Word Quest 4

List 20 · Describing things 1

Vocabulary and example	Write it

abnormal adj. /əb'nɔ:ml/

different from what is usual, in a worrying way

Family: abnormally (adv.)

The doctor found something abnormal in the X-ray.
X

absence n. /'æbsəns/

not being in a place

Family: absences · absent (adj.) Use it with: in the absence of

Your absence from class was noticed.

absurd adj. /əb'sɜ:d/

completely silly and unreasonable

Family: absurdly (adv.)

It's absurd to wear a coat in summer.

adequate adj. /'ædɪkwət/

enough; good enough

Family: adequately (adv.)

The food was adequate, but not great.

apparent adj. /ə'pærənt/

easy to see or understand; also, seeming

Family: apparently (adv.) Tip: Apparently means "I've heard that…".

It was apparent that he was tired.

aspect n. /'æspekt/

one part or side of something

Family: aspects

Money is one aspect of the problem.

exercises.lol exercises.com.cn

Vocabulary and example	Write it

beneath prep. /bɪ'ni:θ/

under; below

Tip: More formal than "under".

The cat slept beneath the table.

bizarre adj. /bɪ'zɑ:/

very strange

Family: bizarrely (adv.)

He has a bizarre habit of eating ice cream with chilli.

blurred adj. /blɜ:d/

not clear

Family: blur (v./n.) Use it with: blurred vision

The photo is blurred.

casual adj. /'kæʒu:əl/

relaxed; not formal

Family: casually (adv.) Use it with: casual clothes

You can wear casual clothes on Friday.

chaotic adj. /keɪ'ɒtɪk/

in a state of complete confusion

Family: chaos (n.)

The first day of school was chaotic.

compose v. /kəm'pəʊz/

to write music or a poem; also, to make up

Family: composes · composed · composer (n.) Use it with: be composed of Mozart composed his first music at five.

Vocabulary and example	Write it

contrary n./adj. /ˈkɒntrəri/

the opposite

Use it with: on the contrary · contrary to

On the contrary, I loved the film!

contrast n./v. /ˈkɒntræst/

a big difference between two things

Family: contrasts · contrasted Use it with: in contrast Tip: Stress: noun CON-trast; verb con-TRAST.

There's a big contrast between city and village life.

convert v. /kənˈvɜːt/

to change from one form to another

Family: converts · converted · conversion (n.) Use it with: convert into

Solar panels convert sunlight into electricity.

crucial adj. /ˈkruːʃl/

extremely important

Family: crucially (adv.)

Sleep is crucial before an exam.

decent adj. /ˈdiːsənt/

good enough; also, honest and kind

Family: decently (adv.) Use it with: a decent meal

He's a decent man.

defect n. /ˈdiːfekt/

a fault in something

Family: defects · defective (adj.)

The phone had a defect, so they changed it.

exercises.lol exercises.com.cn

Vocabulary and example	Write it

delicate adj. /ˈdelɪkət/

easily damaged; also, fine and beautiful

Family: delicately (adv.)

Be careful with that delicate glass.

differ v. /ˈdɪfə/

to be unlike each other; not to be the same

Family: differs · differed · difference (n.) Use it with: differ from

Our opinions differ.

distinct adj. /dɪˈstɪŋkt/

clearly different or easy to notice

Family: distinctly (adv.) · distinction (n.)

There's a distinct smell of smoke.

diverse adj. /daɪˈvɜːs/

including many different kinds

Family: diversity (n.)

Our city is very diverse.