1. About how many minutes is TOEFL Speaking? Use the figure ETS publishes.

   _____

2. You miss one word halfway through the sentence. What should you do?

   ☐ Keep going and finish the sentence

   ☐ Stop and say nothing more

   ☐ Stop and start the sentence again

3. You need a brief moment to think. Which response best keeps you on task?

   ☐ Ask to skip every difficult question

   ☐ Wait until you have memorised a complete answer

   ☐ Identify the demand, then begin a relevant point

4. Complete: Speaking has about ____ items.

   _____

5. Must you speak as slowly as possible to make a repeat accurate?

   ☐ True ☐ False

6. Memorising a few strong general answers is a good use of preparation time.

   ☐ True ☐ False

7. Listen and Repeat is scored as which section?

   ☐ Listening

   ☐ Writing

   ☐ Speaking

8. What distinguishes PHOtograph from phoTOgrapher in these stress examples?

   ☐ The stressed syllable moves

   ☐ Every syllable has equal stress

   ☐ An American accent is required

9. Writing out what you would say is a good substitute for speaking practice.

   ☐ True ☐ False

exercises.lol exercises.com.cn

☐ True ☐ False

1. 8

   ETS says about 8 minutes and 11 items.

2. Keep going and finish the sentence

   Continue clearly and preserve as much of the original wording as you can. This is rehearsal advice, not a fixed comparison of scoring penalties.

3. Identify the demand, then begin a relevant point

   A brief thinking pause is possible. Begin a relevant point rather than waiting for a perfect script; fillers are optional and do not earn automatic marks.

4. 11

   About 11 items across Listen and Repeat and Take an Interview.

5. False

   Use an intelligible pace and natural grouping. Excessive pauses can separate words that belong together; speed alone does not establish accuracy.

6. False

   A complete stock answer may not answer the actual prompt or its follow-up. Practise flexible language with changed questions instead of relying on recitation.

7. Speaking

   You are scored on what you say back, so it belongs to Speaking even though you listen first.

8. The stressed syllable moves

   The stressed syllable moves. Stress and vowel quality both help word recognition; this is not a ranking of all pronunciation features.

9. False

   A typed answer can be timed and can help plan content, but supplies no evidence of actual pronunciation, audible pauses or spoken pace. Record a spoken response to inspect those features.

10. False

    Take an Interview follows the questions you are asked. A template from the old test does not fit.

exercises.lol exercises.com.cn