

Solutions

Each answer shows the steps, then the result.

2.1

- conquered peoples were drawn into their conquerors' economies and trade networks

2.2

- conflicts; the CED treats conflict as a channel of transfer, not only an interruption

2.3

(a)

- the connection conquest produced across Eurasia

(b)

- conquest or destruction as such

3.1 B

- the CED qualifies it

3.2 B

- conflicts are named explicitly

3.3

(a)

- a single political zone across Eurasia through which goods and techniques travelled

(b)

- conquest moves people — craftsmen, scribes, prisoners — between regions, and what they know moves with them
