AP United States History1. a response to an uncertain and unstable world

7.14 made the country powerful; 8.1 asks what for.

2. limiting Communist ideological influence; limiting Communist military power; building an international security system; creating a free-market global economy

The last two are constructive, not defensive.

3. a burgeoning private sector; federal spending; the baby boom; technological developments

Federal spending sits beside the private sector without contradiction.

4. rebellious youth; intellectuals; artists

Different resources, one target.

5. varying

The CED is precise about a tension in the policy.

6. the same containment sentence as Korea

So the causes of Vietnam are the causes of containment.

7. direct action; nonviolent protest tactics; legal challenges

They are different, not synonyms.

8. American Indian; Latino; Asian American

'Continued to demand' – ongoing, not new.

9. problems and accidents

A response to visible events.

10. who counts as a full citizen

Five movements and three branches of federal action.
