Cities and Urban Land-Use Patterns and Processes

AP Human Geography · Vocabulary in context

Word	Example
Special Economic Zone	Shenzhen became a Special Economic Zone in 1980. Shenzhen 1980
Urbanization /ˌɜːbənaɪˈzeɪʃn/	Urbanization is happening fast in Africa and Asia. Africa Asia
suburb /ˈsʌbɜːb/	They moved from the city centre to a quiet suburb.
suburbanization /səˌbɜːbənaɪˈzeɪʃn/	Suburbanization grew as more families bought cars.
sprawl /sprɔːl/	Urban sprawl covers farmland with houses and roads.
Site /saɪt/	The city's site is a hill next to a river.
situation /ˌsɪtʃuːˈeɪʃn/	The city's situation near a busy port helped it grow.
World cities /wɜːld ˈsɪtiz/	London, New York and Tokyo are world cities. 、
rank-size rule /ræŋk saɪz ruːl/	The rank-size rule says the second city has half the people of the largest city.
primate city /ˈpraɪmeɪt ˈsɪti/	Bangkok is a primate city: it is much bigger than any other city in Thailand. Bangkok Thailand
Central place theory /ˈsentrəl pleɪs ˈθɪəri/	Central place theory explains why big towns offer more services than villages.
threshold /ˈθreʃəʊld/	A shop's threshold is the smallest number of customers it needs.

exercises.lol exercises.com.cn

Word	Example
range /reɪndʒ/	The range of a shop is the farthest distance people will travel to use it.
Concentric zone model /kənˈsentrɪk zəʊn ˈmɒdl/	The concentric zone model shows a city as rings around the centre.
Central Business District (CBD) /ˈsentrəl ˈbɪznəs ˈdɪstrɪkt/	The Central Business District (CBD) has the tallest office buildings.
Sector model /ˈsektə ˈmɒdl/	In the sector model, the city grows in wedges along roads and railways.
Multiple nuclei model /ˈmʌltɪpl ˈnjuːklɪi ˈmɒdl/	The multiple nuclei model shows a city with several centres.
peripheral model	In the peripheral model, suburbs and edge cities circle the city along a ring road.
edge city	An edge city grows on the edge of a big city, with offices and malls.
Zoning /ˈzəʊnɪŋ/	Zoning keeps factories away from houses.
Infrastructure /ˈɪnfrəstrʌktʃə/	Roads, water pipes and power lines are infrastructure. 、
informal settlements /ɪnˈfɔːml ˈsetəlmənts/	Many families live in informal settlements without clean water.
Smart-growth /smɑːt grəʊθ/	Smart-growth plans build homes close to buses and trains.
Greenbelts /ˈgriːnbelts/	Greenbelts stop the city from spreading into the countryside.

Word	Example
urban renewal /ˈɜːbən rɪˈnjuːəl/	Urban renewal knocked down old buildings and built new flats.
gentrification /ˌdʒentrɪfɪˈkeɪʃn/	Gentrification raised the rents, and many old residents had to move.
quantitative data /ˈkwɒntɪteɪtɪv ˈdeɪtə/	Sales numbers are quantitative data.
qualitative data /ˈkwɒlɪteɪtɪv ˈdeɪtə/	Customers' written opinions are qualitative data.
redlining	Redlining denied home loans in Black areas.
urban heat island /ˈɜːbən hiːt ˈaɪlənd/	An urban heat island makes the city warmer than the countryside.
brownfield	The old factory is a brownfield site that must be cleaned before new homes are built.

exercises.lol exercises.com.cn