Which claim is supported by the reading?

It can never be used / It worked in a limited trial / It suits every region

■ Build a sentence

Complete the time qualifier: 因为成本较高，..... 没有全面推广。

Read a claim and its qualification – speak and write

■ Speak

Explain the method's promise and limitation to a partner. They ask whether the trial proves universal success.

■ Plan and write

Write a cautious recommendation based only on the reading.

- Separate evidence from recommendation.
- Preserve the limited trial scope.
- Keep 暂时 distinct from 永远.

■ Remember

A barrier today does not establish permanent impossibility. Conversely, removing the cost barrier does not by itself prove effectiveness.

Retell the misunderstanding in four stages. Your partner asks which information came from the notice and which from the teacher.

■ Plan and write

Write a new short story about a mistaken time or place. Include discovery and resolution.

- Set up the mistaken belief.
- Explain the discovery.
- Resolve the problem consistently.

In a source-based account, do not invent emotions or dialogue as facts. In an original fictional story, invented details must still agree with each other.

Which detail is a question rather than an established fact in the email?

The deadline is this Friday / The writer is polite / The writer requests a form

■ Build a sentence

Complete the information request:, 报名什么时候截止?

Choose language for the reader – speak and write

■ Speak

Ask an organiser about a deadline and submission method. Then explain the answer informally to a friend.

■ Plan and write

Write a short email asking for a form and confirming the deadline.

- Identify the purpose.
- Ask specific questions.
- Use respectful language suited to the recipient.

■ Remember

A formal-sounding sentence is not automatically clearer or more correct. Do not claim a deadline is confirmed when you have only asked about it.
