Word Quest 3

List 2 · Feelings and character 2

Vocabulary and example	Write it

honesty n. /ˈɒnɪsti/

the quality of telling the truth

Family: honest (adj.) Use it with: in all honesty

I like his honesty: he always says what he thinks.

impatient adj. /ɪmˈpeɪʃənt/

not able to wait calmly

Family: impatiently (adv.) · impatience (n.) Use it with: impatient with · get impatient

Don't be so impatient! The bus will come soon.

impress v. /ɪmˈpres/

to make someone admire you

Family: impresses · impressed · impressive (adj.) Use it with: be impressed by · impress someone

Her painting impressed the art teacher.

inspire v. /ɪnˈspaɪə/

to give someone the wish and ideas to do something

Family: inspires · inspired · inspiration (n.) Use it with: inspire someone to

The astronaut's talk inspired me to study science.

jealous adj. /ˈdʒeləs/

unhappy because someone has what you want

Family: jealously (adv.) · jealousy (n.) Use it with: jealous of My little brother gets jealous when Mum hugs me.

laughter n. /ˈlæftə/

the sound of people laughing

Family: laugh (v.) Use it with: burst into laughter

The room was full of laughter.

exercises.lol exercises.com.cn

Vocabulary and example	Write it

magical adj. /ˈmædʒɪkl/

wonderful and special, as if by magic

Family: magic (n./adj.) Use it with: a magical evening · magical powers

The lanterns on the lake looked magical.

miserable adj. /ˈmɪzrəbl/

very unhappy

Family: miserably (adv.) · misery (n.) Use it with: feel miserable · miserable weather

I felt miserable with a cold on my birthday.

patient adj. /ˈpeɪʃənt/

able to wait calmly without getting angry

Family: patiently (adv.) · patience (n.) Use it with: patient with Tip: As a noun, a "patient" is a person a doctor treats.

My piano teacher is very patient with beginners.

pity n. /ˈpɪti/

a feeling of sadness for someone who is suffering

Family: pities · pitied Use it with: what a pity · feel pity for Tip: What a pity! means "That's sad / too bad".

I felt pity for the lost puppy.

rage n. /reɪdʒ/

very strong anger

Family: rages Use it with: in a rage · road rage

He threw his phone in a rage.

satisfied adj. /ˈsætɪsfaɪd/

happy because you got what you wanted

Family: satisfy (v.) · satisfaction (n.) Use it with: satisfied with

Are you satisfied with your test result?

Vocabulary and example	Write it

sensible adj. /ˈsensɪbl/

showing good judgement; practical

Family: sensibly (adv.) Use it with: a sensible choice Tip: Not the same as “sensitive” (easily hurt).

Wearing a coat in the snow is sensible.

skillful adj. /ˈskɪlfl/

having or showing great skill

Family: skillfully (adv.) Use it with: a skillful player Tip: British English writes “skilful”.

She is a skillful dancer.

sociable adj. /ˈsəʊʃɪəbl/

friendly and liking to be with other people

Use it with: a sociable person

My sister is very sociable: she knows everyone in our building.

stun v. /stʌn/

to surprise someone so much that they can’t speak

Family: stuns · stunned · stunning (adj.) Use it with: stunned silence Tip: Stunning also means very beautiful.

The news stunned the whole class.

talkative adj. /ˈtɔːkətɪv/

liking to talk a lot

Use it with: a talkative child

Our taxi driver was very talkative.

terrified adj. /ˈterɪfaɪd/

very afraid

Family: terrify (v.) · terrifying (adj.) Use it with: terrified of I’m terrified of spiders.

exercises.lol exercises.com.cn

Vocabulary and example	Write it

violent adj. /ˈvaɪələnt/

using force to hurt people

Family: violently (adv.) · violence (n.) Use it with: a violent storm · violent crime

I don’t like violent films.

wild adj. /waɪld/

living in nature, not kept by people; also, out of control

Family: wilder · wildly (adv.) Use it with: wild animals · go wild

We saw wild monkeys on the mountain.