- state what produced colonial pluralism
- name the three things that drove Anglicization
- name the sources of colonial resistance to imperial control
- explain why the same period produced closeness and mistrust

1 Worked examples

Study these first. Each one shows the method for a task used later.

■ Pluralism

The presence of different European religious and ethnic groups contributed to a significant degree of pluralism and intellectual exchange, which were later enhanced by the first Great Awakening and the spread of European Enlightenment ideas.

■ Anglicization

The colonies experienced a gradual Anglicization, developing autonomous political communities based on English models with influence from intercolonial commercial ties, the emergence of a transatlantic print culture, and the spread of Protestant evangelicalism.

■ Sources of resistance

Local experiences of self-government, evolving ideas of liberty, the political thought of the Enlightenment, greater religious independence and diversity, and an ideology critical of perceived corruption in the imperial system.

■ Both at once

The goals and interests of European leaders and colonists at times diverged, leading to a growing mistrust on both sides of the Atlantic. Colonists were becoming more English and more dissatisfied at the same time, over territorial settlements, frontier defense, self-rule, and trade.
