

Exercise walk-through

6.5

The Concert of Europe and European Conservatism

AP European History

The Concert of Europe and European Conservatism

The Concert of Europe, or Congress System, sought to maintain the status quo through collective action and adherence to conservative principles.

Exercises 2.1-2.2

2.1 State the basis of the new conservative ideology.

[2]

2.2 State the Concert's two methods.

[2]

Exercises 2.1·2.2

2.1 State the basis of the new conservative ideology. [2]

2.1

- support for traditional political and religious authorities, based on the idea that human nature was not perfectible
-

2.2 State the Concert's two methods. [2]

2.2

- collective action between states; adherence to conservatism within them

Exercise 2.3 (a)

2.3 One premise justifies both a domestic doctrine and an international policy.

(a) State the premise.

[1]

Exercise 2.3 (a)

2.3 One premise justifies both a domestic doctrine and an international policy.

(a) State the premise.

[1]

(a)

- that human nature is not perfectible

Exercise 2.3 (b)

2.3 One premise justifies both a domestic doctrine and an international policy.

(b) Explain the connection.

[1]

Exercise 2.3 (b)

2.3 One premise justifies both a domestic doctrine and an international policy.

(b) Explain the connection.

[1]

(b)

- a scheme to perfect society is then dangerous, whether pursued at home or abroad

Exercises 3.1-3.2

3.1 The CED calls the conservative ideology

[1]

☐

A ancient

B new

C revolutionary

D liberal

3.2 The objective's other verb, besides "maintained", is

[1]

☐

A abolished

B challenged

C exported

D ignored

Exercises 3.1-3.2

3.1 The CED calls the conservative ideology

[1]

☐

A ancient

B new

C revolutionary

D liberal

3.1 B

- it is an argued position, not an inheritance

3.2 The objective's other verb, besides "maintained", is

[1]

☐

A abolished

B challenged

C exported

D ignored

3.2 B

- the objective covers both

Exercise 3.3 (a)

3.3 A doctrine holds that human nature cannot be perfected.

(a) State its view of schemes to improve society.

[1]

Exercise 3.3 (a)

3.3 A doctrine holds that human nature cannot be perfected.

(a) State its view of schemes to improve society.

[1]

(a)

- that they are not merely mistaken but dangerous

Exercise 3.3 (b)

3.3 A doctrine holds that human nature cannot be perfected.

(b) Explain why it treats every attempt as evidence.

[2]

Exercise 3.3 (b)

3.3 A doctrine holds that human nature cannot be perfected.

(b) Explain why it treats every attempt as evidence.

[2]

(b)

- the doctrine predicts they will end badly, so any failure confirms it and no success is expected