

Either...or

Ref Hsk5 Grammar

或者……，或者……—”either ...or ...”

Doubling 或者 lays out two options in a statement —”either ..., or ...” The options are usually verb phrases. (In a question, you’d switch to 还是.)

Structure: 或者 + A ， 或者 + B

{zh: 只有 |zhǐ yǒu|there’s only / 一块 |yí kuài|one piece of / 蛋糕 |dàn gāo|cake / ， 或者 |huò zhě|either / 你 |nǐ|you / 吃 |chī|eat it / 或者 |huò zhě|or / 我 |wǒ|I / 吃 |chī|eat it / 。 }

There’s only one piece of cake —either you eat it or I do.

{zh: 咱们 |zán men|let’s / 或者 |huò zhě|either / 今天 |jīn tiān|today / 去 |qù|go / 或者 |huò zhě|or / 明天 |míng tiān|tomorrow / 去 |qù|go / ， 一定 |yí dìng|definitely / 要 |yào|must / 去 |qù|go / 。 }

Let’s go either today or tomorrow —but we definitely must go.

Remember: 或者…或者…= ”either ...or ...” in a STATEMENT (laying out options); a choice question still takes 还是. Same statement-vs-question split as the basic 或者 / 还是 pair (HSK 3).

Watch out

- Don’t slip into 还是 here —these are stated options, not a question being asked.
