

Solutions

Each answer shows the steps, then the result.

2.1

- old assumptions about race, class, gender and religion

2.2

- access to education and participation in new political and professional roles became more inclusive in terms of race, class, gender and religion

2.3

(a)

- “in much of the world”, which stops short of claiming universality

(b)

- the inequality of the environmental and economic consequences of global integration

3.1 B

- widespread, with a limit

3.2 A

- global integration

3.3

(a)

- the objection is to distribution, not to integration

(b)

- describing it as opposition to globalisation misstates its demand, which is a different distribution rather than an end to the process
