Name: _____ Score: _____

1. How many parts does IELTS Listening have?

2. 'The workshop costs £_____ for members.' What kind of word are you waiting for?
 - ☐ A plural noun
 - ☐ An adjective
 - ☐ A number
3. The recording says 'organise'. You write 'organize'. What happens?
 - ☐ It gets half a mark
 - ☐ It is accepted – both standard spellings count
 - ☐ It is marked wrong
4. What should you trace before a flow-chart recording begins?
 - ☐ The arrows and stage order
 - ☐ Only the final blank
 - ☐ The longest word in each box
5. Before a map-labelling recording, which two things should you fix first?
 - ☐ Final answer and unused option
 - ☐ Longest room name and total room count
 - ☐ Entrance and orientation
6. A question asks which plan the speakers 'finally chose'. What is the target?
 - ☐ The option agreed after discussion
 - ☐ The first idea mentioned
 - ☐ Any option whose word appears in the recording
7. Complete: you answer _____ questions in Listening.

8. The instruction says TWO WORDS. Your answer 'the main entrance hall' is correct in meaning, so it earns the mark.
 - ☐ True ☐ False

9. The recording says 'you will need two forms of identification'. The gap reads 'Bring two _____ of ID.' What do you write?

10. Fill [1] from the written script. Use no more than two words.

IELTS Academic

1. 4

Four parts, 10 questions each.

2. A number

The £ sign points to an amount. Predicting the answer type helps, but you still need to hear the amount accurately.

3. It is accepted – both standard spellings count

British and American spellings are both accepted. There are no half marks anywhere in Listening – an answer is right or it is not.

4. The arrows and stage order

The arrows show how the process develops. Predict the kind of answer each gap needs before listening.

5. Entrance and orientation

The entrance anchors the route; the north arrow lets you interpret left and right as the speaker moves.

6. The option agreed after discussion

'Finally chose' points to the agreed decision, which may differ from earlier suggestions.

7. 40

$10 + 10 + 10 + 10 = 40$.

8. False

It is four words and exceeds the two-word limit, so it loses the mark even if the meaning is correct.

9. forms

The script says forms, and two agrees with that plural. Use the heard word and surrounding grammar rather than adding an ending to an unsupported guess.

10. accession code

The code is assigned before copying; the removable tag is only where it is written.
