Name: _____ Class: _____ Date: _____

Total: 12 marks

KEY WORDS maize 玉米 • mobile lifestyles 流动性生活方式 • advanced irrigation 先进灌溉

• mixed agricultural and hunter-gatherer economies 农业与狩猎采集混合经济

• regional diversity 区域差异

Objective

Build the skills to explain regional diversity 区域差异 before 1492.

You must be able to:

- state what maize cultivation supported
- match each region to the way of life the CED gives
- explain why environment does not simply determine society
- avoid describing pre-contact America as one society

1 Worked examples

Study these first. Each one shows the method for a task used later.

■ Maize

The spread of maize cultivation from present-day Mexico northward into the present-day American Southwest and beyond supported economic development, settlement, advanced irrigation, and social diversification. Four consequences from one crop.

■ Four regions

Great Basin and western Great Plains: aridity and grassland → largely mobile lifestyles. Northeast, Mississippi River Valley, Atlantic seaboard: mixed agricultural and hunter-gatherer economies favouring permanent villages. Northwest and present-day California: hunting and gathering, with settled communities in some areas supported by ocean resources.

■ Not determinism

The CED says societies responded and developed. Two societies in similar environments could respond differently, so environment sets the problem and does not dictate the answer.

■ Not one society

Four regions, four ways of life, in one CED subtopic. Writing about “Native Americans” as a single society contradicts the source before the answer begins.

2 Practice

2.2 Match two regions to their ways of life. [2]

2.3 Environment is not destiny.

(b) Explain why writing about “Native Americans” as one society fails. [2]
