T1 B1 Preliminary (PET)	T1 paraphrased	T1 distractors
T1 scope	T1 requirement	T1 beginners
T1 checklist	T1 answer sheet discipline	T2 detailed meaning

T1 Wrong options written to catch a predictable mistake.	T1 Rewritten so the words change while the idea stays.	T1 The Cambridge English exam at an intermediate everyday level, formerly called PET.
T1 People who have only just started to learn.	T1 Something that must be included or done.	T1 The extent, boundaries or range of material included in a task, investigation or subject.
T2 Understanding the small points, not only the main idea.	T1 The habit of filling the official answer grid exactly as instructed.	T1 A list of items to tick as each one is finished.

T2 jigsaw	T2 cohesion	T2 attitude
T2 implication	T2 pronouns	T2 decoys
T2 justified	T3 clozes	T3 near-synonyms

T2 A person's viewpoint, feeling or disposition towards someone or something.	T2 The links between parts of a text that help its ideas connect, such as reference words, conjunctions and repeated vocabulary.	T2 A puzzle picture built by fitting separate pieces together.
T2 Tempting wrong options placed beside the right one.	T2 Words such as she or they that stand in for a noun.	T2 An idea suggested by a text but not stated outright.
T3 Words close in sense that are still not interchangeable.	T3 Passages with gaps that the candidate must fill.	T2 Supported by a reason or by evidence.

T3 collocates	T3 chess opening	T3 fixed phrases
T3 do homework (zuò zuòyè)	T3 make a mistake (fàn cuòwù)	T4 responsive email
T4 notes	T4 baton	T4 anatomy

T3 there is/are, as soon as, used to.	T3 The planned first moves in a game of chess.	T3 Words that regularly appear beside a given word.
T4 A reply written to answer another person's message.	T3 An example that pairs the verb make with an error.	T3 An example that pairs the verb do with a school task.
T4 The way the parts of a text are fitted together.	T4 The stick one runner hands to the next.	T4 Short written instructions beside the exam email, one job each.

T4 robot	T4 zhù xuéxí jìnbù (a fixed closing wish)	T4 compulsory
T5 choice (either/or)	T5 article	T5 personality
T5 essay	T5 voice	T5 springboard

T4 Something everyone must do.	T4 A set Chinese closing that wishes someone progress in their studies.	T4 A machine built to carry out tasks by itself.
T5 The traits that make one person unlike another.	T5 A piece of writing about a particular topic, often published in a newspaper, magazine or website.	T5 A selection between exactly two options.
T5 A starting push toward a harder task.	T5 The sound a person makes when speaking or singing.	T5 A structured piece of writing that develops a position or argument about a topic.

T5 inherit	T5 turn (twist)	T5 template essay (bāgǔ)
T5 penalised	T6 short extracts	T6 meaning
T6 attitude	T6 intention	T6 evaluation

T5 A rigid essay shape that repeats an empty pattern.	T5 A change of direction in a plot or an argument.	T5 To receive something passed on by an earlier owner.
T6 What a word or a sentence is communicating.	T6 Brief pieces of speech or writing, not a whole text.	T5 Given a lower mark because a rule was broken.
T6 A reasoned assessment of something's quality, effectiveness or significance against relevant criteria.	T6 What a speaker or writer is trying to achieve.	T6 A person's viewpoint, feeling or disposition towards someone or something.

T6 cushion	T7 interview	T7 unusual
T7 form	T7 podcast	T7 signposted
T7 audible	T7 camped	T7 handwriting

T7 Different from what people normally expect.	T7 A conversation built around one person asking questions.	T6 A soft pad that makes a seat more comfortable.
T7 Marked so a listener can tell where a talk is heading.	T7 An audio programme made to be streamed or downloaded.	T7 A printed sheet with blank spaces to complete.
T7 The particular way a person writes letters by hand.	T7 Stayed outdoors overnight in a tent or a simple shelter.	T7 Clear enough and loud enough to be heard.

T7 dictated	T8 long turn	T8 collaborative task
T8 decision	T8 meal	T8 appetiser
T8 solo	T8 recipe	T8 speculate

T8 A speaking activity that two candidates do together.	T8 A stretch in which one candidate speaks alone.	T7 Spoken for another person to write down.
T8 A small dish served before the main food.	T8 The food eaten at one sitting.	T8 A choice that has been settled.
T8 To offer a possible explanation without full proof.	T8 The steps and amounts used to make a dish.	T8 A performance given by one person alone.

T8 inventory	T8 mutual	T8 steamrolling
T8 compromise	T8 all-purpose template	T8 edible
T8 Interactive Communication

T8 Forcing a plan ahead without hearing the other person.	T8 Felt or done by both sides.	T8 A detailed list of items held, present or available.
T8 Safe to eat.	T8 A ready-made set of sentences used for any task, whatever it asks.	T8 An agreement in which each side gives something up.
		T8 How well speakers start, respond and keep a conversation going together.