Poetry III

AP English Literature and Composition · Vocabulary in context

Word	Example
contradiction /ˌkɒntrəˈdɪkʃn/	The two dates are a contradiction: they cannot both be true.
emphasis /ˈemfəsɪs/	Say the word louder for emphasis.
semicolon	A semicolon joins two closely linked sentences.
juxtaposition /ˌdʒʌkstəpəˈzɪʃn/	Juxtaposition places two very different things side by side.
antithesis /ænˈtɪθəsɪs/	“Love is an ocean; hate is a desert” uses antithesis. “Love is an ocean; hate is a desert” situational irony	Situational irony is when the opposite of what we expect happens.
verbal irony	Verbal irony is saying the opposite of what you mean.
paradox /ˈpærədɒks/	“Less is more” is a paradox. “Less is more” ambiguity /ˌæmbɪˈgjuːɪti/	Ambiguity lets a line have more than one meaning.
conceit /kənˈsiːt/	A conceit is a long, surprising comparison.
extended metaphor /ekˈstendɪd ˈmetəfɔː/	An extended metaphor continues through many lines.
allusion	The title is an allusion to a Bible story.
intellectual property /ˌɪntəˈlektʃuːəl ˈprɒpəti/	A song you write is your intellectual property.

exercises.lol exercises.com.cn

Word	Example
attribution /ətrɪˈbjuːʃn/	Give attribution by naming who said the quotation.
citation /saɪˈteɪʃn/	Add a citation to show where the information came from.