AP United States History

1. contact resulted in the Columbian Exchange and changes on both sides; native populations developed distinct and increasingly complex societies

One about the continent before contact, one about what contact did.

2. settlement; advanced irrigation; social diversification; economic development

One crop, four consequences, listed as a chain.

3. a desire to spread Christianity; economic and military competition; a search for new sources of wealth

No ranking among them.

4. an organisational invention spreading a voyage's risk

The CED pairs a hardware change with an institutional one.

5. extracting precious metals and other resources; plantation-based agriculture

A system – a legal and administrative arrangement.

6. religion; land use; power; gender roles and family

Land use is the one that becomes a conflict rather than a debate.

7. devastated native populations against stimulated European growth

One period, opposite directions on the two shores.

8. treating the continent's peoples as one society

And 'increasingly complex' rules out treating them as static.

9. largely mobile lifestyles

'Responded to' makes this an adaptation.

10. a rival is acting

A different logic from the search for wealth.
