Each answer shows the steps, then the result.

2.1

(a)

- e.g. “The Blue Door — you will pay for it, and you will go back”

(b)

- e.g. “Brilliant people, nowhere to go”

2.2

- name who would and would not enjoy it
- e.g. “I would recommend it to readers who enjoy being immersed in a period rather than hurried through a plot, and I would warn anyone looking for a fast story that the first hundred pages are almost entirely setting.”

2.3

- opening, description, judgement, recommendation

3.1

- content (4): what the café is and where, description without a list, a judgement with reasons including at least one criticism, and a targeted recommendation
- language (4): appropriate register, precise vocabulary, varied sentences

3.2

- any two: “very good” and “amazing” are empty evaluations; “everyone should watch it” targets nobody; the ending repeats the same judgement three times; there is no reservation, so the praise is less credible
