IELTS Word List

Vocabulary List

Vocabulary and example	Write it
adapt v. /əˈdæpt/ to change to suit a new situation Family: adaptation (n.) · adaptable (adj.) Use it with: adapt to · adapt quickly Animals must adapt to changes in the climate.
adult n./adj. /ˈædʌlt/ a person who is fully grown Family: adulthood (n.) Use it with: adult education · young adults More adults are going back to university.
advocate v./n. /ˈædvəkeɪt/ to publicly support an idea; or a person who does this Family: advocacy (n.) Use it with: advocate for · a strong advocate of Doctors advocate a diet rich in vegetables.
aid n./v. /eɪd/ help, especially money or food sent to people in need Use it with: foreign aid · a hearing aid Rich countries send aid to areas hit by disasters.
channel n./v. /ˈtʃænl/ a TV station; or a way of sending information or money Use it with: a TV channel · channel money into Social media has become the main channel for news.
chemical n./adj. /ˈkemɪkl/ a substance made by chemistry Family: chemistry (n.) · chemist (n.) Use it with: harmful chemicals · chemical waste Farmers use fewer chemicals on organic farms.

Vocabulary and example	Write it

classic adj./n. /ˈklæsɪk/

very good and lasting a long time; or a typical example

Family: classical (adj.) Use it with: a classic example · classical music

This is a classic example of poor planning.

comprehensive adj. /ˌkɒmprɪˈhensɪv/

including everything or almost everything

Family: comprehensively (adv.) Use it with: a comprehensive guide · comprehensive school

The guide gives a comprehensive list of hotels.

comprise v. /kəmˈpraɪz/

to have as parts; to consist of Use it with: be comprised of Tip: Correct: “The test comprises four parts.” “Comprises of” is wrong.

The panel comprises five teachers and two parents.

confirm v. /kənˈfɜːm/

to say or show that something is definitely true

Family: confirmation (n.) Use it with: confirm a booking · confirm that…

Please confirm your booking by email.

contrary adj./n. /ˈkɒntrəri/

completely different or opposite

Use it with: contrary to · on the contrary

Contrary to popular belief, the city is very safe.

convert v. /kənˈvɜːt/

to change something into a different form or use

Family: conversion (n.) Use it with: convert into · convert energy

The old church was converted into a library.

exercises.lol exercises.com.cn

Vocabulary and example	Write it

couple n. /ˈkʌpl/

two people in a relationship; or two or a few things

Use it with: a married couple · a couple of Many young couples cannot afford to buy a home.

decade n. /ˈdekeɪd/

a period of ten years

Use it with: over the past decade · for decades Tip: Task 1: “over the decade from 2000 to 2010”.

The population has doubled in the last decade.

definitely adv. /ˈdefɪnətli/

certainly, without any doubt

Family: definite (adj.) Use it with: definitely not · a definite answer Tip: Common spelling mistake: definately is wrong.

I would definitely recommend this course.

deny v. /dɪˈnaɪ/

to say that something is not true; or to refuse to give

Family: denial (n.) Use it with: deny that… · deny access

The company denied that it had polluted the river.

differentiate v. /ˌdɪfəˈrenʃɪeɪt/

to see or show the difference between things

Family: differentiation (n.) Use it with: differentiate between X and Y

Young children cannot always differentiate between ads and programmes.

disposal n. /dɪˈspəʊzl/

the act of getting rid of something

Family: dispose of (v.) · disposable (adj.) Use it with: waste disposal · disposable cups Tip: Dispose of something: “dispose of rubbish”.

Safe disposal of batteries protects the soil.

exercises.lol exercises.com.cn

Vocabulary and example	Write it

dynamic adj. /daɪˈnæmɪk/

full of energy and new ideas; or always changing

Use it with: a dynamic economy · dynamic leader

Shanghai is a dynamic city.

eliminate v. /ɪˈlɪmɪneɪt/

to remove completely

Family: elimination (n.) Use it with: eliminate poverty · eliminate the risk

Vaccines have almost eliminated some diseases.

empirical adj. /emˈpɪrɪkl/

based on observation or experiment, not theory

Use it with: empirical evidence · empirical research

There is little empirical evidence for this claim.

equipment n. /ɪˈkwɪpmənt/

the tools and machines you need for an activity

Family: equip (v.) Use it with: sports equipment · well equipped Tip: Uncountable: “some equipment”, not “equipments”.

Schools need modern sports equipment.

extract v./n. /ˈekstrækt/

to take something out; or a short part of a text

Family: extraction (n.) Use it with: extract oil · an extract from a book

Oil is extracted from under the sea.

file n./v. /faɪl/

a set of papers or data stored together

Use it with: a computer file · file a complaint

Save the file before you close the program.

Vocabulary and example	Write it

finite adj. /ˈfaɪnaɪt/

having a limit or an end

Family: infinite (adj.) Use it with: finite resources · a finite number

Oil and gas are finite resources.

foundation n. /faʊnˈdeɪʃn/

the base of a building; or the basic idea; or an organisation

Family: found (v.) Use it with: the foundation of · a charity foundation Tip: Found = start an organisation: “The school was founded in 1900.”

Reading is the foundation of all learning.

global adj. /ˈgləʊbl/

relating to the whole world

Family: globe (n.) · globalisation (n.) Use it with: global warming · on a global scale

Global warming affects every country.

grade n./v. /ˌdʒiː ɑː eɪ diː ˈiː/

a mark for school work; or a level of quality

Use it with: good grades · grade A

She got top grades in all her exams.

guarantee v./n. /ˌgærənˈtiː/

to promise that something will happen

Use it with: guarantee that… · there is no guarantee

A degree does not guarantee a good job.

hierarchy n. /ˈhaɪərɑːki/

a system where people are organised in levels of importance

Family: hierarchical (adj.) Use it with: a social hierarchy · a strict hierarchy

The company has a strict hierarchy.

exercises.lol exercises.com.cn

Vocabulary and example	Write it

identical adj. /aɪˈdentɪkl/

exactly the same

Family: identically (adv.) Use it with: identical to · identical twins

The two figures are almost identical.

ideology n. /ˌaɪdɪˈɒlədʒi/

a set of beliefs, especially about politics

Family: ideological (adj.) Use it with: political ideology

The two parties have very different ideologies.

infer v. /ɪnˈfɜː/

to work out something from the facts you have Family: inference (n.) Use it with: infer that… · infer from Tip: Reading: Not Given answers often come from what you cannot infer.

From the graph, we can infer that demand will keep rising.

innovation n. /ˌɪnəˈveɪʃn/

a new idea or method, or the use of one

Family: innovate (v.) · innovative (adj.) Use it with: technological innovation · an innovative idea

Innovation in medicine has helped people live longer.

insert v. /ˈɪnsɜːt/

to put something into something else

Family: insertion (n.) Use it with: insert a coin · insert into Insert your card and enter your PIN.

PIN

intervention n. /ˌɪntəˈvenʃn/

action taken to improve a difficult situation

Family: intervene (v.) Use it with: government intervention · intervene in Early intervention can help children with reading problems.

exercises.lol exercises.com.cn

Vocabulary and example	Write it

isolated adj. /ˈaɪsəleɪtɪd/

far from other places or people; or alone

Family: isolate (v.) · isolation (n.) Use it with: socially isolated · an isolated village

Many older people feel isolated and lonely.

media n. /ˈmiːdiːə/

newspapers, TV, radio and the internet as a group

Use it with: social media · the mass media Tip: Can be singular or plural: “the media is/are”.

The media have a strong influence on public opinion.

mode n. /məʊd/

a way of doing something; a type

Use it with: a mode of transport · in learning mode

The bicycle is the cheapest mode of transport.

paradigm n. /ˈpærədaɪm/

a typical example or model of how something is done

Use it with: a new paradigm · a paradigm shift

The internet created a new paradigm for business.

phenomenon n. /fɪˈnɒmɪnən/

something that happens and can be seen or studied

Family: phenomena (pl.) Use it with: a natural phenomenon · a social phenomenon Tip: One phenomenon, two phenomena.

Online shopping is a recent phenomenon in some countries.

priority n. /praɪˈɒrɪti/

something more important than other things

Family: prioritise (v.) Use it with: top priority · give priority to Safety is our first priority.

exercises.lol exercises.com.cn

Vocabulary and example	Write it

prohibit v. /prəˈhɪbɪt/

to officially stop something by law or rule

Family: prohibition (n.) Use it with: strictly prohibited · prohibit from Smoking is prohibited in all public buildings.

publication n. /ˌpʌblɪˈkeɪʃn/

a book, magazine or report; or the act of printing it

Family: publish (v.) Use it with: academic publications · since publication

The publication of the report caused a public debate.

quote v./n. /kwəʊt/

to repeat someone's exact words

Family: quotation (n.) Use it with: quote from · a famous quotation

The article quoted a local doctor.

release v./n. /rɪˈliːs/

to let someone or something go free; or to make public

Use it with: release information · release from prison

Factories release smoke into the air.

reverse v./adj./n. /rɪˈvɜːs/

to change to the opposite direction or result

Family: reversal (n.) · reversible (adj.) Use it with: reverse a trend · in reverse order Tip: Task 1: "This trend reversed after 2010."

The new government reversed the decision.

simulation n. /ˌsɪmjʊˈleɪʃn/

a model of a real situation, often made by a computer

Family: simulate (v.) Use it with: a computer simulation

Pilots train using flight simulations.

exercises.lol exercises.com.cn

Vocabulary and example	Write it

solely adv. /ˈsəʊlli/

only; not involving anything else

Family: sole (adj.) Use it with: solely responsible · the sole reason

Success does not depend solely on talent.

somewhat adv. /ˈsʌmwɒt/

a little; to some degree

Use it with: somewhat higher · somewhat surprising Tip: Good for careful Task 1 language: "somewhat lower".

Prices rose somewhat in the second half of the year.

submit v. /səbˈmɪt/

to give a document to someone so they can decide or judge it

Family: submission (n.) Use it with: submit an application · submit a report Tip: Double the t: submitted, submitting.

Essays must be submitted by Friday.

successor n. /səkˈsesə/

a person or thing that comes after another

Family: succession (n.) · successive (adj.) Use it with: a successor to · in succession · three successive years

When the head teacher retired, her deputy became her successor.

survive v. /səˈvaɪv/

to continue to live or exist after a difficult time

Family: survival (n.) · survivor (n.) Use it with: survive a crisis · struggle to survive

Only a few small shops survived the economic crisis.

thesis n. /ˈθiːsɪs/

a long piece of writing for a university degree; or a main argument

Family: theses (pl.) Use it with: a PhD thesis · thesis statement Tip: Your essay's thesis statement says your position in the introduction.

She wrote her thesis on urban transport.

exercises.lol exercises.com.cn

Vocabulary and example	Write it

topic n. /ˈtɒpɪk/

a subject that people talk or write about

Family: topical (adj.) Use it with: a topic sentence · a hot topic Tip: Start body paragraphs with a clear topic sentence.

Choose a topic you know well for your presentation.

transmit v. /trænˈsmɪt/

to send or pass something from one place or person to another

Family: transmission (n.) Use it with: transmit a disease · transmit data

Mosquitoes can transmit diseases.

ultimately adv. /ˈʌltɪmətli/

in the end; finally

Family: ultimate (adj.) Use it with: ultimately responsible · the ultimate goal

Ultimately, the decision belongs to the parents.

unique adj. /juːˈniːk/

being the only one of its kind; very special

Family: uniquely (adv.) Use it with: unique to · a unique opportunity Tip: Avoid "very unique": unique already means only one.

Each city has its own unique character.

visible adj. /ˈvɪzɪbl/

able to be seen

Family: visibility (n.) · invisible (adj.) Use it with: clearly visible · highly visible

The mountains are visible from the city on clear days.

voluntary adj. /ˈvɒləntəri/

done because you want to, without pay

Family: volunteer (n./v.) · voluntarily (adv.) Use it with: voluntary work · volunteer at

She does voluntary work at an animal shelter.

exercises.lol exercises.com.cn