

- 1 It is known that 1% of houses in a certain area have a wind turbine. A random sample of 400 houses in this area is chosen for a survey on domestic heating. The number of houses in the sample that have a wind turbine is denoted by X .

Use a suitable approximating distribution to find $P(X \leq 3)$.

[3]

Blank lined paper with horizontal ruling lines.