GAC Study and Communication Skills Name: _____ Score: _____

1. Why is “hardworking and creative” alone a weak profile?
- ☐ It uses two adjectives where one would be enough.
- ☐ It describes personality instead of exam grades.
- ☐ It provides no specific experience supporting the claims.
2. What is Arun’s immediate known barrier?
- ☐ A conflict between the session and a home commitment
- ☐ He is permanently unable to enter any course
- ☐ The organiser has refused every alternative
3. What is missing from “become a designer” as an exploration plan?
- ☐ A clear reason why design suits the student’s personality
- ☐ A list of famous designers and the companies they work for
- ☐ Tasks, preparation questions and a next investigation
4. Why is reputation alone insufficient for Lina’s comparison?
- ☐ It cannot establish course, eligibility and practical fit.
- ☐ It favours large institutions over smaller local colleges.
- ☐ It changes from year to year, so it may already be outdated.
5. What is missing from a plan containing only the final submission date?
- ☐ Preparation tasks and their dependencies
- ☐ A reason to ignore requirements
- ☐ A guaranteed acceptance
6. Which TWO distinctions prevent exaggeration?
- ☐ State the scope of a certificate
- ☐ Separate your contribution from the team’s product
- ☐ Claim a broad skill proves competence in every job
- ☐ Treat every small sample as a formal qualification

Tick every correct option.

7. Different feedback from a small-group talk and a large-audience talk must mean one person is lying.
- ☐ True ☐ False
8. Which TWO statements distinguish facts from unanswered questions?
- ☐ Arun has not yet checked whether a recording exists
- ☐ The notice gives a Thursday afternoon session
- ☐ No reply means the course is unsuitable
- ☐ There can never be a recording
- Tick every correct option.*
9. Enjoying poster layout proves Mei will enjoy every task in every design job.
- ☐ True ☐ False
10. An entry condition that is unknown should be recorded as unknown, not as met.
- ☐ True ☐ False

1. It provides no specific experience supporting the claims.

The problem is missing evidence, not the qualities themselves.

2. A conflict between the session and a home commitment

The known facts establish a timetable conflict. Alternatives have not yet been checked.

3. Tasks, preparation questions and a next investigation

A title identifies an area but does not yet provide evidence or an investigation plan.

4. It cannot establish course, eligibility and practical fit.

Reputation is only one piece of information and does not answer the learner’s specific conditions and needs.

5. Preparation tasks and their dependencies

A final date does not organise the earlier work needed for a complete application.

6. State the scope of a certificate; Separate your contribution from the team’s product

Contribution and qualification scope both need precise description. Broad labels cannot establish unlimited competence.

7. False

Performance can differ by context. Compare the situations rather than forcing one global label.

8. Arun has not yet checked whether a recording exists; The notice gives a Thursday afternoon session

The session time is known; recording availability is not. Unknowns should not become confident negative claims.

9. False

An interest in one task does not establish preferences for all demands of a role.

10. True

True. Unknown and met are different statuses; check the authoritative requirement before deciding eligibility.
