T1 A2 Key (KET)	T1 street	T1 official handbook
T1 paraphrase	T1 strategy	T1 hunt
T1 photograph	T1 map	T1 knowledge

T1 The exam board's own book of rules for candidates.	T1 A public road in a town, with buildings along it.	T1 The Cambridge English exam for basic everyday use, formerly called KET.
T1 A careful search for one particular piece of information.	T1 A planned way of tackling a task.	T1 Saying the same idea again in different words.
T1 Everyday facts a person already knows, apart from a school subject.	T1 A drawing that shows where places are.	T1 Images recorded by a camera using light-sensitive film or an electronic sensor.

T1 purpose	T1 chunks	T1 suspicious
T1 scratch paper	T2 cloze	T2 collocation
T2 phrasal verbs	T2 auxiliary	T2 camouflage

T1 Feeling that something may be untrue or unsafe.	T1 Groups of words that are learned and used together.	T1 The aim or intended result of an action or communication.
T2 Words that commonly sit side by side.	T2 A passage with gaps the reader has to fill.	T1 Rough paper used for working, not handed in as the answer.
T2 A disguise that makes something hard to notice.	T2 A helper verb such as do, be, or have.	T2 A verb plus a small word, often with a new combined meaning.

T3 message	T3 a menu with three dishes	T3 completeness
T3 sweet spot	T3 register	T4 narrating
T4 comic	T4 connectors	T4 skeleton

T3 Having every required part, with nothing left out.	T3 An example of a food list that names three dishes, which may share one course rather than forming three courses.	T3 A short note left for someone who is away.
T4 Telling what happened, in time order.	T3 The style of language chosen for a particular audience, purpose or situation.	T3 The point at which a choice works best.
T4 The bare outline that holds a piece of writing up.	T4 Words that join ideas, such as because or but.	T4 A story told in drawn panels.

T4 tense consistency	T4 budget	T4 grateful
T5 detail	T5 a movie played twice	T5 preview
T5 agreement	T5 suggestion	T5 bait

T4 Feeling or showing thanks.	T4 A plan for allocating available time among tasks or activities.	T4 The big mark-loser.
T5 A quick look before a careful reading.	T5 An example of a film that is shown two times.	T5 A small fact or feature that helps describe or explain something.
T5 Something used to tempt a person toward a trap.	T5 An idea offered for someone else to consider.	T5 Reaching a shared decision with someone else.

T5 drill	T5 reflexes	T5 rehearsal
T6 gist	T6 matching	T6 tone
T6 mark (notation)	T6 rehearsal	T6 cancelled

T5 Practice for a performance before presenting it to an audience.	T5 Quick automatic responses that need little thought.	T5 Repeated practice of one small skill.
T6 The attitude conveyed by a speaker's or writer's choice of words and expression.	T6 Pairing each item with the one that belongs with it.	T6 The main idea, without the small details.
T6 Called off, so that it will not happen.	T6 Practice for a performance before presenting it to an audience.	T6 A written sign used to show a choice or a correction.

T7 partner	T7 interrogation	T7 friendly chat
T7 interaction	T7 sandwich	T7 rehearsed
T7 monologue	T7 recite	T7 describe around it

T7 An easy, informal conversation.	T7 A harsh series of questions, unlike an easy conversation.	T7 The person you work with in a pair.
T7 Practised aloud before the real performance.	T7 Food made of a filling between two pieces of bread.	T7 Communication or action in which people or things influence one another.
T7 Explaining an idea with other words when the exact word will not come.	T7 To say a text from memory, word for word.	T7 A long speech spoken by one person alone.

T7 audibility	T7 plant (zhíwù)

	T7 A living thing that makes its own food and usually has leaves, including kinds that grow in water rather than in soil.	T7 How clearly a voice can be heard.