

3.1 Introduction to Culture

Name: _____ Class: _____ Date: _____

Total: 10 marks

KEY WORDS culture 文化 • material culture 物质文化 • cultural trait 文化特征
• nonmaterial culture 非物质文化 • cultural complex 文化综合体

Objective

Build the skills to answer exam questions on culture 文化 and cultural traits.

You must be able to:

- define culture 文化 and a cultural trait 文化特征
- distinguish material culture 物质文化 from nonmaterial culture 非物质文化
- give an example of each
- explain how cultural traits combine into a cultural complex 文化综合体

1 Worked examples

Study these first. Each one shows the method for a task used later.

■ Culture and traits

Culture is the shared beliefs, practices, and objects of a group. A cultural trait is a single element of it — a food, a gesture, a belief.

■ Material vs nonmaterial

Material culture = physical objects (clothes, tools, buildings). Nonmaterial culture = ideas without physical form (language, religion, values).

■ Complexes

Related traits form a cultural complex — e.g. tea includes the leaf (material) plus customs of when and how to drink it (nonmaterial).

2 Practice

2.1 Define a cultural trait and give one example.

[2]

2.2 State the difference between material and nonmaterial culture. [2]

2.3 Classify each as material or nonmaterial culture.

(a) A traditional festival's beliefs. [1]

(b) The costumes worn at the festival. [1]

3 Exam-style questions

3.1 A religion's beliefs and moral values are an example of [1]

A	B
C	D

A material culture

B nonmaterial culture

C a cultural landscape

D relocation diffusion

3.2 Which is the best example of a cultural trait? [1]

A	B
C	D

A an entire continent

B a specific style of greeting

C the global economy

D a map projection

3.3 A group's cuisine involves special foods and rules about eating together.

(a) Name the material part. [1]

(b) Name the nonmaterial part. [1]
