

Solutions

Each answer shows the steps, then the result.

2.1

- popular sovereignty; individual rights and enlightened self-interest; a debate over the extent of participation

2.2

- universal male suffrage and full citizenship without regard to wealth or property; some argued rights should extend to women

2.3

(a)

- a deterministic analysis of society and historical evolution

(b)

- that capitalism's outcome is determined, not only that it is unjust

3.1 B

- all forms, not a preference among governments

3.2 B

- the CED specifies male suffrage

3.3

(a)

- liberalism-legitimacy and rights; radicalism-the franchise; socialism-property and distribution; anarchism-authority itself

(b)

- it shows the ideologies differ in what they think the state is for, not only in how far they would go