

1.2 Collaboration and version control

Name: _____ Class: _____ Date: _____

Total: 12 marks

KEY WORDS cloud document 云端文档 • version history 版本历史 • comment 批注
• suggestion 建议模式

Objective

Collaborate in a shared document while leaving clear evidence of each contributor's work.

You must be able to:

- explain the value of a cloud document and version history
- choose between a comment, suggestion, and direct edit
- use respectful, traceable collaboration habits

1 Worked examples

■ Make collaboration visible

A group writes one report in a cloud document 云端文档, rather than sending separate files. Version history 版本历史 records who changed what and when.

If Mei thinks a paragraph needs a different example, she leaves a comment 批注 or a suggestion 建议模式. She does not silently replace a teammate's work. The owner can discuss, accept, or reject the change.

2 Practice

2.1 State what version history records. [1]

2.2 Identify the best tool for proposing a change that the owner can accept or reject. [1]

2.3 Explain one problem caused by each group member using a separate private copy of a report. [2]

3 Exam-style questions

3.1 A group member pastes their section into the shared report on the night before the deadline. Explain why this is a poor collaboration method. [4]

3.2 Recommend a process for a group that disagrees about a paragraph in the report. Justify your answer. [4]
