不是你，我就迷路了。 Yàobúshì nǐ, wǒ jiù mílù le. – If it weren't for you, I'd have got lost.
- 要不是你提醒，我可能就迟到了。 – Without your reminder, I might have been late.
- 要不是下雨，我们就去爬山了。 – If it weren't for the rain, we'd have gone hiking.

How it works. 要不是 yàobúshì names something that really happened (your help, the rain) and imagines the result without it. The result clause is unreal: in the first example, nobody got lost. 可能 softens the imagined result.

要不是你提醒，我就迟到了	多亏你提醒，我才没迟到
imagines the bad alternative	credits the real good result

Watch out

- To report a real event, just state it: 我迷路了.
- 要不是 ≠ 要不 (how about …) and ≠ 要不然 (otherwise).

2. 多亏 (thanks to / luckily)

Form: 多亏 (了) + helper / event, (subject) + (才) + good result

- 多亏了你，我才找到。 Duōkuī le nǐ, wǒ cái zhǎodào. – Thanks to you, I found it.
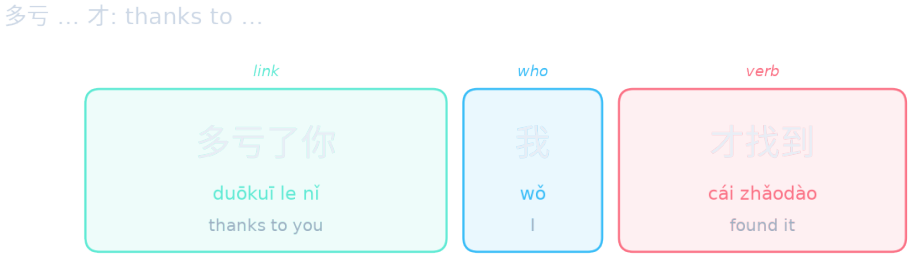
- 多亏你提醒，我才没迟到。 – Thanks to your reminder, I wasn't late.
- 多亏你提醒，我带了伞。 – Good thing you reminded me; I brought an umbrella.

How it works. 多亏 duōkuī credits help or luck for a good result: thanks to …, luckily. 才 is common and stresses that the result depended on it; it is not required. The good result can be avoiding something bad (没迟到).

多亏	要不是
states the real good result	imagines the bad result without it

Watch out

- Thanks to one helper doesn't mean nobody else helped.
- The result clause must match what happened: if the bag is still missing, 我才找到 is wrong.
- In ordinary sincere use 多亏 is thanks, not blame (an ironic tone can reverse it).



3. … 而已 (that's all / nothing more)

Form: (只是 / 不过 / 只) + statement + 而已

- 我只是开玩笑而已。 Wǒ zhǐshì kāi wánxiào éryǐ. – I was only joking, that's all.
- 我只看了两页而已。 – I've only read two pages.
- 两千元而已。 – It's only two thousand yuan.

How it works. 而已 éryǐ closes a statement with "and nothing more", playing down an amount, role or intention. It often pairs with 只是, 不过 or 只 earlier in the sentence. It is slightly formal or emphatic; 罢了 is similar.

What is played down	Example an intention	只是开玩笑而已
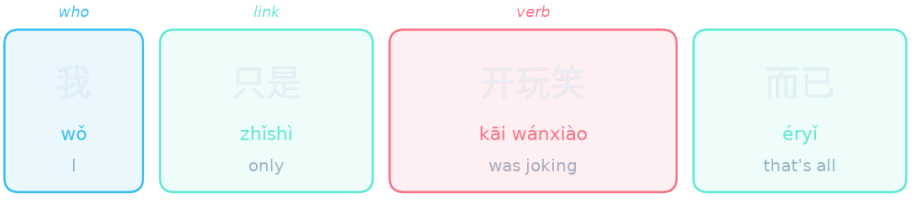
an amount	只看了两页而已
a role	只是提供建议而已

Watch out

- 而已 shows the speaker's attitude, not the facts: 两千元 may still be a lot for you, and 只等了四分钟 is still longer than a three-minute deadline.
- "Only joking" doesn't mean the listener wasn't hurt.

只是 … 而已: only …, that's all



4. 将 (a formal 把)

Form: (请) + 将 + object + verb + result / place

- 请将门关上。 Qǐng jiāng mén guānshang. – Please close the door.
- 请将文件放在桌上。 – Please put the documents on the table.
- 请不要将旧文件删除。 – Please don't delete the old files.

How it works. 将 jiāng is the written, formal form of 把: it brings the object before the verb, and the verb needs a result or destination (关上, 放在桌上). It is typical of notices, instructions and news. The negative goes before 将 (请不要将 ……).

请将门关上	会议将在明天举行	门被关上了
= 把: object marker	"will": future (formal)	passive report

Watch out

- Decide 将's job from what follows: an object then a verb means 把-like; a verb right after 将 means "will".
- An instruction is a request, not a report that it was done.

将 = 把 in writing

1. 不像 ... 那么 ... (not as ... as)

Form: A + 不像 + B + 那么 / 这么 + adjective

- 我不像他那么高。 Wǒ bú xiàng tā nàme gāo. – I'm not as tall as him.
- 这杯茶不像那杯那么热。 – This tea isn't as hot as that one.
- 今年冬天不像去年这么冷。 – This winter isn't as cold as last.

How it works. B is the standard, and A doesn't reach B's degree of the adjective. 那么 points to something further away, 这么 to something close or present. The pattern gives no number: 170 cm vs 180 cm makes a 10 cm gap, which comes from the measurements.

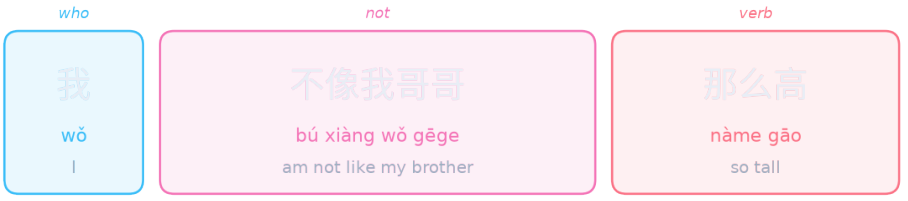
Follow the adjective. 我不像他那么高 means I'm shorter; 我不像他那么矮 means I'm taller. 我不像他 alone says "I'm not like him", and names no quality.

我不像他那么高	我没有他高	他比我高
not as tall as him	not as tall as him (most common)	he's taller

Watch out

- The comparison covers one quality only, not speed, grades or character.

A 不像 B 那么 …: A is not as … as B



2. 比起 … 来 (compared with)

Form: 比起 + B (+ 来)，A + comment

- 比起去年，今年好多了。 Bǐqǐ qùnián, jīnnián hǎo duō le. – Compared with last year, this year is much better.
- 比起去年，今年提高了十五分。 – Compared with last year, this year's score rose by 15 points.
- 比起开车，我更喜欢坐地铁。 – I'd rather take the metro than drive.

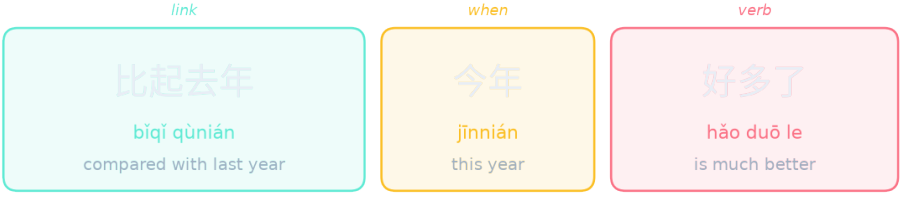
How it works. 比起 bǐqǐ introduces the baseline B first; the comment then evaluates A against it. 来 is optional (比起去年来). The comment sets the direction: 好多了, 低十五分 and 更喜欢 are all possible.

Numbers come from data. With 60 last year and 75 this year: 比起去年，今年提高了十五分; or, swapping the baseline, 比起今年，去年低十五分. 好多了 alone gives no number.

Watch out

- 比起 doesn't mean "better"; read the comment.
- A preference (更喜欢坐地铁) is not a claim that it's cheaper or faster.

比起 B，A …: compared with B, A is …



3. A 不如 B (not as good as)

Form: A + 不如 + B (+ adjective) · 不如 + action + 吧 (might as well)

- 这个不如那个好。 Zhège bùrú nàge hǎo. – This one isn't as good as that one.
- 这家店不如那家店便宜。 – This shop isn't as cheap as that one.
- 车太慢了，不如走路吧。 – The bus is so slow, we might as well walk.
- 不如在家做饭吧。 – Why don't we just cook at home?

How it works. In a comparison, A falls short of B. With no adjective, the comparison means "not as good" (我的中文不如他). As a suggestion, 不如 + action proposes a better option than the current plan, often with 吧.

不如走路吧	还是走路吧	要不走路吧
might as well walk (better than this)	had better walk (after weighing)	how about walking

Watch out

- The comparison names one quality only: cheaper isn't better service.
- A suggestion can be refused: 我太累了，还是等车吧.

4. Verb + 什么 (a rebuke)

Form: verb + 什么 (+ verb)! (a rebuke) · 你 + verb/adj + 什么?

- 看什么看！ Kàn shénme kàn! – What are you staring at?!
- 笑什么笑！ – What's so funny?!
- 你急什么？时间还早。 – What's the hurry? There's plenty of time.

How it works. In speech, verb + 什么 can object to an action instead of asking for information: stop doing that, or there's no need. The repeated form (看什么看) is sharp and rude. 你急什么 can be gentle reassurance; tone and situation decide.

Rebuke	Real question
看什么看！	你想看什么？(what to watch)
笑什么笑！	你在笑什么？(asking why)

Watch out

- Not every verb + 什么 is a rebuke; to ask for information, add an object or 想 / 在 (你想看什么书？).
- The repeated rebuke is impolite: don't use it with teachers or strangers.

5. Noun / Adj + 化 (-ize / -ify)

Form: adjective / noun + 化 → "make … / become …" (-ize, -ify)

- 流程简化了。 Liúchéng jiǎnhuà le. – The process has been simplified.
- 我们要美化环境。 – We want to make the surroundings more attractive.
- 这个城市现代化了。 – The city has modernised.

How it works. 化 huà turns a quality or noun into a change: 简 simple → 简化 simplify; 美 beautiful → 美化 beautify; 现代 modern → 现代化 modernise. The words can be verbs (简化流程) or nouns (实现现代化). Learn the established words; don't add 化 to any adjective (wrong: 好化, wrong: 高化).

Word	Meaning	Common phrase
简化	simplify	简化手续
美化	beautify	美化校园
现代化	modernise	农业现代化
国际化	internationalise	国际化的学校

Watch out

- A change word says what kind of change, not how much: six steps to four removes 2 steps, and the minutes saved need data.

6. 算 + Adj + 的 (counts as / considered)

Form: subject + (在 group 里) + 算 + adjective (+ 的)

- 他在班里算高的。 Tā zài bān li suàn gāo de. – He counts as tall in his class.
- 这算便宜。 – That's considered cheap.
- 今天算比较暖和的。 – Today is fairly warm, by comparison.

How it works. 算 suàn places something in a category by a judgement: it "counts as" tall or cheap compared with a reference group or standard. 算 + adjective + 的 is the common spoken form; 算 + adjective alone also works. 算是 is similar.

A category is not first place. In a class of 168, 175 and 182 cm, both 175 and 182 can 算高的; only 182 is 最高. In a basketball team, the same student might not count as tall; his height hasn't changed, the reference has.

这算便宜	算一下三加二
judged as cheap	calculate (算 = count)

Watch out

- 算高的 is not 最高.

Auxiliary verbs

HSK 5

将, 将要 and 将会 are the formal future: "will, is going to". You will meet them in news, notices and speeches: 会议将在明天举行. In conversation, use 会 or 要 instead.

将 / 将要 / 将会 (formal future)

Form: subject + 将 / 将要 / 将会 + (time) + verb phrase

- 会议将在明天举行。 Huìyì jiāng zài míngtiān jǔxíng. – The meeting will be held tomorrow.
- 学校将会公布结果。 Xuéxiào jiāng huì gōngbù jiéguǒ. – The school will announce the results.
- 新图书馆将要开放。 Xīn túshūguǎn jiāngyào kāifàng. – The new library is about to open.

- 这项新规定将从下个月开始实行。 Zhè xiàng xīn guīdìng jiāng cóng xià ge yuè kāishǐ shíxíng. – This new rule will take effect from next month.

How it works. 将 jiāng is the formal "will" of notices, news, announcements and speeches. It goes after the subject and before the time phrase or verb, and often meets the formal 于 ("at, on"): 将于周五举行. 将要 suggests something coming soon ("is about to"); 将会 stresses that it is expected to happen. All three describe a plan or forecast, so the event has not happened yet.

In conversation the same idea is 要 or 会: 我们明天要开会, 明天会下雨. Using 将 with friends sounds like reading the news. You also meet a different 将 in writing, where it means 把 and an object follows it: 请将门关上 = 请把门关上.

会议将在明天举行。	请将门关上。	会议已经举行了。
future "will" (a verb or time follows)	= 把 (an object follows)	already held formal notice	formal instruction	a report of the past

Watch out

- An announcement is a plan, not a report: 系统将于周五更新 means the update has not happened yet.
- 将 goes after the subject: wrong: 将会议在明天举行 → 会议将在明天举行.

exercises.lol exercises.com.cn

- Do not add 了 to a 将 sentence about the future: wrong: 比赛将开始了 → 比赛将开始 (or spoken 比赛要开始了).

Verb phrases

HSK 5

Two verb patterns about things that happen to you. 难免 says something is hard to avoid (第一次难免紧张); 受 means "receive" or "be affected by" (受欢迎, 受影响). Both describe a result you do not fully control.

At a glance

- 1. 难免 – hard to avoid / bound to: 新手难免出错。
- 2. 受 – receive / be affected: 李老师很受欢迎。

1. 难免 (hard to avoid / bound to)

Form: (situation，) (subject) + 难免 + (会) + result

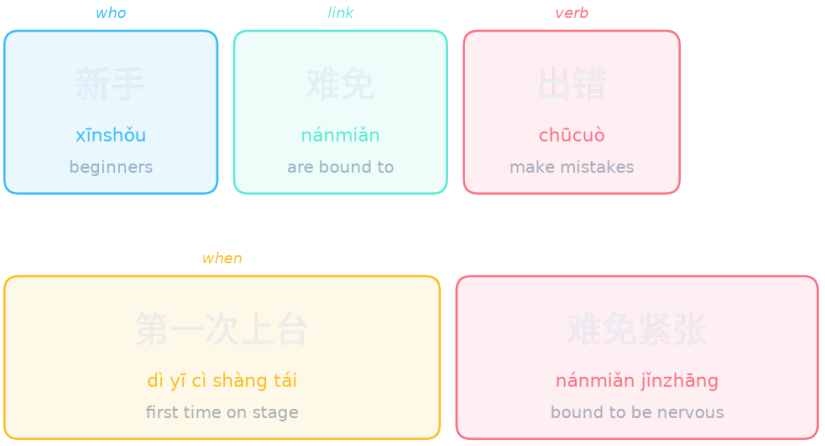
- 新手难免出错。Xīnshǒu nánmiǎn chūcuò.* – Beginners are bound to make mistakes.
- 第一次上台，难免紧张。 – Your first time on stage, it's natural to be nervous.
- 路上车很多，难免会晚一点。 – With so much traffic, we'll inevitably be a bit late.

How it works. 难免 nánmiǎn says that, in the circumstances, a (usually unwelcome) result is hard to avoid. Often it reassures or excuses, and the situation supplies the reason (第一次, 车很多). It gives no number: if 3 of 12 beginners make a mistake, 9 didn't.

Watch out

- "Hard to avoid" doesn't mean "leave it": 新手难免出错，请检查并改正.
- The reason belongs to its situation: a quiet route needs its own judgement.
- 难免 is not 一定 "certainly": 难免紧张 doesn't predict that everyone will be nervous.

难免: bound to happen



2. 受 (receive / be affected)

Form: subject + (很) + 受 + 欢迎 / 影响 / 伤 … · A + 受 + B + 欢迎 / 影响

- 这位老师很受欢迎。 Zhè wèi lǎoshī hěn shòu huānyíng. – This teacher is very popular.
- 比赛受天气影响。 – The match was affected by the weather.
- 他受伤了。 – He got hurt.

How it works. 受 shòu "receive, undergo": the subject is on the receiving end, and the result can be good or bad. The source can sit between 受 and the noun: 老师受学生欢迎 (students welcome the teacher). Learn the fixed phrases; 受 can't replace 被 before any verb.

Phrase	Meaning
受欢迎	popular, well received
受影响	be affected
受伤	be injured
受到批评 / 表扬	be criticised / praised

Watch out

- 受天气影响 says the match was affected, not that it was cancelled.
- 受伤 names no cause or attacker. If 3 of 8 players were injured, 5 weren't reported injured.

受: receive, be affected by

”But” statements

HSK 5

反而 means “instead, on the contrary”: the result is the opposite of what you would expect. It goes before the verb, and often follows 不但不/没: 他不但没生气，反而笑了.

反而 (on the contrary / instead)

Form: subject + 反而 + predicate · (subject) 不但不 / 没 ……，反而 ……

- 我解释了半天，他反而更糊涂了。 Wǒ jiěshìle bàntiān, tā fǎn'ér gèng hútu le. – I explained for ages, and he only got more confused.
- 他不但没生气，反而笑了。 Tā búdàn méi shēngqì, fǎn'ér xiào le. – Far from getting angry, he actually laughed.
- 吃了药，病反而更重了。 Chīle yào, bìng fǎn'ér gèng zhòng le. – After taking the medicine, the illness actually got worse.
- 雨不但没停，反而越下越大。 Yǔ búdàn méi tíng, fǎn'ér yuè xià yuè dà. – Far from stopping, the rain got heavier and heavier.
- 我以为坐出租车会快一点儿，没想到反而更慢了。 Wǒ yǐwéi zuò chūzūchē huì kuài yìdiǎnr, méi xiǎngdào fǎn'ér gèng màn le. – I thought a taxi would be quicker, but it turned out even slower.
- 老师批评了他，他反而更努力了。 Lǎoshī pīpíngle tā, tā fǎn'ér gèng nǔlì le. – The teacher criticised him, and instead of giving up he worked even harder.

How it works. 反而 fǎn'ér “instead, on the contrary” marks a result that goes against what was expected or intended. The expectation comes first, either stated (我以为 ……) or obvious from the situation: explaining should help, medicine should cure, a taxi should be faster. Then 反而 introduces the surprising opposite.

With 不但不 / 不但没, the first half rules out the expected reaction and the second half gives the opposite: 他不但没生气，反而笑了. 更 often follows 反而, because the result is “even more” of the unexpected thing.

反而	但是 / 却	相反
goes against an expectation; adverb after the subject	a plain contrast between two facts	“on the contrary”; can start a sentence
我解释了，他反而更糊涂了。	他很聪明， 但是不努力。	他没生气，相反， 他很高兴。

Watch out

- 反而 is an adverb, so it goes after the subject: wrong: 反而他笑了 → 他反而笑了.
- It needs an expectation to go against; a plain contrast takes 可是 or 但是: wrong: 我很累，反而我去打球了 → 我很累，可是还是去打球了.

- Pair 不但 with 没 / 不 here, not with 而且: wrong: 他不但没生气，而且笑了 → 他不但没生气，反而笑了.

In a passage

> 为了减肥，小张每天只吃一顿饭。可是一个月以后，他不但没瘦，反而胖了两公斤。医生告诉他，饿得太厉害，晚上反而容易吃得更多。后来他改成按时吃饭、多运动，体重才慢慢降下来。

”Even if” statements

HSK 5

Three ways to say “even if”, all followed by 也. 就是 and 就算 are spoken; 哪怕 stresses an extreme or unlikely case: 哪怕只有一分钟，我也要试试. The first half is something that might happen; the second says the result will not change.

At a glance

- 1. 就是 … ，也 … – even if: 就是下雨，我也去。
- 2. 就算 … ，也 … – even if: 就算输了，也值得。
- 3. 哪怕 … ，也 … – even if: 哪怕只有五分钟，我也要练。

1. 就是 … ，也 … (even if)

Form: 就是 + possible case，subject + 也 + decision

- 就是下雨，我也去。 Jiùshì xià yǔ, wǒ yě qù. – Even if it rains, I’m going.
- 就是再忙，他也每天给家里打电话。 – However busy he is, he calls home every day.
- 就是你不说，我也知道。 – Even if you don’t tell me, I know.

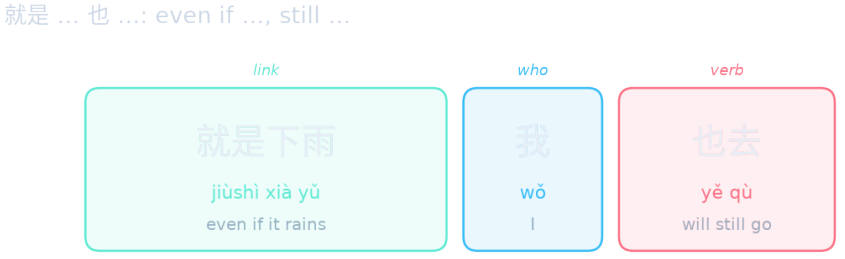
How it works. In this spoken pattern, 就是 “even if” grants a case and 也 keeps the decision anyway. It is more colloquial than 即使.

就是下雨，我也去	假如下雨，我就不去	这就是我的书
even if: the plan survives	if: the plan changes	“exactly is” (identifies)

Watch out

- Read both clauses: 就是 alone doesn’t mean “even if”, and 也 is what shows the concession.
- The sentence states an intention; rain isn’t confirmed, and the speaker hasn’t arrived yet.



2. 就算 … ，也 … (even if)

Form: 就算 + granted case，(subject) + 也 + conclusion

- 就算失败，也值得。 Jiùsuàn shībài, yě zhídé. – Even if it fails, it's worth it.
- 就算这个办法便宜，也不一定适合我们。 – Even if this method is cheap, it may not suit us.
- 就算你不同意，我也要试试。 – Even if you don't agree, I'm going to try.

How it works. 就算 jiùsuàn is a spoken "even if / even granted that". It grants a point (imagined, or already known) and keeps the conclusion. The granted point can be good news as well as bad: 就算便宜 grants the low price, then questions whether that is enough.

Spoken	Neutral / written
就是 …… 也 · 就算 …… 也	即使 …… 也 · 哪怕 …… 也

Watch out

- 就算失败 doesn't say it will fail.
- One view doesn't override other rules: 也值得 doesn't permit breaking an agreed budget.

3. 哪怕 … ，也 … (even if)

Form: 哪怕 + extreme / minimal case，(subject) + 也 + conclusion

- 哪怕再难，我也要学。 Nǎpà zài nán, wǒ yě yào xué. – However hard it is, I'm going to learn it.
- 哪怕只有五分钟，我也要练习。 – Even if I only have five minutes, I'll practise.
- 哪怕只有一点希望，我们也要试一试。 – Even with only a little hope, we must give it a try.

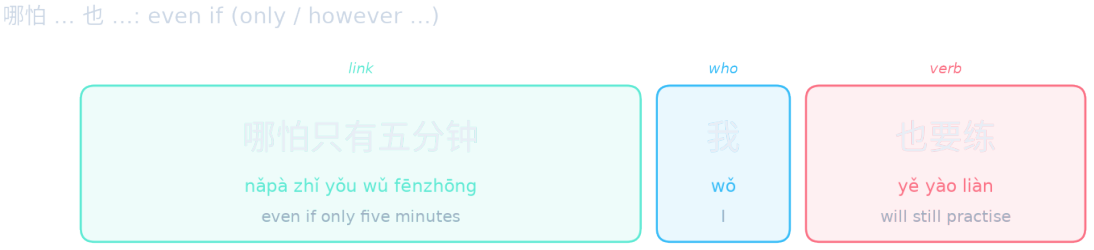
How it works. 哪怕 nǎpà pushes the case to an extreme (再难 "however hard") or a minimum (只有五分钟, 一点希望). The conclusion holds anyway, and it often expresses strong determination. 再 + adjective here means "however …", not "again".

Follow the conclusion. 也 doesn't make it positive: 哪怕有空，我也不去 means I won't go, even with free time.

Case conceded	Example
extreme difficulty	哪怕再难
tiny amount	哪怕只有五分钟
a little hope	哪怕只有一点希望 (not "no hope")

Watch out

- An intention isn't success: 我也要学 doesn't say it's been mastered.



Practice

”If” statements

HSK 5

Three ways to talk about possibilities. 假如 …… 就 …… is a formal “supposing”; 万一 is for an unlikely, unwelcome event (“what if …?”); and clause + 的话 adds “if” to any condition and often follows 如果 or 要是.

At a glance

- 1. 假如 … ，就 … – if / supposing: 假如有机会，我就去南极看看。
- 2. 万一 … 怎么办? – what if: 万一下雨怎么办?
- 3. Clause + 的话 – if / conditional frame: 你去的话，叫我一声。

Form: 假如 + condition，(subject) + 就 + response

- 假如明天有空，我们就去参观。 – If we’re free tomorrow, we’ll go on the visit.
- 假如你有空，我们一起去吧。 – If you’re free, let’s go together.

How it works. 假如 jiǎrú “if, supposing” is a slightly more written 如果. 就 often introduces the response but is not required. The condition is supposed, not reported: no place has been offered yet.

假如下雨，我就不去	就是下雨，我也去
if: rain changes the plan	even if: the plan stays

Watch out

- A condition isn’t the only possible reason: 假如下雨，我就不去 doesn’t rule out others.

- 万一下雨，我们就去室内活动。 – If it does rain, we'll do something indoors.
- 万一我晚到了，你先进去吧。 – In case I'm late, go in first.

How it works. 万一 wànyī (literally "one in ten thousand") raises an unlikely but unwelcome possibility so you can prepare. With 怎么办 it asks for a backup plan; with a second clause it gives one. It is not a real probability.

万一	如果 / 假如
unlikely and unwanted case: "in case", "what if"	neutral "if"

Adverbs with adjectives

HSK 5

格外 means "especially, unusually": it says something is more than usual in this situation. It goes before an adjective: 今天的月亮格外圆. It is more formal than 特别.

格外 (especially / exceptionally)

Form: 格外 + adjective / feeling verb

- 今晚的月亮格外圆，格外亮。 Jīnwǎn de yuèliang géwài yuán, géwài liàng. – Tonight the moon is especially round and bright.
- 第一次离开家，他格外想念妈妈。 Dì-yī cì líkāi jiā, tā géwài xiǎngniàn māma. – Away from home for the first time, he especially missed his mum.
- 下雪了，开车要格外小心。 Xià xuě le, kāichē yào géwài xiǎoxīn. – It's snowing, so drive extra carefully.
- 雨后的空气格外清新。 Yǔ hòu de kōngqì géwài qīngxīn. – The air after rain is especially fresh.
- 节日里，街上显得格外热闹。 Jiérì li, jiē shang xiǎnde géwài rènao. – During the festival, the streets look especially lively.
- 听到这个好消息，大家格外高兴。 Tīngdào zhège hǎo xiāoxi, dàjiā géwài gāoxìng. – Hearing the good news, everyone was especially happy.

How it works. 格外 géwài means "especially, unusually, more than usual". It always carries a comparison, even when it is not said: compared with other nights (今晚的月亮格外圆), with normal times (节日里格外热闹), or because of the situation (下雪了 → 格外小心). The first clause often gives that reason or time.

很 / 非常	特别	格外
very; no comparison needed	especially / very; everyday	more than usual; a comparison is implied
天气很好。	今天特别冷。	雪后的早晨格外安静。

Watch out

- Do not stack degree words: wrong: 格外很高兴 → 格外高兴.
- 格外 is an adverb only, never an adjective before a noun: wrong: 他是格外的人 → 他是一个很特别的人.
- Without any reason or contrast it sounds odd: wrong: 我格外是学生. Use it to describe a quality that stands out at a particular time.

Answers and explanations

How it works. In 因为 …… 所以 …… the cause comes first. 之所以 …… 是因为 …… turns this round: the result, which everyone already knows, comes first after 之所以 zhīsuǒyǐ, and the explanation follows with 是因为. The focus falls on the reason, so it answers an implied "why?".

That makes it ideal for essays, presentations and interview answers: name the fact (我之所以选择这个专业), then give your reasons, even several of them (一是因为 ……，二是因为 ……). 之所以 goes after the subject.

因为 A，所以 B	B 之所以 ……，是因为 A cause → result; everyday	known result → its cause; explaining, formal
因为路上堵车，所以他迟到了。	他之所以迟到，是因为路上堵车。

Complements

HSK 5

Complements finish the meaning of a verb. Some show degree (得要命, 坏了), some ability (得了/不了), some a result (住, 开, 出来, 着, 到), and Verb + 来 + Verb + 去 shows an action going back and forth. Ask each time: does it say how much, whether you can, or how it ended?

At a glance

- 1. Advanced degree complements – 得 + 很 / 要命 …: 我累得要命，什么都不想做了。
- 2. Verb / Adj + 坏了 – broken / to an extreme: 今天可把我累坏了!
- 3. Verb + 得了 / 不了 – can / can't manage: 这么多菜，我们吃不了。
- 4. Result complements 住 / 开 / 出来: 抓住把手，别松开!
- 5. Verb + 着 (zháo) – managed to / succeeded: 我两点才睡着。
- 6. Verb + 到 – succeed in reaching: 我买到票了!
- 7. Verb + 来 + Verb + 去 – back and forth: 它在客厅里走来走去。

1. Advanced degree complements (得 + 很 / 要命 ...)

Form: adjective / feeling + 得 + 很 / 要命 / 不行 / 不得了

- 我累得要命，什么都不想做了。 Wǒ lèi de yàomìng. – I'm dead tired; I don't feel like doing anything.
- 这里安静得很。 – It's really quiet here.
- 我饿得不行了。 – I'm starving.
- 听到消息，她高兴得不得了。 – She was overjoyed at the news.

How it works. These complements come after the adjective with 得 and push it to a high degree. They are spoken and expressive.

Complement	Feel	Example
得很	emphatic, mild	好得很
得要命	very strong, usually a complaint	疼得要命
得不行	can hardly bear it	困得不行
得不得了	extreme, good or bad	高兴得不得了

Watch out

- Not literal: 冷得要命 means "freezing", not dangerous.
- No degree word before the adjective: wrong: 很累得要命 → 累得要命.
- In essays, use 非常 / 十分 / 特别.

Adjective + 得要命: terribly

2. Verb / Adj + 坏了 (broken / to an extreme)

Form: action verb + 坏 (了) (broken) · feeling / state + 坏了 (terribly)

- 我的手机摔坏了。 Wǒ de shǒujī shuāihuài le. – I dropped my phone and broke it.
- 弟弟把我的眼镜弄坏了。 – My little brother broke my glasses.
- 今天可把我累坏了！ – Today completely wore me out!
- 听到这个消息，她高兴坏了。 – She was thrilled at the news.

How it works. After an action verb, 坏 is a result: the thing broke (摔坏 by dropping, 用坏 by use, 弄坏 by handling). After a feeling or state, 坏了 means "extremely" and nothing breaks: 饿坏了, 急坏了, 高兴坏了. 了 is usually needed in that sense.

电脑用坏了	我饿坏了
broken (result)	starving (degree)

Spoken frame. 可把 + person + feeling + 坏了: 可把我急坏了 "I was worried sick".

Watch out

- The broken-result sense often takes 把 with the thing damaged: 把眼镜弄坏了.

Verb / adj + 坏 了: worn out, broken

3. Verb + 得了 / 不了 (can / can't manage)

Form: verb + 得了 / 不了 (liǎo)

- 这么多菜，我们吃不了。 Wǒmen chī bu liǎo. – That's more food than we can eat.
- 这么热的天，我受不了。 – I can't stand this heat.
- 明天我有事，去不了。 – I've got something on tomorrow, so I can't go.
- 你一个人搬得了吗? – Can you move it by yourself?

How it works. 了 here is read liǎo "manage, finish". 得了 says something can be managed and 不了 that it can't: too much, too hard, or blocked by circumstances. 不了 is far more common; questions use 得了吗 or 得了 …… 不了.

吃不了	吃不完	不能吃
can't manage (too much / unable)	can't finish (some will be left)	mustn't / can't eat it

Watch out

- Not le: wrong: chī bu le → chī bu liǎo.
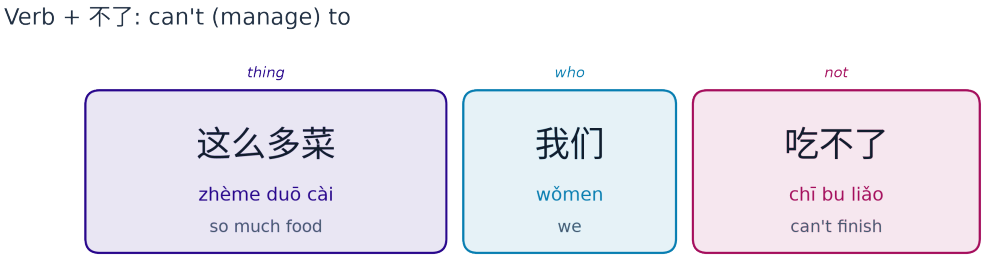
- 不了 also predicts: 他来不了 means he won't be able to come.



4. Result complements 住 / 开 / 出来

Form: verb + 住 / 开 / 出来 (result complements)

- 抓住把手，别松开! Zhuāzhù bǎshǒu, bié sōngkāi! – Hold on to the handlebars, don't let go!
- 记住我的电话号码。 – Remember my phone number.
- 我看出来他在说谎。 – I could tell he was lying.
- 他想出了一个好办法。 – He came up with a good idea.

How it works. The complement says what result the action reached.

Complement	Result	Examples
住	fixed, held, stopped	抓住 grab, 记住 remember, 站住 stop!
开	open, apart, away	打开 open, 拉开 pull open, 走开 go away
出来	out, produced, recognised	想出来 think of, 看出来 tell, 写出来 write out

Potential forms. 记不住 can't remember · 打不开 won't open · 想不出来 can't think of it. With an object, 出来 can split: 想出一个办法来.

Watch out

- 看见 means seeing with your eyes; 看出来 means working something out from clues.

5. Verb + 着 (zháo) (managed to / succeeded)

Form: verb + 着 (zháo) · verb + 不着 / 没 + verb + 着

- 我两点才睡着。 Wǒ liǎng diǎn cái shuìzháo. – I didn't fall asleep until two.
- 我太紧张了，睡不着。 – I'm too nervous to sleep.
- 我找了半天也没找着。 – I looked for ages and couldn't find it.

How it works. Read zháo, 着 after a verb means the action reached its goal: 睡着 fall asleep, 找着 find, 买着 manage to buy. The potential 睡不着 "can't get to sleep" is very common. With 找 and 买, 到 is the standard form (找到, 买到); 着 sounds colloquial and northern.

睡着 shuìzháo	睡着 *shuìzhe	睡到十点
fall asleep	in the state of sleeping (他睡着呢)	sleep until ten

Watch out

- The sentence tells you the reading: 睡不着 and 没睡着 are always zháo.

- 睡着 “fall asleep” has no 到 version.

6. Verb + 到 (succeed in reaching)

Form: verb + 到 (+ object / place / time)

- 我买到票了！ Wǒ mǎidào piào le! – I got tickets!
- 你收到我的邮件了吗? – Did you get my email?
- 他走到门口。 – He walked to the door.
- 我们聊到很晚。 – We chatted until very late.

How it works. 到 after a verb marks that the action reached its goal (a thing found, bought, received), a place or a time.

Action	Result
找 look for	找到 find
看 look	看到 / 看见 see
听 listen	听到 / 听见 hear

Forms. Negative: 没买到 (tried, didn’t get one). Potential: 买得到 / 买不到.

Watch out

- Searching isn’t finding: 我找了，可是没找到.
- Don’t negate the result with 不 for past events: wrong: 我不买到 → 我没买到.

7. Verb + 来 + Verb + 去 (back and forth)

Form: verb + 来 + same verb + 去

- 它在客厅里走来走去。 Tā zài kètīng li zǒu lái zǒu qù. – It keeps pacing back and forth in the living room.
- 孩子们在院子里跑来跑去。 – The children are running about in the yard.
- 我想来想去，还是决定不去了。 – I thought it over and over and decided not to go after all.
- 他们说来说去还是那几句话。 – They went round in circles saying the same few things.

How it works. Repeating a one-syllable verb with 来 and 去 shows movement in many directions, or doing something over and over. With thinking and talking, it suggests going round in circles before a conclusion (还是 / 最后).

走来走去	来回走	一个来回
walk about, pace	walk back and forth	a round trip

Watch out

- Use the same verb twice: wrong: 走来跑去 → 走来走去.
- It describes an activity; don't add a result complement (wrong: 走来走去完了).

- 她把房间打扫得干干净净。 – She cleaned the room spotless.
- 你应该把问题说清楚。 – You should explain the problem clearly.

How it works. 把 focuses on what happens to a specific object: it moves, changes, ends up somewhere, or reaches a result. The verb never stands alone; something must follow it.

After the verb	Example
place	放到最后 · 放在桌上 change	翻译成中文 · 变成书房
direction	送回家 · 拿出来
得 + manner	打扫得干干净净

Watch out

- Negatives and modals go before 把: wrong: 你把问题应该说清楚 → 你应该把问题说清楚; 我没把门关上.
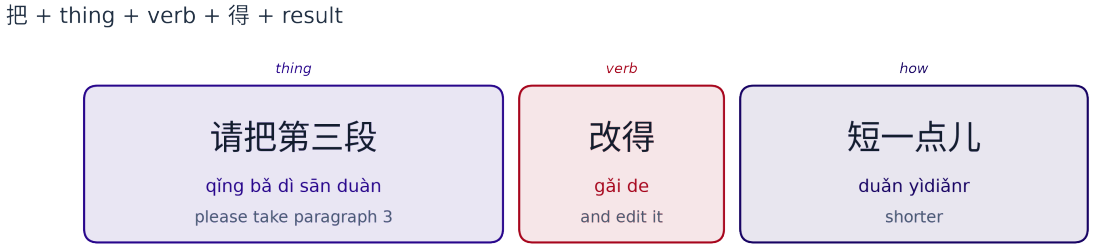
- Verbs of perceiving and feeling (看见, 知道, 喜欢) don't take 把.



2. 从 … 中 (from within)

Form: 从 + source + 中 + verb · …, (并) 从中 + verb

- 我们要从失败中吸取教训。 Wǒmen yào cóng shībài zhōng xīqǔ jiàoxùn. – We must learn lessons from failure.
- 他从工作中得到了很多经验。 – He gained a lot of experience from his work.
- 从这些方案中选一个最好的。 – Choose the best of these plans.

- 他犯了错误，并从中学到了很多。 – He made a mistake and learned a lot from it.

How it works. 从 …… 中 cóng … zhōng “from within” marks the source of something gained, learned or chosen. 中 can become 里 in speech (从书里学到). 从中 “from it / from among them” refers back to something already mentioned.

Watch out

- The phrase goes before the verb: wrong: 选一个从中 → 从中选一个.
- Keep 中 for learning “through” an experience: wrong: 从失败学习 → 从失败中学习.

3. 在 + Time + 内 (within a span)

Form: (在) + time span / place + 内 (+ verb)

- 我们保证三天内送到。 Wǒmen bǎozhèng sān tiān nèi sòngdào. – We guarantee delivery within three days.
- 护照必须在两周内办好。 – The passport must be done within two weeks.
- 在学校内不能吸烟。 – No smoking on school grounds.

How it works. 内 nèi “within” sets a limit, any time up to the end of the span, or inside a place. The phrase comes before the verb. 内 is formal (notices, rules); 之内 / 以内 are similar, and casual speech uses 三天里.

三天内	三天以后
by the end of day three (or sooner)	after three days (not before)

Watch out

- wrong: 完成在三天内 → 在三天内完成.

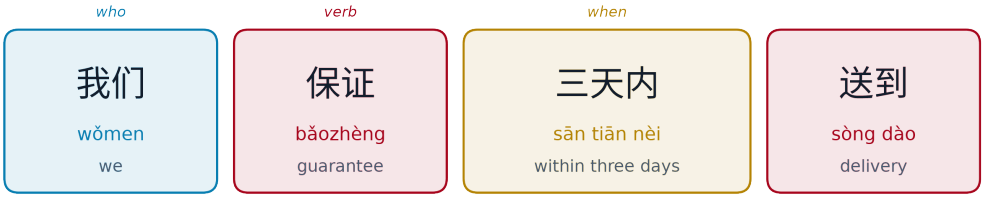
… 内: within



4. 跟 / 和 … 有关的 + Noun (related to)

Form: 跟 / 和 + X + 有关的 + noun · A + 跟 / 和 + B + 有关

- 我借了几本跟环境有关的书。 Gēn huánjìng yǒuguān de shū. – I borrowed some books related to the environment.
- 请只回答和这次考试有关的问题。 – Please only answer questions related to this exam.
- 他的病跟压力有关。 – His illness is linked to stress.
- 这件事跟他没有关系。 – This has nothing to do with him.

How it works. As a modifier, the whole 跟 X 有关 phrase + 的 goes before the noun. As a sentence, A 跟 B 有关 says A is connected to B, and the connection can be a cause. Negative: 跟 …… 无关 / 没有关系.

关于环境的书	跟环境有关的书
about (topic)	related to (any connection)

Watch out

- wrong: 书跟环境有关的 → 跟环境有关的书.
- 有关 says there is a link, not how strong: 跟压力有关 doesn't say stress is the only cause.

跟 … 有关: related to

5. N1 + 不比 + N2 + Adj (no more ... than)

Form: A + 不比 + B + adjective

- 这个牌子不比那个好。 Zhège páizi bù bǐ nàge hǎo. – This brand is no better than that one.
- 今天不比昨天冷，你别穿那么多。 – Today's no colder than yesterday; don't wear so much.
- 我的中文不比你差。 – My Chinese is no worse than yours.

How it works. A 不比 B + adjective denies that A is more [adjective] than B, usually to correct someone. It doesn't say which side is higher: A could be equal or lower.

Sentence	Means
弟弟比哥哥高	the younger brother is taller
弟弟没有哥哥高	he is shorter
弟弟不比哥哥高	he isn't taller (maybe the same)

Watch out

- 不比 ≠ 没有: use 没有 to say A clearly falls short.
- The adjective takes no 很 / 更 (wrong: 不比他更高).

6. A 等于 B (equals / amounts to)

Form: A + (就) + 等于 + B · A + 不等于 + B

- 二加三等于五。 Èr jiā sān děngyú wǔ. – Two plus three equals five.
- 你不说话就等于同意了。 – Saying nothing amounts to agreeing.
- 不复习就去考试，等于没准备。 – Sitting the exam without revising is as good as not preparing.
- 便宜不等于不好。 – Cheap doesn't mean bad.

How it works. 等于 děngyú "equals" in maths, and in argument "amounts to, is as good as". 就 before it makes the conclusion stronger. 不等于 rejects a hasty equation.

他是我的老师	沉默等于同意
是 identifies	等于: the same effect or value

Watch out

- 等于 in argument is a claim, not a fact: a listener can answer 沉默不等于同意.

7. 所谓 (the so-called ...)

Form: (person +) 所谓的 + noun · 所谓 X，就是 + definition

- 他所谓的近路，比大路还远。 Tā suǒwèi de jìnlù … – His so-called shortcut was even longer than the main road.
- 这就是你所谓的“ 很便宜 ”? – So this is what you call “very cheap”?
- 所谓“ 低碳 ”，就是减少二氧化碳排放。 – “Low-carbon” means reducing CO_2 emissions.

How it works. 所谓 suǒwèi “what is called” has two uses. With someone’s words (他所谓的 …), it is often doubtful or ironic: “so-called”. In the frame 所谓 X，就是 …, it neutrally sets up a definition, typical of essays and explanations.

这种花叫做牡丹	所谓幸福，就是 ……	他所谓的朋友
names (neutral)	defines for discussion	doubts the label

Watch out

- 你所谓的朋友 can sound sharply critical: use it with care about people.

所谓(的): so-called

8. 宁可 … ，也 … (would rather)

Form: subject + 宁可 + A，也不 + B · 宁可 A，也要 B

- 我宁可走路回家，也不坐那么挤的车。 Wǒ nìngkě zǒulù huí jiā, yě bú zuò … – I'd rather walk home than take such a crowded bus.
- 他宁可饿着，也不吃垃圾食品。 – He'd rather go hungry than eat junk food.
- 宁可少睡一点儿，也要把工作做完。 – I'll get less sleep if I have to, but the work will get done.

How it works. 宁可 nìngkě (宁 = nìng) chooses A, often a sacrifice, over B, which is even less acceptable (也不 B). Or it accepts the sacrifice A to achieve B (也要 B). 宁愿 is a close synonym.

宁可 A，也不 B	与其 A，不如 B firmly choose A (the sacrifice)	B is the better choice than A
宁可走路，也不坐挤的车	与其在家等，不如出去找

Watch out

- The second clause needs 也: wrong: 宁可走路，不坐车 → 宁可走路，也不坐车.

宁可 A，也不 B: rather A than B

9. 不是 … ，就是 … (either … or …)

Form: 不是 A，就是 B

- 这里的春天不是刮风，就是下雨。 Bú shì guā fēng, jiù shì xià yǔ. – Spring here is either windy or rainy.
- 这个时间他不是在图书馆，就是在食堂。 – At this time he's either in the library or the canteen.
- 你不是迟到，就是早退！ – You're always either late or leaving early!

How it works. 不是 A，就是 B "if not A, then B" says only these two possibilities exist. It often describes a frustrating habit, or makes a confident guess.

不是 A，就是 B	不是 A，而是 B	或者 A，或者 B either A or B	not A but B (a correction)	offers a choice
不是刮风，就是下雨	他不是老师，而是医生	或者你来，或者我去

Watch out

- Don't confuse 就是 with 而是: they mean completely different things here.

10. 一面 … ，一面 … (two things at once)

Form: subject + 一面 + action A，一面 + action B

- 他一面开车，一面跟乘客聊天。 Tā yímiàn kāichē, yímiàn gēn chéngkè liáotiān. – He chats with his passengers as he drives.
- 他一面上大学，一面打工。 – He studies at university and works part-time.
- 老师一面批评他，一面鼓励他。 – The teacher criticised him and encouraged him at the same time.

How it works. 一面 …… 一面 …… is a slightly more written 一边 …… 一边 ……: one subject does two things at the same time, in the moment or over a longer period.

一边 / 一面	一方面 …… 一方面 ……	既 …… 又 ……
two actions at once	two aspects or reasons	two qualities (既聪明又努力)

Watch out

- Use action verbs with one subject; for qualities use 既 …… 又 …….

11. 不但 …，甚至连 … 也 … (not only …, even …)

Form: 不但 A，甚至连 B 也 / 都 …

- 他不但忘了带笔，甚至连准考证也忘了。 Shènzhì lián zhǔnkǎozhèng yě wàng le. – He forgot not only his pen but even his admission ticket.
- 这个问题不但学生不懂，甚至连老师也说不清楚。 – Not only do the students not get this; even the teacher can't explain it clearly.
- 他忙得不但没吃饭，甚至连水都没喝。 – He was so busy he didn't eat, or even drink any water.

How it works. The sentence builds to a climax. A is the first point; B is the extreme, unexpected one. 甚至 "even" and 连 …… 也 / 都 together make B stand out.

不但 A，而且 B	不但 A，甚至连 B 也
adds a second point of similar weight	adds a surprising extreme

Watch out

- Order: 甚至 → 连 → B → 也 / 都 (wrong: 连甚至老师也).
- B must be stronger than A, or the climax falls flat.

不但 ...，甚至连 ...: not only ..., even ...

12. 要 + Verb + 就 + Verb (if you're going to, do it right)

Form: 要 + verb + 就 + (adverb) + same verb

- 要学就好好学。 Yào xué jiù hǎohāo xué. – If you're going to learn it, learn it properly.
- 要买就买质量好的。 – If you're buying one, buy a good one.
- 要说就说清楚。 – If you're going to say it, say it clearly.
- 要去就早点儿去。 – If you're going, go early.

How it works. This spoken pattern gives firm advice: if you're doing it at all, do it properly or now. The same verb repeats, and the second usually carries a standard (好好, 清楚, 早点儿, 好的). It can sound impatient. The idiom 三天打鱼两天晒网 describes doing things in fits and starts, the habit this advice criticises.

要去就早点儿去	想去就去
if you go, do it properly	go if you like (freedom)

Watch out

- Repeat the same verb: wrong: 要学就好好练 → 要学就好好学.

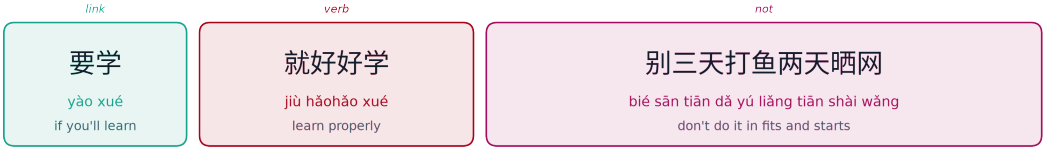
要 ...就 ...: if you're going to, then ...



13. Verb + 就 + Verb (indifference / a shrug)

Form: X + 就 + same X (+ 了 / 吧)

- 晚了就晚了，没关系。 Wǎn le jiù wǎn le, méi guānxi. – So you're late; it doesn't matter.
- 丢了就丢了，再买一个吧。 – If it's lost, it's lost; just buy another.
- 贵就贵吧，质量好就行。 – So it's expensive; as long as the quality is good.
- 去就去，谁怕谁！ – Fine, let's go. Who's scared?

How it works. Repeating the same word around 就 accepts a fact and moves on: so be it. It can sound relaxed (没关系) or defiant (谁怕谁); the next clause and the tone show which. 了 marks a fact that has happened (丢了就丢了); 吧 accepts a situation (贵就贵吧).

算了	X 就 X
forget it (general)	names the fact you accept: 输了就输了

Watch out

- Repeat exactly: wrong: 贵就便宜吧 → 贵就贵吧.

14. 少不了 (can't do without)

Form: A + 少不了 + B · 少不了 + (要) + verb

- 生日聚会少不了蛋糕。 Shēngrì jùhuì shǎobuliǎo dàngāo. – No birthday party is complete without cake.
- 过年少不了饺子。 – You can't have New Year without dumplings.
- 他是主角，少不了他。 – He's the lead; we can't do without him.
- 这么做，少不了要挨批评。 – Do it like that and you're bound to be criticised.

How it works. 少不了 shǎobuliǎo (了 = liǎo, as in 吃不了) means B can't be missing: it's essential or always there. Before a verb, it means something is bound to happen.

少不了	离不开	用不着
can't be missing	depend on (孩子离不开妈妈)	no need for

Watch out

- The essential thing follows 少不了: wrong: 蛋糕少不了生日聚会 → 生日聚会少不了蛋糕.

15. 无 ... 可 ... (have no ... to ...)

Form: 无 + noun + 可 + verb (fixed four-character phrases)

- 我已经无话可说了。 Wǒ yǐjīng wú huà kě shuō le. – I've nothing more to say.
- 下着大雨，我们无处可去。 – It was pouring and we had nowhere to go.
- 周末他无事可做。 – He had nothing to do at the weekend.

How it works. 无 X 可 V "there is no X to V" is the literary form of 没有 X 可以 V. It is compact and strong, and mostly fixed.

Phrase	Meaning
无话可说	nothing to say
无处可去	nowhere to go
无事可做	nothing to do
无家可归	homeless
无路可走	no way out

Watch out

- Nothing goes inside: wrong: 无话的可说 → 无话可说.
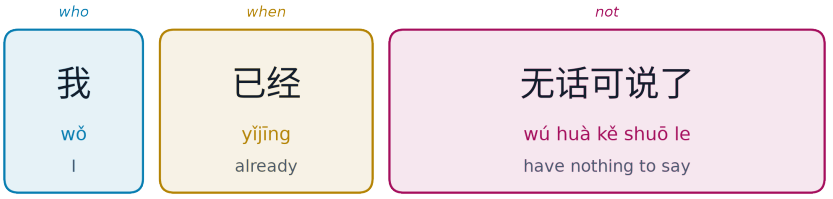
- In casual speech, 没话说 / 没地方去 sound more natural.

无 … 可 …: nothing to …



16. Action，好 + Purpose (so that)

Form: action，好 + (让 / 能) + purpose

- 你走以前留个便条，好让他知道你去哪儿了。 Hǎo ràng tā zhīdào. – Leave a note before you go, so he knows where you are.
- 把电话号码写下来，好随时联系。 – Write the number down so we can get in touch any time.
- 我早点儿睡，好明天早起。 – I'll go to bed early so I can get up early tomorrow.

How it works. In this spoken pattern, 好 hǎo starts the second clause and means "so that, to make it possible". The action comes first and the purpose second. 以便 is the formal equivalent.

为了明天早起，我早点儿睡	我早点儿睡，好明天早起
purpose first (为了)	action first, purpose after (好 / 以便)

Watch out

- This 好 isn't "good"; it only works at the start of the purpose clause, after the action.

…，好让 …: so that

常常 and 经常 both mean "often". 经常 suggests something regular or repeated over a long time and can also be an adjective (经常的事); 常常 is a plain adverb. In most everyday sentences either works; the handout shows where only one fits.

常常 vs 经常 (often / regularly)

Form: subject + (time) + 常常 / 经常 + verb

- 我经常去健身房，周末也常常去游泳。 Wǒ jīngcháng qù jiànshēnfáng, zhōumò yě chángcháng qù yóuyǒng. – I go to the gym regularly, and at weekends I often swim too.
- 他周末经常加班。 Tā zhōumò jīngcháng jiābān. – He often works overtime at weekends.
- 我不常去电影院。 Wǒ bù cháng qù diànyǐngyuàn. – I don't go to the cinema much.
- 小时候，奶奶常常给我讲故事。 Xiǎo shíhou, nǎinai chángcháng gěi wǒ jiǎng gùshi. – When I was little, my grandma often told me stories.
- 这条路经常堵车，最好早点儿出发。 Zhè tiáo lù jīngcháng dǔchē, zuìhǎo zǎo diǎnr chūfā. – This road is often jammed; you'd better set off early.
- 下雨天往往人少。 Xià yǔ tiān wǎngwǎng rén shǎo. – On rainy days there tend to be fewer people.

How it works. 常常 chángcháng and 经常 jīngcháng both mean "often" and usually swap freely: they go after the subject (and after a time word) and before the verb. 经常 suggests something regular and repeated, so it is common for habits and recurring problems (经常加班, 经常堵车); 常常 is a little more spoken and warm, common in stories about the past.

The negatives differ: say 不常 or 不经常, never 不常常. Only 经常 works as an adjective before a noun: 经常性的检查 (regular checks). 往往 wǎngwǎng looks similar but means "tends to", describing a pattern under a condition.

	常常	经常	往往
often	✓	✓	tends to, under a condition negative	不常	不经常	(rarely negated)
before a noun	–	经常性的问题	–
future plans	✓ 以后常常来	✓ 以后经常来	–
example	常常喝茶	经常喝茶	下雨天往往堵车

Watch out

- wrong: 不常常 → 不常 or 不经常.

总算 and 终于 both mean "finally". 终于 simply says the long wait is over; 总算 adds a feeling of relief, or that the result is just about acceptable: 总算及格了 (at least I passed).

总算 vs 终于 (finally)

Form: subject + 终于 / 总算 + verb (+ 了)

- 她考了四次，总算通过了！ Tā kǎole sì cì, zǒngsuàn tōngguò le! – Four attempts, and she finally passed!

- 这次考得总算还可以。 Zhè cì kǎo de zǒngsuàn hái kěyǐ. – This time the exam went more or less OK, at least.

How it works. Both words go after the subject and before the verb, and both come after a long wait or effort, often named first (考了四次, 等了一个小时, 经过三年的努力). The verb usually takes 了 because the result has now arrived.

终于 zhōngyú "at last, finally" is a neutral report: the end of a long process, and the result can be good or bad (终于病倒了). It also suits writing. 总算 zǒngsuàn adds the speaker's relief: a welcome result arrived, "thank goodness". It can also mean "at least, more or less" before an adjective: 总算还可以.

雨终于停了。	雨总算停了！	这次考得总算还可以。
a neutral report	relief: thank goodness	"at least OK, more or less"
good or bad results	welcome results only	a modest judgement

Comparing similar prepositions: 跟 vs 对

HSK 5

跟 and 对 are both prepositions before a person, but they do different jobs. 跟 means "with" (doing something together, or talking with someone); 对 means "towards" (the person an attitude or action is aimed at): 跟他说 / 对他很好.

跟 vs 对 (with vs toward)

Form: 跟 + person + verb (with) · 对 + person / thing + attitude (towards)

- 我常跟她聊天，她对每个人都很热情。 Wǒ cháng gēn tā liáotiān, tā duì měi ge rén dōu hěn rèqíng. – I often chat with her; she's warm towards everyone.

- 老师对我们的作业很满意。 Lǎoshī duì wǒmen de zuòyè hěn mǎnyì. – The teacher is very pleased with our homework.

How it works. Ask whether both sides take part, or whether something points one way. 跟 gēn marks the partner in a shared action: both people chat, discuss, eat together, or are compared (跟朋友吃饭, 跟他商量, 跟我一样). 对 duì marks the target of an attitude, feeling or effect, which goes in one direction only (对我很好, 对音乐感兴趣, 对身体有好处).

Both phrases come before the verb or adjective. Many fixed chunks take only one of them, so learn them as a pair with their word.

跟 (with: both sides)	对 (towards: one direction)
跟朋友吃饭 · 跟他说话 · 跟他商量	对我很好 · 对他很客气 · 对身体有害
跟 …… 一样 · 跟 …… 有关 · 跟 …… 结婚	对 …… 感兴趣 · 对 …… 满意 · 对 …… 负责

Watch out

At a glance

- 1. 平时 vs 平常 – usually / ordinary: 爷爷平时九点就睡了，今天却一直等到十二点。

1. 平时 vs 平常 (usually / ordinary)

Form: 平时 / 平常 + routine (usually) · 很平常 / 平常的 + noun (ordinary)

- 我平常七点起床。 – I usually get up at seven.
- 这是很平常的事。 – That's a very ordinary thing.

How it works. Both can mean "usually, normally", and 平时 sets ordinary days clearly against a special occasion (平时很忙，周末才有空). Only 平常 is also an adjective, "ordinary".

	平时	平常	通常
usually	✓	✓	as a rule (more formal) ordinary (adj.)	–	很平常	–

Watch out

以后	in the future, from now on

Make a group discussion useful

A study group wants to share notes online. One person thinks photographs are enough; another wants typed summaries. You do not have to agree before disagreeing, but first show that you understood the proposal.
