Prepositions and connectors

English A2 · Vocabulary in context

Word	Example
connectors /kəˈnektəz/	“Because” and “but” are connectors. “Because” “but”
bridge /brɪdʒ/	A bridge goes over the river.
contrasts /ˈkɒntræsts/	“But” shows contrasts: it’s cold, but sunny. “But”
result /rɪˈzʌlt/	As a result, we missed the bus.
Because I was late, so... (yīnwèi...suǒyǐ...)	Don’t say “Because I was late, so... (yīnwèi...suǒyǐ...)”. Use “because” or “so”, not both. “ ” “because” “so” sequence /ˈsiːkwəns/	In a sequence, the steps run one after another.
although (suīrán) /ɔːlˈðəʊ/	Although (suīrán) it rained, we played.
conditions /kənˈdɪʃnz/	“If” introduces conditions: if it rains, we stay in. “If”
Chinglish /ˈtʃɪŋglɪʃ/	“Open the light” is Chinglish; say “turn on the light”. “Open the light” “turn on the light”。 exercises.lol exercises.com.cn