

1. Why is “hardworking and creative” alone a weak profile?
- ☐ It provides no specific experience supporting the claims.

☐ Those qualities can never be useful.

☐ A profile must choose one lifelong job.
2. What is Arun’s immediate known barrier?
- ☐ He is permanently unable to enter any course

☐ A conflict between the session and a home commitment

☐ The organiser has refused every alternative
3. What is missing from “become a designer” as an exploration plan?
- ☐ A guarantee of a lifelong choice

☐ Tasks, preparation questions and a next investigation

☐ A promise to reject every other role
4. Why is reputation alone insufficient for Lina’s comparison?
- ☐ It cannot establish course, eligibility and practical fit.

☐ Well-known institutions never offer useful courses.

☐ Every student has identical preferences.
5. What is missing from a plan containing only the final submission date?
- ☐ A guaranteed acceptance

☐ Preparation tasks and their dependencies

☐ A reason to ignore requirements
6. Which TWO statements distinguish facts from unanswered questions?
- ☐ The notice gives a Thursday afternoon session

☐ There can never be a recording

☐ Arun has not yet checked whether a recording exists

☐ No reply means the course is unsuitable

Tick every correct option.

☐ True

☐ False

8. An unknown entry condition should be recorded as met if a learner likes the course.

☐ True

☐ False

9. Sending a reference request proves the institution has received a completed reference.

☐ True

☐ False

10. Which TWO distinctions prevent exaggeration?

☐ Separate your contribution from the team’s product

☐ Treat every small sample as a formal qualification

☐ State the scope of a certificate

☐ Claim a broad skill proves competence in every job

Tick every correct option.

1. It provides no specific experience supporting the claims.

The problem is missing evidence, not the qualities themselves.

2. A conflict between the session and a home commitment

The known facts establish a timetable conflict. Alternatives have not yet been checked.

3. Tasks, preparation questions and a next investigation

A title identifies an area but does not yet provide evidence or an investigation plan.

4. It cannot establish course, eligibility and practical fit.

Reputation is only one piece of information and does not answer the learner’s specific conditions and needs.

5. Preparation tasks and their dependencies

A final date does not organise the earlier work needed for a complete application.

6. The notice gives a Thursday afternoon session; Arun has not yet checked whether a recording exists

The session time is known; recording availability is not. Unknowns should not become confident negative claims.

7. False

An interest in one task does not establish preferences for all demands of a role.

8. False

Unknown and met are different statuses. Check the authoritative requirement before deciding eligibility.

9. False

Requested, agreed and submitted are separate states. Use the appropriate status evidence.

10. Separate your contribution from the team’s product; State the scope of a certificate

Contribution and qualification scope both need precise description. Broad labels cannot establish unlimited competence.
