Word Quest 1

List 9 · Money and shopping

Vocabulary and example	Write it

card n. /kɑ:d/

a small piece of stiff paper or plastic, for payment, greetings or games

Family: cards Use it with: a bank card · a birthday card · play cards

I made a birthday card for my mum with glitter all over it.

company n. /'kʌmpəni/

a business that makes or sells things

Family: companies Use it with: a big company · start a company · keep someone company Tip: Keep someone company means stay with them so they are not alone.

My dad works for a company that makes phones.

cost v./n. /kɒst/

to have a price; the amount you pay

Family: costs · cost (past) Use it with: cost a lot · the cost of Tip: Past form is also "cost": "It cost 50 yuan yesterday."

How much does this T-shirt cost?
T

customer n. /'kʌstəmə/

a person who buys things from a shop or business

Family: customers Use it with: a regular customer · customer service

The shop gave every customer a free bottle of water.

earn v. /ɜ:n/

to get money for work you do

Family: earns · earned · earnings (n.) Use it with: earn money · earn a living Tip: You "earn" money by working; you "win" money in a game.

My cousin earns pocket money by walking the neighbours' dogs.

exercises.lol exercises.com.cn

Vocabulary and example	Write it

expensive adj. /ek'spensɪv/

costing a lot of money

Family: more expensive · most expensive Use it with: very expensive · too expensive Tip: Opposite: cheap. Not "more expensiver".

These trainers are too expensive: 1,500 yuan!
1,500

market n. /'mɑ:kɪt/

a place where people buy and sell food and other things

Family: markets Use it with: a food market · a night market · on the market

We buy fresh fish at the market every Saturday morning.

own v./adj. /əʊn/

to have something that belongs to you

Family: owns · owned · owner (n.) Use it with: my own room · on your own Tip: On your own means alone.

My uncle owns three noodle shops.

penny n. /'peni/

a small coin; one hundredth of a pound or dollar

Family: pennies · pence Use it with: every penny · not a penny Tip: British English: "pence" for the money amount (50 pence).

The sweet cost one penny in my grandpa's time.

price n. /praɪs/

how much money you must pay for something

Family: prices Use it with: a high price · a low price · half price

The price of ice cream went up again.

rent v./n. /rent/

to pay money to use something that belongs to someone else

Family: rents · rented Use it with: pay rent · rent a flat · for rent

We rented bikes and rode around the lake.

Vocabulary and example	Write it

salary n. /ˈsæləri/

money you get every month for your job

Family: salaries Use it with: a good salary · a monthly salary

Nurses should get a bigger salary.

sale n. /seɪl/

selling something; or a time when prices are lower

Family: sales Use it with: on sale · for sale · a big sale Tip: For sale = can be bought; "on sale" often = cheaper than usual.

All winter coats are on sale this week: 50% off!

sell v. /sel/

to give something to someone who pays you money for it

Family: sells · sold · seller (n.) Use it with: sell something to someone · sell out Tip: Past form: sold. "Sold out" means there are none left.

The boy sold lemonade outside his house in summer.

store n./v. /stɔː/

a shop; also, to keep something for later

Family: stores · stored Use it with: a department store · store food Tip: Store is common in American English; "shop" in British English.

The store on the corner is open 24 hours.

24

exercises.lol exercises.com.cn